OVATION FOR TAFT.

Yale Men Make Him Feel Young.

"I Come to Preserve that Part of the Nation Worth Preserving," He Says.

Ex-President Returns to His Alma Mater to Work in the Ranks.

Student Testimonial to His Wife Is a Huge Bunch of Violets.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) April 1.—Undergraduate Yale welcomed former President William Howard Taft back to his alma mater today. It is doubtful that Mr. Taft ever received a more cordial welcome. Practically the entire student body, 3000 strong, reinforced by a band, was at the station when Mr. Taft and his party arrived. Capt. Spalding of last year's football team presented Mrs. Taft with a great bouquet of violets.

A moment later Yale's famous "Bulldog" cheer with nine "Tafts" added roared from 3000 throats. Both Mr. and Mrs. Taft were deeply moved by the reception. As the demonstration grew, Mr. Taft smiled broadly and doffed his hat in acknowledgment.

Escorted by the "Y" men of the athletic teams and a bulldog straining at a leash, the procession went to the campus.

Mr. and Mrs. Taft, with a delegation of the faculty, followed in an automobile. All along the line the ex-President and Mrs. Taft were given a continuous ovation.

TAFT SPEAKS.

Mr. Taft was escorted to a balcony in Memorial Hall. Visibly affected, he said:

"Men of Yale: You will believe me when I tell you that I am greatly touched by this student reception.

"When it was suggested to me, I deprecated it and thought it might be better to defer it until I took my departure, but as I hope that may be indefinitely postponed and as I hope that Mrs. Taft and I are to become permanent residents of this city and members of the faculty of Yale, I thought it was best to take what was coming to me at first.

"You may have heard more or less discussion when the Presidents of the United States are retired—voluntarily or otherwise—as to what should be done with them. When I took inventory all I had was a somewhat tarnished reputation as a lawyer; a profession that I had abandoned thirty years ago, but at the suggestion of President Hadley it was decided that what little law I have left might be put into practice here, and I am here again to become an active Yale man.

"Men of Yale, as I hear your cheers and songs, I feel young again—as if I have shed some of my years. All this may seem egotistical to you, but I come here, wanting to help the JUDGE TO BUY HIS OWN FLAG.

[A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) April 1.—The county commissioners will not be sent to jail tomorrow for their refusal to buy a large American flag for the courtroom of Superior Judge John E. Humphries. This was decided tonight when Justice George E. Morris of the State Supreme Court issued an alternative writ of prohibition preventing Judge Humphries from enforcing his order committing the three commissioners to jail if they did not produce the flag tomorrow morning. The writ of prohibition was made returnable April 11, when arguments will be heard on a motion to make it permanent.

SUCCESSOR TO MORGAN

Right Hand Man of the Late Financier Is Acclaimed King by Wall Street.

Cable Reports Intimate that the Great Captain of Industry Died of Cancer.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—[Special Dispatch.] Even the passing of so great a figure as that of J. P. Morgan stops Wall street but a short time. There were two subjects occupying the minds of the men of the street today beyond all others. What was the extent of Morgan's fortune and who will succeed to his place of power in the world of American finance?

On the first question there is a wide variance of opinion. Morgan was an enormous money-maker. Millions were his counters in the great game, but how many of these millions remained with him no one knows; at least no one who might know will hazard an opinion. So, until the State appraisers wind up his estate one man's guess at the Morgan fortune is as good as another's.

The answer to the second question is more easy. George F. Baker, according to common consent, succeeds to the crown of the kingdom of money. Baker was Morgan's right-hand man in practically all the great coups which established his fame and his title. He is enormously rich, second only to Morgan in his grasp of the fundamentals of finance, a silent, forceful man who does things. He is an old man and may refuse to take up the burden imposed by assuming the mantle of Morgan for more than time enough to tide over affairs and give some younger man the opportunity to demonstrate his capacity for leadership. But that Baker is now dictator no one in Wall street will question.

J. P. Morgan, Jr., today received from his brother-in-law, Herbert L. Satterlee, in Rome, a lengthy cablegram sent in code and giving at length the details of his father's illness and death. Its translation was immediately begun.

A conference at which members of the Morgan family were present was held this afternoon to make funeral arrangements. Funeral services will probably be held at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine and interment will be at Cedar Hill Cemetery, Hartford, where the family plot is located. Bishop Greer will officiate.

MORGAN'S DEATH DUE TO CANCER.

(By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.)

ROME, April 1.—[Special Dispatch.] Doctors have made a post-mortem examination of J. Pierpont Morgan's body, but the result has not been made public. The correspondent of The Times is informed by one of the attendants of the Italian embalmer, Joseph Funari, that the medical men found that the financier was afflicted with cancer of the stomach. This had not been suspected by the physicians who diagnosed the trouble as exhaustion of the brain, while as a matter of fact the extreme weakness and other symptoms of the illness resulted from the cancer.

MORGAN'S FUNERAL TODAY.

Relatives, Friends and Ambassador O'Brien Will Attend Simple Ceremony in Rome Hotel.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, April 1.—A simple funeral service will be held over the body of J. P. Morgan tomorrow. The service will take place in the room at the hotel where the body now rests surrounded by great masses of flowers.

Only relatives, intimate friends of the family and the American Ambassador, Thomas J. O'Brien, and Mrs. O'Brien, will attend the service, which will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Nelson of the American church.

The death of Mr. Morgan has caused an impression which has become profound as time passes. Everywhere flags are flying at half-mast. This is particularly noticeable over the art institutions in which Mr. Morgan had taken so deep an interest.

TO ANNOUNCE PLANS LATER.

J. P. MORGAN IS RETICENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 1.—Members of the late J. P. Morgan's household were not ready tonight to make any announcement of plans for his funeral. J. P. Morgan did not go to his offices today. He said tonight that not even the tentative plans for the obsequies had been made and that it might be some time before the funeral arrangements were completed.

HUERTA AND DIAZ AT PEACE.

Mexican Consul at New Orleans Denies There Is Friction Between Them.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—Official denial of the existence of any political difficulties between President Huerta and Gen. Felix Diaz was received today by Dr. Ornelas, Consul-General of Mexico at New Orleans. The two leaders are in complete harmony, the dispatch adds, and assertions of estrangement should be treated as "inventions directed to prejudice public opinion."

SULZER GRILLED.

Motion Offered to Investigate Him.

Legislature Hears He Made a Lot of Ante-election Promises to Laborites.

Is Alleged to Have Pledged Signature of Fullerew Bill Far in Advance.

New York Senator Accused by the Governor Refuses to Resign Office.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) April 1.—Gov. Sulzer's alleged pre-election promises may be investigated by the Legislature. Republican Leader Brown introduced today in the Senate a resolution requesting the Senate Judiciary Committee to "determine what, if any, action should be taken" in relation to a published letter in which the Governor was quoted as having promised that, if elected, he would "sign the full crew" bill, and "aid in securing its passage." The resolution was offered to the Judiciary Committee.

Earlier in the day Gov. Sulzer had denied having made such a promise.

SULZER'S ALLEGED PROMISE.

The letter which was responsible for the resolution is credited to John Fitzgibbons, a legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. In the communication, dated November 3, 1912, and directed to "the officers and members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen of New York State," Mr. Fitzgibbons is credited with having written that in addition to promising to sign the full crew bill and aid in its passage, the Governor had said:

"I would come out openly for the bill, but if I did, the railroads would contribute a barrel of money to defeat it."

SUBJECT FOR INQUIRY.

"The fact that the Governor signed on Saturday the bill which will take about $2,000,000 annually out of the treasuries of the railroads and put it in the pockets of a certain class of workers," said Brown, introducing the resolution, "and the fact that the Governor is alleged to have promised to sign the bill if elected strike me as proper subjects for inquiry by the Senate Judiciary Committee."

REFUSES TO RESIGN AND DEFIES SULZER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) April 1.—Accused of attempted extortion by George H. Kendall, president of the New York Bank Note Company, Senator Stephen J. Stilwell of New York refused today to resign at the suggestion of Gov. Sulzer. He demanded a thorough investigation of the charges. The Senate ordered an inquiry.

Senator Stilwell, who is chairman of the Codes Committee, introduced, among other stock exchange reform measures, a bill designed to relieve the New York Bank Note Company from alleged discrimination on the part of the New York Stock Exchange, which, it is claimed, has refused to list securities engraved and printed by the New York Bank Note Company.

In a telegram to Gov. Sulzer Kendall alleged that Senator Stilwell charged him $250 for drafting the bill; that the Senator demanded $500 each for four members of the Senate Codes Committee to report the bill out of committee, and that a further demand of $1500 was made to influence the Assembly Codes Committee to report the measure.

KENDALL MAKES THREAT.

Kendall said he declined to comply and notified the Senator that unless the bill was reported, he would telegraph the situation to the Governor and every member of the Legislature.

The Senate bill was reported March 27, and the Assembly bill was reported about the same time, and now is on the order of final passage in the House.

Gov. Sulzer received the telegram from Mr. Kendall last night. The Governor conferred with the president of the bank note company today and later called Senator Stilwell to the executive chamber and suggested that he resign. Stilwell refused. The Governor then took up the matter with Atty.-Gen. Carmody, to whom he gave alleged documentary evidence in the case.

THE TELEGRAM.

Gov. Sulzer made public today the following telegram from Mr. Kendall:

"I offer you evidence that Stilwell, the man you sent to draw my stock exchange bill, charged me $250 for drawing it. He introduced me to Senate Revision Clerk Lewis and asked me to send a check for that amount to him, and they divided the proceeds of the check. I offer you evidence that Stilwell wrote me March 21 to come to his office next day, and demanded $500 each for four Senate committeemen to report the bill out of committee.

"I said that would do no good unless the Assembly Committee reported it, and he said he would canvass them next day and send me a wire so that I would understand how much it would cost. I offer you evi-

CALIFORNIA PRODUCTS HIT HARD BY DEMOCRATS.

Tariff Bill Submitted to Wilson for Final Revision, Places Sugar on Free List, Lops Off Two Thirds of Duty on Lemons, Cuts It in Half on Olives and Reduces Protection on Cotton.

BY GEORGE G. HILD.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—[Special Dispatch.] The essentials of the Democratic tariff bill are described as radical in some features, but conservative and even protectionist in others. The bill is a middle-of-the-road measure, levying high rates upon luxuries and a few good revenue producers and low rates on the so-called necessities.

The bill, except as it relates to raw wool, has been put aside as finished by the Ways and Means Committee. Its rates are now "up to" President Wilson and any eleventh hour changes will be in consideration of the wishes of the executive. It is still doubted that the tariff bill can be made a pure administration measure, for many of the rates carried in the Underwood bill must inevitably precipitate factional fights.

INTERNECINE ROWS.

As the principal details of the bill are gathered today from authoritative sources, internecine rows among Democrats are developing. Mr. Wilson may yet have to step into the breach to pacify Democrats who object to the slashing of the rates on farm products, on lumber, sugar, steel, wool and other items in the big industrial schedules.

FORMIDABLE FREE LIST.

The free list is a formidable one, with chances that raw wool will yet be added. One of the last acts of the Ways and Means Committee was to put steel rails, railway bars and punched iron on the free list. In the Underwood bill which failed last session, rails carried a duty of 10 per cent. ad valorem.

FIGHT OVER WOOL DUTIES.

The caucus will fight out the issue of free raw wool, unless the President objects to that course. When this item was first voted on in the Ways and Means Committee, the radical revisionists, despite reports to the contrary, won out and put raw wool

Convention of Pacific Coast Association in San Francisco Plans to Cultivate Better Relations With Public by Educating Them on the Public Utilities Question.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—Twenty-five electric roads operating in California, Oregon and Washington were represented at organization meeting here today of the Pacific Coast Electric Railway Association, a section of the American Electric Railway Association, the national body.

Officers elected for the Pacific Coast organization are: President, F. W. Hild, Portland, Or.; first vice-president, T. T. C. Gregory, San Francisco; second vice-president, A. W. Leonard, Seattle; treasurer, Norman Logan, San Francisco; Executive Committee, T. T. C. Gregory, W. E. Dunn, Los Angeles; Paul, Shoup, Los Angeles; Charles N. Black, San Francisco; D. L. Huntington, Spokane; Guy Talbot, Astoria, Or., and W. R. Alberter, San Francisco.

Charles N. Black of the Executive Committee is first vice-president of the national body.

One announced object of the association is "to cultivate better relations with the public by telling the public of the difficulties and problems connected with electric railroading," said James H. McGraw of New York, who attended the meeting as vice-president of the national body.

"Electric railways," he said, "are in many cases selling their goods below cost, and we believe that where this is made plain to the people they will approve of increases, in order that the companies may avert losses. There is going to be woe in certain quarters unless the people are made to understand the public utilities question more fully."

Harry C. Donnecker, E. H. Baker and H. C. McConnaughty, all of New York, are here with McGraw arranging the convention of the national body to be held here exposition year, 1915.

CHICAGO PROGRESSIVES BEATEN TO A FRAZZLE.

Democrats Sweep Windy City and Republicans Outvote Bull Moose Party Three to One—"Hinky Dink" Re-elected Alderman With Impressive Majority Over Socialists and Roosevelt Followers Combined.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 1.—Democrats swept the city in today's municipal election, returning twenty-two Aldermen and the Superior Court judge, City Clerk and City Treasurer. The proposed bond issue of $2,880,000 urged by the dominant faction of the Democratic party here carried by a small margin.

Republicans elected eleven Aldermen, Progressives three and independents one. The Progressives had candidates in every ward, but failed to show strength, being outvoted by the Republicans by nearly three to one throughout the city.

Alderman Michael Kenna, known as "Hinky Dink," the fellow Councilman of "Bath-house" John Coughlin for the First Ward, was returned as usual by an impressive total, getting 4528 votes to the Progressive 711 and the Socialist 201. He had no Republican opposition.

The single independent candidate to be elected is Alderman Charles F. Merriam, a professor at the University of Chicago, and until recently a Progressive leader.

TURBULENCE AT THE POLLS.

FRAUDULENT VOTING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With partisan feeling at white heat, Chicago passed through one of the most turbulent municipal elections in its history. In several wards factionists engaged in physical encounters. Fraudulent voting is recorded from at least three wards, the Eighteenth, Twentieth and Thirty-fourth Wards.

Most of the trouble occurred in the Twentieth Ward, where "Manny" Abrahams, Democrat, won over Samuel Heller, Progressive.

Two hundred investigators and policemen patrolled the wards, but despite their efforts frequent fights occurred.

In the Second Precinct election commissioners are said to have found Meyer Verier, an election judge, intoxicated and insulting voters.

TIDE OF IMMIGRATION REACHES FLOOD MARK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 1.—The annual tide of immigration at this port is again approaching the flood mark reached in years preceding the financial panic of 1907, according to figures contained in a quarterly report issued toay by Health Officer Joseph J. O'Connell. There were 342,743 persons of all classes inspected at Ellis Island in the first three months of this year. This is an increase of nearly 52,000 over the corresponding period of 1912. The number of third-class passengers was nearly 160,000, an increase of about 41,500.

Men Janitors and Pilots in Sixteen Story Building Replaced With an Entire Skirted Crew Under Charge of a Matron Who Takes Place of Housekeeper.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the discharge of all the men elevator operators and janitors and the employment of girls and women for this work, the National Realty building today inaugurated a new system and opened another vocation to the women which heretofore has been held to be exclusively male.

Four women, all married, operated the elevators today. All the men janitors were missing and in their stead women and girls were to be found working around the corridors of the sixteen-story building.

The women are under the personal supervision of Mrs. Ada Sykes, who holds the title of matron, and who takes the place of a "housekeeper" in any other kind of an establishment.

ASHES AND MUD ARE SWEPT AWAY

Dayton Citizens Forget Woes and Rebuild City.

Clink of Pick and Shovel Revives Energies.

BY BEN HECHT.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

DAYTON (O.) April 1.—[Special Dispatch.] The city of ashes and mud is rising again. There is hurry and bustle today and the tears that fell for the dead and fortunes swept away have dried with the waters that brought them. Squads of men are at work with shovels clearing the streets inch by inch. The mud is waist deep in places. Busy people throng the ruined districts. These include the business center.

The pretty buildings, the new department stores that were the "sights" of Dayton, are blasted and wrecked.

Main street is a ruin from end to end. It took years and years to build it. In twenty minutes on March 25 Main street vanished. The spirit that built the thoroughfare has remained in the face of dis heartening disaster.

WIELD PICK AND SHOVEL.

Every man in Dayton today, wielding a pick and shovel, is fighting again the old struggle that carried his fathers into the West. The ruins of the First National Bank, the Algonquin Hotel, the Phillips House, the Rike-Kumler building, the Atlas Hotel, the Y.M.C.A. building, the Beckel House, the Callahan building, the blocks of jewelry shops, department stores and thousands of homes, wiped out by the flood and fire, are only the warped monuments of the past.

A young man entered the Longfellow school Sunday night. He was covered with mud and he could hardly stand on his feet. His name is John Bartell. He lives in Springfield. He was engaged to Martha Davidson. The girl was among the missing when the waters retreated. John sneaked through the lines. He was shot at. He reached Martha's home in a boat. In the attic he found his girl. She was dead and she lay facing the wall. John fell by her side and the militiamen caught him. He laughed and they took him to the Longfellow schoolhouse, covered with mud and unable to stand.

DIES ON WEDDING EVE.

Hazel Solomon was married to Henry Klutinsky Sunday evening in the hospital ward of a church. She died after the ceremony and her husband left her bedside crying, "We figured to be married today," he said, "and we were."

William Heffner found his mother in the Van Cleaveland school.

"Where's pa?" he asked.

Both went away. The father is in the morgue at the National Cash Register Company.

John Schaffer staggered into a house on Fairview avenue. There were several refugees sitting by the window. "Is my wife here?" he asked. "Her name is Mrs. Elsie Schaffer."

John found his wife. She was in bed sleeping and a baby lay by her side. "What'll we call her?" the wife whispered.

"We'll call her—we'll call her Elsie, like you," her husband said. The baby had been born on the boat that rescued the mother from her home.

FATHER AT THE MORGUE.

Harry Baldwin walked and waded through the city for three days looking for his old father. He didn't find him. He went everywhere except the morgue. "Old man" Baldwin is there, but no one told his son.

One of the militiamen heard someone playing a piano in the street. A little girl picked out the tune of "Home, Sweet Home." The little girl was "arrested" for being at large without a military pass. She was taken to the Presbyterian Church and put to sleep. When she awoke she asked, "Where's Mamma?"

"Do you want a mamma," asked a woman near her. "I was a mamma but I lost my baby." The two left the church together, mother and child.

On Pearl street, in the segregated district of Dayton, there are three houses with red signs protruding from the walls, and lace curtains hanging in the windows. Women with paint on their faces are inside. They have become nurses. The beds in the house are occupied by sick people. One of the "nurses," whose various names are well known to the police, pinned a red cross on her sleeve. A "relief car" entered the district last night and she was carried away unconscious to the Van Cleaveland school. She had been working for four days. A policeman there recognized her and tried to take it from her arm. She swore back at him and called for help. "It's my badge," she said. "A little girl pinned it there—a little girl pinned it there."

TAKES HER BADGE AWAY.

But the policeman took the badge away and she was sent back to Pearl street.

Dayton is rising again. Smoke is pouring from the chimneys downtown. Wagons are clearing the junk heaps away. The flood already has become history. The Mad and Miami rivers are normal; automobiles cross the bridges. There are 50,000 people who have no homes and who have lost friends and relatives. But their courage is greater than their grief. They will find new homes where the old ones were and start again.

MIAMISBURG IN DISTRESS.

Ohio Town With Five Thousand Population Has Lost Million in Flood.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLUMBUS (O.) March 31.—The following message was received tonight by the Associated Press from T. V. Lyons, Mayor of Miamisburg, O.

"The Associated Press:

"We are in great distress and homeless. Our merchants are ruined. With a population of 5000 our loss has been $1,000,000. Please appeal to all papers and all Governors asking them to appeal to their people and forward contributions to T. V. Lyons, Miamisburg, O."

tentatively on the free list. Then there was a reconsideration and a duty of 15 per cent. ad valorem was assessed.

Again the item was taken up and the free raw wool men gained temporary ascendancy. To end friction in the committee it was finally determined to put the two rates up to the caucus, the committee agreeing to recommend tentatively a 15 per cent. rate, while Representative Harrison and other free traders will offer a free wool amendment.

A 30 per cent. ad valorem has been put on yarns made wholly or in part of wool. The average duty on knit fabrics is 48 per cent. ad valorem.

On the principal manufactures of wool, including dress goods made wholly or in part of wools, hats, knitted articles, ready-made clothing and the higher grades of flannels, the bill proposes a duty of 40 to 45 per cent. ad valorem. Blankets will bear a 30 per cent. duty. Taking schedule K as a whole, there is to be a reduction of slightly more than 40 per cent. in the rates of the Payne law, which were the same as the Dingley law.

Passing to the agricultural schedule, a more radical revision is apparent all along the line, with the exception of the items covering cattle. Dressed meats are put on the free list, but the near-protectionist members of the Ways and Means Committee have succeeded in retaining a duty on cattle, swine and sheep. The committee reduction means an average duty of $1.50 per head on cattle, 50 cents per head on hogs and a cut of 40 per cent. in the rates on horses, mules and sheep.

Corn meal, buckwheat flour, seminola and wheat and rye flour are to be free.

FREE MARKET BASKET.

After a fight in committee, aided on the outside by members of the agricultural States, a small duty will be retained on some farm products, principally for revenue purposes. Butter, eggs, cheese, salt, lard and lard substitutes and tallow, all of which go into the "market basket," have been made free.

Onions will bear a duty of 20 cents per bushel, despite efforts made by the radical revisionists to put them on the non-dutiable list.

CITRUS FRUIT HARD HIT.

A reduction of 50 per cent. in the rates on olives and macaroni is provided. Citrus fruits have been hard hit, and lemons narrowly escaped the free list, owing to the fight made by Representative Harrison, who has long demanded that all duties should be removed from lemons. The committee lopped off two-thirds of the duty on lemons and 50 per cent. of the duty on other citrus fruits, but the Senate is expected to restore a rate of at least three-quarters of a cent a pound on lemons, in lieu of the 1½ cents per pound rate now prevailing.

FREE SUGAR.

In addition to the articles before named the Ways and Means Committee purposes to take off all duty on the following items of major importance; Sugar, boots and shoes, timber, lumber, shingles, laths, cements, wire fencing and staples, iron ore, hoop and band iron and steel, cotton bagging and ties, harness, saddles and saddlery, leather belting, plows, harrows, farm wagons, threshing machines, cotton gins, planters, mowers and similar farm implements and parts thereof, sewing machines and parts thereof, bailing wire, machine tools, cut nails, tungsten-bearing ores, cash registers, linotypes and other type-setting machines, printing presses, typewriters and road-improvement machinery.

FREE PRINT PAPER.

Along with free printing presses there will be free print paper, with reductions ranging from 25 to 50 per cent. on other grades of paper.

CHEMICAL SCHEDULES.

The chemical schedule provides a free list on borax, chalk, charcoal, copperas, cottonseed and whale oils, potash, Paris green, sulphate of soda, talcum, anti-toxins, vaccine virus, prussic, nitric, sulphuric and other acids in more common use, pantoin and its salts and a number of natural and compounded drugs, such as barks, berries, buds and beans in everyday use.

PROTECTION FOR LUXURIES.

In contrast to the free list attached to the several schedules are the duties proposed on so-called luxuries, including tobaccos, wines, liquors, silks, perfumery and sleep-producing drugs. The Democratic revisionists proceeded on the theory that the rates on luxuries should offset the radical reductions on the necessities and those who urged a cut on such excellent revenue-producers as wines, tobaccos and silks have made their pleas to deaf ears.

EARTHENWARE SCHEDULE.

The bill provides for a reclassification in the earthenware schedule and there is a general reduction of from 20 to 50 per cent. on the plainer grades of pottery and earthenware. Chinaware, porcelain and the finer grades of pottery and stoneware suffer little change in the reclassification and readjustments of rates, the committee holding the better grades are to be classed as luxuries.

TARIFF ON RICE.

Although Louisiana members lost their fight against free sugar, the committee did not strike a second blow by putting rice on the free list. The duty on rice has been reduced approximately 50 per cent., which is expected to afford some consolation to the Democrats from Louisiana and South Carolina.

"PAT" ON PERFUMERY.

The rates on perfumery, classed as a luxury, are the same as those carried in the vetoed chemical bill of the tariff session of last summer. The Democrats have "stood pat" in the main, on their old chemical bill despite the inconsistencies pointed out by President Taft.

STEEL RAILS FREE.

The steel schedule voted by the Ways and Means Committee is likewise almost identical with the Underwood bill of last summer, except that steel rails are to be without duty in accordance with Democratic platform promises that "trust-controlled" products shall be free.

COTTON IS CUT.

COMPROMISE ON SUGAR.

Although the committee has held to its free sugar bill, it is privately admitted by House Democrats that a compromise sugar bill will result when the Underwood measure reaches the Senate, if it is not ordered before then by the President. The probable basis of compromise will be a $1 rate.

RELY ON INCOME TAX.

The income tax, which will be the chief revenue producer under the Democratic scheme of tariff revision, has been completed and now needs only the approval of the President before its submission to the Democratic caucus.

Members of the committee who advocated a graduated tax, led by Representative Garner of Texas, won out on the final showdown and the tax as agreed upon imposes a tax on all incomes above $4000. The rate begins at 1 per cent., with a sliding-upward scale until incomes of more than $410,000 per annum are subject to a tax of 4 per cent.

It is estimated that the tax will produce from $125,000,000 to $150,000,000 revenue, which will offset the loss resulting from the radical cuts in some of the tariff schedules.

The tariff bill, as drafted by the Ways and Means Committee and revised by the President's Cabinet, will be taken up for consideration by the majority members of the Senate Finance Committee on Friday, according to the plan to shape a measure that can be generally agreed upon before bringing it to the attention of Congress.

The President has been going over the bill drawn by Representative Underwood and his colleagues for several days. He probably will indicate what changes he desires to have made to Senators Simmons, Stone and Hoke Smith, who will confer with him at the White House within the next day or two, in advance of the meeting of the majority members of the Finance Committee.

WANTS CHANGES.

At the conference tonight the President made known to Mr. Underwood the changes which he and his Cabinet regard as important, and Mr. Underwood has called a meeting of the Ways and Means Committee for 10 o'clock tomorrow.

TURKEY EAGERLY GRASPS MEDIATION BY POWERS

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 1.—The Turkish government declared that it unreservedly accepted the terms of peace proposed by the European powers.

TERMS OF MEDIATION.

The terms of mediation offered by the European powers to Turkey and the Balkan allies were:

"(1.) The frontier of the Ottoman empire in Europe shall start at Enos and, following the course of the Maritza River and then that of the Ergene, shall end at Midia. All territories situated west of this line shall be ceded by Turkey to the allied states with the exception of Albania, the delimitation of which shall be fixed by the powers.

"(2.) The question of the Aegean Islands shall be settled by the powers.

"(3.) Turkey shall abandon all claim to Crete.

"(4.) The powers cannot favorably entertain the demand for indemnity, but will admit the allies to participate in the discussions of the International Commission in Paris for an equitable settlement of their participation in the Ottoman debt and in the financial charges of the districts to be handed over to them. Turkey is to be asked to take part in the labors of this commission."

MUST STOP HOSTILITIES.

The great powers declare at the same time that as soon as the bases are accepted, hostilities shall cease.

On March 28 Bulgaria gave notice of acceptance of the offer of mediation, but persisted in her demand for a war indemnity and proposed to substitute a frontier line from Midia on the Black Sea to the Gulf of Saros at the top of the Peninsula of Gallipoli.

The European Ambassadors in London have been considering the situation since that time, but have not reached any definite conclusions. The fall of the fortress of Adrianople is considered likely to have some influence on future negotiations.

MONTENEGRO STANDS FIRM.

Declares It Is Unable to Defer to Wishes of Powers in Stopping the Fight at Scutari.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

CETTINJE, April 1.—Montenegro has answered the latest demand of the powers regarding the withdrawal of civilians from Scutari by stating that army headquarters have refused for military reasons to permit the transmission to the commandant of the beleaguered town of a cipher dispatch from his government. The Montenegrin government, however, has offered to submit to headquarters a request for the transmission of a message in plain language.

In reply to the powers' previous note, Montenegro expresses regret that it is unable to defer to their wishes to cease hostilities at Scutari and in the territories allotted by the powers to Albania.

UNIONITES POLL STATE SENATE.

Real Estate Men's License Reported Favorably.

BY LOU GUERNSEY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Caminetti's drastic anti-injunction bill will be the piece de resistance at tomorrow's session of the Senate. It is one of the biggest of the union-labor measures and offers the first chance to the unionite forces at this session to get an accurate measure of their strength on the Senate floor. The bill bids fair to develop the biggest fight of this session.

Anticipating strong opposition to the measure, which aims to regulate the issuance of restraining orders and court injunctions in labor disputes, and to limit the meaning of "conspiracy" in certain cases, Senator Caminetti today requested the privilege to print in the Senate journal the argument which Andrew Furuseth, union labor agitator, made in Congress when urging the passage of the law. His request was granted.

The vote will probably be one of the closest of the session. In the Judiciary Committee the bill was sent out with the recommendation that it be not passed. It is the most binding anti-injunction measure ever offered in the Senate.

Union labor agents today said they had polled the Senate and have enough votes to win. Senators Gates, Hewitt and Wright, who are leading the fight against the bill, are confident it will be defeated by a narrow margin.

BAITING THE PROGRESSIVES.

It took Progressive leaders in the Senate half an hour today to smother a resolution introduced by Senator Buford of Ukiah, Democrat, calling for an investigation of the charges made by E. T. Earl against Lissner, Simson and Avery, as a result of their banking with the Earl machine.

The resolution ironically recited the growth of the Progressive party, declared that "it is vital to the perpetuity of the nation that this new party should present a harmonious, compact and united organization," and declared that public welfare demands an immediate investigation of the charges made by Earl.

Following Sanford's motion to make the resolution a special order for tomorrow morning, Senator Thompson of Alhambra presented a substitute motion that the author of the resolution be given the privilege of withdrawing it, which was seconded by Senator Boynton, president pro tem. Senators Juilliard and Curtin made the point that Senator Sanford already enjoyed that privilege under the rules. The chair decided the Thompson motion in order, and on a viva-voce vote declared it carried.

Sanford renewed his motion to make the matter a special order for tomorrow, whereupon Boynton gained the floor to declare the Sanford resolution "tommy rot," over which too much time has already been wasted. "It is all nonsense to bring before this body the politics of Los Angeles at this time," said Boynton. A motion by Thompson to postpone action indefinitely on the Sanford resolution prevailed. Sanford declared tonight that he will bring the matter up tomorrow morning.

FIGHTING FOR THEIR LIFE.

There are more lobbyists in Sacramento this session than ever before in the history of the Legislature, according to Senator Curtin, one of the veteran members. They are here to fight for the life of the particular business they represent. If the legislation affecting business offered at this session were passed, business and industrial life in California would be exterminated.

REPENT OF HASTY VOTING.

Both houses are passing almost every measure reported out of committee. But two bills out of 154 up for final consideration have been defeated. Several others, however, are on the special file for reconsideration, some members having repented of their hasty voting. Among this class of legislation is Guill's bill to make playing cards for a prize in a private home a crime. This measure was passed last week. Later the Assembly voted to reconsider it.

FUN FOR THE DEMOCRATS.

Democrats are making the most of the situation which the Progressive majority is encountering. The Democratic leaders are sitting on the side lines watching the administration forces hang themselves by the passage of myriads of freakish measures. Any measure that creates new commissions, departments, bureaus or individual jobs for administration followers will be opposed by the Democrats. All bills carrying out the Democratic platform pledges will be backed by united Democratic strength.

REALTY DEALERS PROTEST.

The administration "blue sky" bill drafted by a subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee of the Assembly will be given a hearing tomorrow night before the committee. Several leading realty dealers of Los Angeles are scheduled to arrive tomorrow to protest against the passage of the bill, which they say would cripple legitimate business enterprises and retard the development of California along progressive lines.

Following are a few important excerpts from the bill just printed: It shall be the duty of the corporation commissioner to examine the same and other information so filed, and he may, if he deems it advisable, make, or have made, at applicants' cost as hereinafter in this act provided, a detailed examination, audit and investigation of the investment company's affairs, providing that the investment company may at its option, in writing, refuse to have such examination, audit or investigation made, whereupon the corporation commissioner must reject the application.

If he finds that the proposed plan of business of the investment company is fair, just and equitable, the corporation commissioner shall issue to the investment company a certificate authorizing it to sell securities in the state specified within this State, provided that the company has complied with the provisions of this act, that detailed information concerning the investment company and its securities is on file in the office of the corporation commissioner and that the investment company is authorized to sell said securities within this State on such conditions, if any, as the corporation commissioner may in said certificate prescribe. Said certificate shall recite in bold type that the corporation commissioner in no wise indorses or recommends said securities. The corporation commissioner may impose such conditions as he may deem necessary to the issue of said securities, and may, from time to time, for good cause, rescind, alter or amend the certificate. If the corporation commissioner finds that the proposed plan of business of the investment company is not fair, just and equitable as to any class of persons affected or that it does not intend to do a fair and honest business, he shall refuse to issue the certificate and shall notify the investment company in writing of his decision. It shall be unlawful to issue any security to which this act is applicable unless a certificate authorizing the issue thereof shall first have been secured from the corporation commissioner as provided in this act. A corporation may without applying for a certificate under the provisions of this act issue to each of its directors one share of stock for the purpose of qualifying as directors.

The corporation commissioner shall have general supervision and control, as provided in this act, over any and all investment companies and investment brokers, and all such investment companies and investment brokers shall be subject to examination by the corporation commissioner or a duly authorized deputy at any time the corporation commissioner may deem it advisable to have such examination made to carry out any provision of this act, and in the same manner and with the same powers as is now, or may hereafter be provided for the examination of State banks. Such investment company or investment broker shall pay a fee for each examination, of $10 for each day or fraction thereof that he shall be absent from his office for the purpose of making such examination, and the failure or refusal of any investment company or investment broker to pay such fee upon the demand of the corporation commissioner shall work a forfeiture of its rights to do business in this State.

It shall be unlawful for any investment company, investment broker or agent to issue, circulate or deliver any advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, circular or statement or other document in regard to securities which it desires to sell in this State until after such investment company, investment broker or agent shall have been licensed to sell such securities as provided in this act. It shall be unlawful for any such licensed investment company, investment broker or agent to issue, circulate or deliver any such advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, circular, statement or other document, unless the same shall be signed and bear a serial number and a copy thereof shall first have been filed with the corporation commissioner. The corporation commissioner may for good cause object to any such advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, circular, statement or other document, whereupon it shall be unlawful for such investment company, investment broker or agent to further issue, circulate or deliver such advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, circular, statement or other document.

Every investment company, until it shall have sold all the securities authorized by the corporation commissioner and disposed of the proceeds thereof, shall file, at the close of business on December 31, and June 30 of each year, and at such other times as may be required by the corporation commissioner, a report setting forth in such form as the corporation commissioner may prescribe, the securities authorized by him and sold under the provisions of this act, the proceeds derived therefrom, the disposition of such proceeds and such other information concerning its affairs relating to the subject matter of this act as the corporation commissioner may require.

Every investment broker shall, when called upon by the corporation commissioner, file in his office a report giving such information as he may call for, relating to the subject matter of this act.

BROKERS' LICENSE.

The most important measure reported out in the Senate today was the amended Breed bill, providing for licensing real estate dealers and brokers, which received the approval of the Judiciary Committee in the afternoon.

This bill proposes to protect the public from irresponsible real estate operators by requiring all dealers to procure licenses from the State at a cost of $10 for the first year, and $5 for annual renewals. As originally drawn, the bill made no exceptions, and attorneys who appeared before the committee declared that it prohibited a private individual from disposing of his own property. In the amended bill there are numerous specific exemptions.

STATE ADVERTISING BOARD.

It is proposed to use the money paid for licenses in advertising the State and the bill creates a State advertising board of five members, to be appointed by the Governor. It is estimated that the annual income will be $60,000 the first year, after which it will be $100,000. Ninety per cent. will be at the disposal of the advertising board.

WAR ON "BLIND PIGS."

A joint resolution was sent to the House today by Assemblyman Richardson asking the Federal government to assist in putting down the "blind pigs" which operate safely under Federal liquor licenses, without securing county or city licenses.

In the resolution Richardson asks the Federal authorities to fix as one of the requirements for a Federal liquor license the securing of a local license, and that such local license shall be exhibited to the Federal authorities before the other is awarded.

CERTIFICATES FOR DAIRIES.

An assault by questions on the pure milk bill, introduced by Assemblyman Guiberson, today resulted in allowing the measure to go over until tomorrow. From all over the house questions were showered on Guiberson to determine what effect the bill, if enacted, would have on the small dairyman.

The bill gives counties the right to place in the boards of health power to enforce the regulations for certified milk, cream, ice cream, cheese and butter. The measure defines what certified milk shall be, and the tests it shall go through.

To Relieve Tehachepi Pass of Heavy Traffic.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the return today from New York of Vice-President E. E. Calvin of the Southern Pacific Company, it became known that in the renewal of negotiations between the railroad and the General Petroleum Company, by which the latter expects to get a contract to haul the Southern Pacific's oil through a pipe line from Bakersfield to Mojave, thus relieving the railroad of the expensive Tehachepi Mountain haul, the Standard Oil will play a prominent part.

The Southern Pacific now has a contract involving hundreds of thousands of dollars annually with the Standard Oil. Under its terms, the Standard takes all the high gravity, or light oil, suitable for refining, from the Southern Pacific. It gives it in return a similar quantity of heavy oil, which the railroad considers better for fuel purposes, and gives in addition a certain percentage of the profits made by the refining process. This contract expires on January 1, 1914.

SEEKS RAILROAD OIL.

The General Petroleum, through Capt. John Barneson and Eugene de Sabla, is now seeking the railroad's oil suitable for refining. It proposes to carry the light oil through its pipe line to its refineries free of charge, and give the railroad a certain percentage of the profit of the refined product. It also proposes to charge the railroad a certain price—somewhere between 5 and 7 cents per barrel—for the heavy oil carried through its pipe line. But thus far, it is said by men in a position to know, the General Petroleum has not reached the percentage of profit on the refined product given by the Standard Oil, under the terms of the latter's contract with the Southern Pacific.

The railroad, according to various officials, faces an unusual situation by reason of the negotiations. They point out that the General Petroleum has already closed with the Santa Fe and will relieve the Tehachepi line of the Santa Fe's oil traffic. The Tehachepi line is owned by the Southern Pacific, and for the joint use of the tracks the Santa Fe is paying, in addition to an annual rental of $87,500, 50 per cent. of the maintenance cost, the latter based on its traffic.

WILL DIMINISH TRAFFIC.

Railroad men point out that with the Santa Fe relieved of its oil hauls, the traffic over the mountain will be diminshed by 50 per cent. Thus, they declare, the Southern Pacific will be forced to pay 75 per cent. of the maintenance cost and the Santa Fe only 25 per cent., if the Southern Pacific continues to haul its oil by rail.

It is also pointed out that the Southern Pacific is in doubt whether it can secure the same favorable terms from the Standard Oil in a new contract.

Whether the savings effected by piping its oil over the mountain will make up for the difference between the General Petroleum's offer of a share in profit on the refined oil and that given now by the Standard Oil is a question executives of the Southern Pacific are pondering over.

General Manager Scott and Vice-President D'Heur of the Kern Trading and Oil Company, which is owned by the Southern Pacific, are understood to have reported against the General Petroleum's proposition. They decline to discuss the subject, however, until something definite is decided upon.

Player Pianos

There are many player pianos offered the public today. There are a few that have merit. But for the person who wishes to feel sure that he is right; for the person who wishes to save possible future regrets; for the person who wishes to save the necessity at some later day of exchanging the player he may buy for the best—the Pianola—we urge that person to decide first and last to have a Steinway, Weber, Wheelock, Stuyvesant or Stroud Pianola Player Piano. Then you will know that you are right.

We have the Steinway, Weber and Steck Pianola Player Pianos in upright and grand form; the Stuyvesant and Stroud in upright form only. If you select from any of these five Pianola Player Pianos you will know that you have purchased right, that your money has bought more than it possibly could if you had chosen any other make. The one you decide to purchase, the one you say, "Send it out"—that one you may purchase on convenient installments if you do not wish to pay cash. And, furthermore, if you have at the present time a silent piano—an instrument that is merely a piece of furniture, we shall be very glad to estimate its value and take it in part exchange toward a Pianola Player Piano.

We will appreciate, and we feel sure you will be glad, after you have done us the courtesy of a visit, that you did so, then you will know fully regarding these splendid instruments.

ASHES AND MUD ARE SWEPT AWAY

Dayton Citizens Forget Woes and Rebuild City.

Clink of Pick and Shovel Revives Energies.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

DAYTON (O.) April 1.—[Special Dispatch.] The city of ashes and mud is rising again. There is hurry and bustle today and the tears that fell for the dead and fortunes swept away have dried with the waters that brought them. Squads of men are at work with shovels clearing the streets inch by inch. The mud is waist deep in places. Busy people throng the ruined districts. These include the business center.

The pretty buildings, the new department stores that were the "sights" of Dayton, are blasted and wrecked.

Main street is a ruin from end to end. It took years and years to build it. In twenty minutes on March 25 Main street vanished. The spirit that built the thoroughfare has remained in the face of dis heartening disaster.

WIELD PICK AND SHOVEL.

Every man in Dayton today, wielding a pick and shovel, is fighting again the old struggle that carried his fathers into the West. The ruins of the First National Bank, the Algonquin Hotel, the Phillips House, the Rike-Kumler building, the Atlas Hotel, the Y.M.C.A. building, the Beckel House, the Callahan building, the blocks of jewelry shops, department stores and thousands of homes, wiped out by the flood and fire, are only the warped monuments of the past.

A young man entered the Longfellow school Sunday night. He was covered with mud and he could hardly stand on his feet. His name is John Bartell. He lives in Springfield. He was engaged to Martha Davidson. The girl was among the missing when the waters retreated. John sneaked through the lines. He was shot at. He reached Martha's home in a boat. In the attic he found his girl. She was dead and she lay facing the wall. John fell by her side and the militiamen caught him. He laughed and they took him to the Longfellow schoolhouse, covered with mud and unable to stand.

DIES ON WEDDING EVE.

Hazel Solomon was married to Henry Klutinsky Sunday evening in the hospital ward of a church. She died after the ceremony and her husband left her bedside crying, "We figured to be married today," he said, "and we were."

William Heffner found his mother in the Van Cleaveland school.

"Where's pa?" he asked.

Both went away. The father is in the morgue at the National Cash Register Company.

John Schaffer staggered into a house on Fairview avenue. There were several refugees sitting by the window. "Is my wife here?" he asked. "Her name is Mrs. Elsie Schaffer."

John found his wife. She was in bed sleeping and a baby lay by her side. "What'll we call her?" the wife whispered.

"We'll call her—we'll call her Elsie, like you," her husband said. The baby had been born on the boat that rescued the mother from her home.

FATHER AT THE MORGUE.

Harry Baldwin walked and waded through the city for three days looking for his old father. He didn't find him. He went everywhere except the morgue. "Old man" Baldwin is there, but no one told his son.

One of the militiamen heard someone playing a piano in the street. A little girl picked out the tune of "Home, Sweet Home." The little girl was "arrested" for being at large without a military pass. She was taken to the Presbyterian Church and put to sleep. When she awoke she asked, "Where's Mamma?"

"Do you want a mamma," asked a woman near her. "I was a mamma but I lost my baby." The two left the church together, mother and child.

On Pearl street, in the segregated district of Dayton, there are three houses with red signs protruding from the walls, and lace curtains hanging in the windows. Women with paint on their faces are inside. They have become nurses. The beds in the house are occupied by sick people. One of the "nurses," whose various names are well known to the police, pinned a red cross on her sleeve. A "relief car" entered the district last night and she was carried away unconscious to the Van Cleaveland school. She had been working for four days. A policeman there recognized her and tried to take it from her arm. She swore back at him and called for help. "It's my badge," she said. "A little girl pinned it there—a little girl pinned it there."

TAKES HER BADGE AWAY.

But the policeman took the badge away and she was sent back to Pearl street.

Dayton is rising again. Smoke is pouring from the chimneys downtown. Wagons are clearing the junk heaps away. The flood already has become history. The Mad and Miami rivers are normal; automobiles cross the bridges. There are 50,000 people who have no homes and who have lost friends and relatives. But their courage is greater than their grief. They will find new homes where the old ones were and start again.

tentatively on the free list. Then there was a reconsideration and a duty of 15 per cent. ad valorem was assessed.

Again the item was taken up and the free raw wool men gained temporary ascendancy. To end friction in the committee it was finally determined to put the two rates up to the caucus, the committee agreeing to recommend tentatively a 15 per cent. rate, while Representative Harrison and other free traders will offer a free wool amendment.

A 30 per cent. ad valorem has been put on yarns made wholly or in part of wool. The average duty on knit fabrics is 48 per cent. ad valorem.

On the principal manufactures of wool, including dress goods made wholly or in part of wools, hats, knitted articles, ready-made clothing and the higher grades of flannels, the bill proposes a duty of 40 to 45 per cent. ad valorem. Blankets will bear a 30 per cent. duty. Taking schedule K as a whole, there is to be a reduction of slightly more than 40 per cent. in the rates of the Payne law, which were the same as the Dingley law.

Passing to the agricultural schedule, a more radical revision is apparent all along the line, with the exception of the items covering cattle. Dressed meats are put on the free list, but the near-protectionist members of the Ways and Means Committee have succeeded in retaining a duty on cattle, swine and sheep. The committee reduction means an average duty of $1.50 per head on cattle, 50 cents per head on hogs and a cut of 40 per cent. in the rates on horses, mules and sheep.

Corn meal, buckwheat flour, seminola and wheat and rye flour are to be free.

FREE MARKET BASKET.

After a fight in committee, aided on the outside by members of the agricultural States, a small duty will be retained on some farm products, principally for revenue purposes. Butter, eggs, cheese, salt, lard and lard substitutes and tallow, all of which go into the "market basket," have been made free.

Onions will bear a duty of 20 cents per bushel, despite efforts made by the radical revisionists to put them on the non-dutiable list.

CITRUS FRUIT HARD HIT.

A reduction of 50 per cent. in the rates on olives and macaroni is provided. Citrus fruits have been hard hit, and lemons narrowly escaped the free list, owing to the fight made by Representative Harrison, who has long demanded that all duties should be removed from lemons. The committee lopped off two-thirds of the duty on lemons and 50 per cent. of the duty on other citrus fruits, but the Senate is expected to restore a rate of at least three-quarters of a cent a pound on lemons, in lieu of the 1½ cents per pound rate now prevailing.

FREE SUGAR.

In addition to the articles before named the Ways and Means Committee purposes to take off all duty on the following items of major importance; Sugar, boots and shoes, timber, lumber, shingles, laths, cements, wire fencing and staples, iron ore, hoop and band iron and steel, cotton bagging and ties, harness, saddles and saddlery, leather belting, plows, harrows, farm wagons, threshing machines, cotton gins, planters, mowers and similar farm implements and parts thereof, sewing machines and parts thereof, bailing wire, machine tools, cut nails, tungsten-bearing ores, cash registers, linotypes and other type-setting machines, printing presses, typewriters and road-improvement machinery.

FREE PRINT PAPER.

Along with free printing presses there will be free print paper, with reductions ranging from 25 to 50 per cent. on other grades of paper.

CHEMICAL SCHEDULES.

The chemical schedule provides a free list on borax, chalk, charcoal, copperas, cottonseed and whale oils, potash, Paris green, sulphate of soda, talcum, anti-toxins, vaccine virus, prussic, nitric, sulphuric and other acids in more common use, pantoin and its salts and a number of natural and compounded drugs, such as barks, berries, buds and beans in everyday use.

PROTECTION FOR LUXURIES.

In contrast to the free list attached to the several schedules are the duties proposed on so-called luxuries, including tobaccos, wines, liquors, silks, perfumery and sleep-producing drugs. The Democratic revisionists proceeded on the theory that the rates on luxuries should offset the radical reductions on the necessities and those who urged a cut on such excellent revenue-producers as wines, tobaccos and silks have made their pleas to deaf ears.

EARTHENWARE SCHEDULE.

The bill provides for a reclassification in the earthenware schedule and there is a general reduction of from 20 to 50 per cent. on the plainer grades of pottery and earthenware. Chinaware, porcelain and the finer grades of pottery and stoneware suffer little change in the reclassification and readjustments of rates, the committee holding the better grades are to be classed as luxuries.

TARIFF ON RICE.

Although Louisiana members lost their fight against free sugar, the committee did not strike a second blow by putting rice on the free list. The duty on rice has been reduced approximately 50 per cent., which is expected to afford some consolation to the Democrats from Louisiana and South Carolina.

"PAT" ON PERFUMERY.

The rates on perfumery, classed as a luxury, are the same as those carried in the vetoed chemical bill of the tariff session of last summer. The Democrats have "stood pat" in the main, on their old chemical bill despite the inconsistencies pointed out by President Taft.

STEEL RAILS FREE.

The steel schedule voted by the Ways and Means Committee is likewise almost identical with the Underwood bill of last summer, except that steel rails are to be without duty in accordance with Democratic platform promises that "trust-controlled" products shall be free.

COTTON IS CUT.

COMPROMISE ON SUGAR.

Although the committee has held to its free sugar bill, it is privately admitted by House Democrats that a compromise sugar bill will result when the Underwood measure reaches the Senate, if it is not ordered before then by the President. The probable basis of compromise will be a $1 rate.

RELY ON INCOME TAX.

The income tax, which will be the chief revenue producer under the Democratic scheme of tariff revision, has been completed and now needs only the approval of the President before its submission to the Democratic caucus.

Members of the committee who advocated a graduated tax, led by Representative Garner of Texas, won out on the final showdown and the tax as agreed upon imposes a tax on all incomes above $4000. The rate begins at 1 per cent., with a sliding-upward scale until incomes of more than $410,000 per annum are subject to a tax of 4 per cent.

It is estimated that the tax will produce from $125,000,000 to $150,000,000 revenue, which will offset the loss resulting from the radical cuts in some of the tariff schedules.

The tariff bill, as drafted by the Ways and Means Committee and revised by the President's Cabinet, will be taken up for consideration by the majority members of the Senate Finance Committee on Friday, according to the plan to shape a measure that can be generally agreed upon before bringing it to the attention of Congress.

The President has been going over the bill drawn by Representative Underwood and his colleagues for several days. He probably will indicate what changes he desires to have made to Senators Simmons, Stone and Hoke Smith, who will confer with him at the White House within the next day or two, in advance of the meeting of the majority members of the Finance Committee.

WANTS CHANGES.

At the conference tonight the President made known to Mr. Underwood the changes which he and his Cabinet regard as important, and Mr. Underwood has called a meeting of the Ways and Means Committee for 10 o'clock tomorrow.

TURKEY EAGERLY GRASPS MEDIATION BY POWERS

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 1.—The Turkish government declared that it unreservedly accepted the terms of peace proposed by the European powers.

TERMS OF MEDIATION.

The terms of mediation offered by the European powers to Turkey and the Balkan allies were:

"(1.) The frontier of the Ottoman empire in Europe shall start at Enos and, following the course of the Maritza River and then that of the Ergene, shall end at Midia. All territories situated west of this line shall be ceded by Turkey to the allied states with the exception of Albania, the delimitation of which shall be fixed by the powers.

"(2.) The question of the Aegean Islands shall be settled by the powers.

"(3.) Turkey shall abandon all claim to Crete.

"(4.) The powers cannot favorably entertain the demand for indemnity, but will admit the allies to participate in the discussions of the International Commission in Paris for an equitable settlement of their participation in the Ottoman debt and in the financial charges of the districts to be handed over to them. Turkey is to be asked to take part in the labors of this commission."

MUST STOP HOSTILITIES.

The great powers declare at the same time that as soon as the bases are accepted, hostilities shall cease.

On March 28 Bulgaria gave notice of acceptance of the offer of mediation, but persisted in her demand for a war indemnity and proposed to substitute a frontier line from Midia on the Black Sea to the Gulf of Saros at the top of the Peninsula of Gallipoli.

The European Ambassadors in London have been considering the situation since that time, but have not reached any definite conclusions. The fall of the fortress of Adrianople is considered likely to have some influence on future negotiations.

CETTINJE, April 1.—Montenegro has answered the latest demand of the powers regarding the withdrawal of civilians from Scutari by stating that army headquarters have refused for military reasons to permit the transmission to the commandant of the beleaguered town of a cipher dispatch from his government. The Montenegrin government, however, has offered to submit to headquarters a request for the transmission of a message in plain language.

In reply to the powers' previous note, Montenegro expresses regret that it is unable to defer to their wishes to cease hostilities at Scutari and in the territories allotted by the powers to Albania.

ALBANY (N. Y.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "No smoking in the Capitol." This order goes forth today. The only Capitol building in the country in which smoking is positively prohibited in legislative halls, offices or corridors, is that of New York State.

Gov. Sulzer announced the new rule today as a result of the fire last Sunday night when some person is supposed to have droped a lighted cigar or cigarette in dust and refuse vault under the State driveway of the Capitol approach.

As a result of this fire, the "no smoking" order was issued immediately and enforced.

UNIONITES POLL STATE SENATE.

Los Angeles Progressives Amuse the Democrats.

Real Estate Men's License Reported Favorably.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Caminetti's drastic anti-injunction bill will be the piece de resistance at tomorrow's session of the Senate. It is one of the biggest of the union-labor measures and offers the first chance to the unionite forces at this session to get an accurate measure of their strength on the Senate floor. The bill bids fair to develop the biggest fight of this session.

Anticipating strong opposition to the measure, which aims to regulate the issuance of restraining orders and court injunctions in labor disputes, and to limit the meaning of "conspiracy" in certain cases, Senator Caminetti today requested the privilege to print in the Senate journal the argument which Andrew Furuseth, union labor agitator, made in Congress when urging the passage of the law. His request was granted.

The vote will probably be one of the closest of the session. In the Judiciary Committee the bill was sent out with the recommendation that it be not passed. It is the most binding anti-injunction measure ever offered in the Senate.

Union labor agents today said they had polled the Senate and have enough votes to win. Senators Gates, Hewitt and Wright, who are leading the fight against the bill, are confident it will be defeated by a narrow margin.

BATTING THE PROGRESSIVES.

It took Progressive leaders in the Senate half an hour today to smother a resolution introduced by Senator Sanford of Ukiah, Democrat, calling for an investigation of the charges made by E. T. Earl against Lissner, Wilson and Avery, as a result of their banking with the Earl machine.

The resolution ironically recited the growth of the Progressive party, declared that "it is vital to the property of the nation that this new party should present a harmonious, compact and united organization," and declared that public welfare demands an immediate investigation of the charges made by Earl.

Following Sanford's motion to make the resolution a special order for tomorrow morning, Senator Thompson of Alhambra presented a substitute motion that the author of the resolution be given the privilege of withdrawing it, which was seconded by Senator Boynton, president pro tem. Senators Juilliard and Curtin made the point that Senator Sanford already enjoyed that privilege under the rules. The chair decided the Thompson motion in order, and on a viva-voce vote declared it carried.

Sanford renewed his motion to make the matter a special order for tomorrow, whereupon Boynton gained the floor to declare the Sanford resolution "tommy rot," over which too much time has already been wasted. "It is all nonsense to bring before this body the politics of Los Angeles at this time," said Boynton. A motion by Thompson to postpone action indefinitely on the Sanford resolution prevailed. Sanford declared tonight that he will bring the matter up tomorrow morning.

FIGHTING FOR THEIR LIFE.

There are more lobbyists in Sacramento this session than ever before in the history of the Legislature, according to Senator Curtin, one of the veteran members. They are here to fight for the life of the particular business they represent. If the legislation affecting business offered at this session were passed, business and industrial life in California would be exterminated.

REPENT OF HASTY VOTING.

Both houses are passing almost every measure reported out of committee. But two bills out of 154 up for final consideration have been defeated. Several others, however, are on the special file for reconsideration, some members having repented of their hasty voting. Among this class of legislation is Guill's bill to make playing cards for a prize in a private home a crime. This measure was passed last week. Later the Assembly voted to reconsider it.

FUN FOR THE DEMOCRATS.

Democrats are making the most of the situation which the Progressive majority is encountering. The Democratic leaders are sitting on the side lines watching the administration forces hang themselves by the passage of myriads of freakish measures. Any measure that creates new commissions, departments, bureaus or individual jobs for administration followers will be opposed by the Democrats. All bills carrying out the Democratic platform pledges will be backed by united Democratic strength.

REALTY DEALERS PROTEST.

The administration "blue sky" bill drafted by a subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee of the Assembly will be given a hearing tomorrow night before the committee. Several leading realty dealers of Los Angeles are scheduled to arrive tomorrow to protest against the passage of the bill, which they say would cripple legitimate business enterprises and retard the development of California along progressive lines.

Following are a few important excerpts from the bill just printed: It shall be the duty of the corporation commissioner to examine the investment and other information so filed, and he may, if he deems it advisable, make, or have made, at applicants' cost as hereinafter in this act directed, a detailed examination, audit and investigation of the investment company's affairs, providing that the investment company may at its option in writing, refuse to have such examination, audit or investigation made, whereupon the corporation commissioner must reject the application.

If he finds that the proposed plan of business of the investment company is fair, just and equitable, the corporation commissioner shall issue to the investment company a certificate authorizing it to sell securities in the manner specified within this State, stating that the company has complied with the provisions of this act, that detailed information concerning the investment company and its securities is on file in the office of the corporation commissioner and that the investment company is authorized to sell said securities within this State on such conditions, if any, as the corporation commissioner may in said certificate prescribe. Said certificate shall recite in bold type that the corporation commissioner in no wise indorses or recommends said securities. The corporation commissioner may impose such conditions as he may deem necessary to the issue of said securities, and may, from time to time, for good cause, rescind, alter or amend the certificate. If the corporation commissioner finds that the proposed plan of business of the investment company is not fair, just and equitable as to any class of persons affected or that it does not intend to do a fair and honest business, he shall refuse to issue the certificate and shall notify the investment company in writing of his decision. It shall be unlawful to issue any security to which this act is applicable unless a certificate authorizing the issue thereof shall first have been secured from the corporation commissioner as provided in this act. A corporation may without applying for a certificate under the provisions of this act issue to each of its directors one share of stock for the purpose of qualifying as directors.

The corporation commissioner shall have general supervision and control, as provided in this act, over any and all investment companies and investment brokers, and all such investment companies and investment brokers shall be subject to examination by the corporation commissioner or a duly authorized deputy at any time the corporation commissioner may deem it advisable to have such examination made to carry out any provision of this act, and in the same manner and with the same powers as is now, or may hereafter be provided for the examination of State banks. Such investment company or investment broker shall pay a fee for each examination, of $10 for each day or fraction thereof that he shall be absent from his office for the purpose of making such examination, and the failure or refusal of any investment company or investment broker to pay such fee upon the demand of the corporation commissioner shall work a forfeiture of its rights to do business in this State.

It shall be unlawful for any investment company, investment broker or agent to issue, circulate or deliver any advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, circular or statement or other document in regard to securities which it desires to sell in this State until after such investment company, investment broker or agent shall have been licensed to sell such securities as provided in this act. It shall be unlawful for any such licensed investment company, investment broker or agent to issue, circulate or deliver any such advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, circular, statement or other document, unless the same shall be signed and bear a serial number and a copy thereof shall first have been filed with the corporation commissioner. The corporation commissioner may for good cause object to any such advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, circular, statement or other document, whereupon it shall be unlawful for such investment company, investment broker or agent to further issue, circulate or deliver such advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, circular, statement or other document.

Every investment company, until it shall have sold all the securities authorized by the corporation commissioner and disposed of the proceeds thereof, shall file, at the close of business on December 31, and June 30 of each year, and at such other times as may be required by the corporation commissioner, a report setting forth in such form as the corporation commissioner may prescribe, the securities authorized by him and sold under the provisions of this act, the proceeds derived therefrom, the disposition of such proceeds and such other information concerning its affairs relating to the subject matter of this act as the corporation commissioner may require.

Every investment broker shall, when called upon by the corporation commissioner, file in his office a report giving such information as he may call for, relating to the subject matter of this act.

BROKERS' LICENSE.

The most important measure reported out in the Senate today was the amended Breed bill, providing for licensing real estate dealers and brokers, which received the approval of the Judiciary Committee in the afternoon.

This bill proposes to protect the public from irresponsible real estate operators by requiring all dealers to procure licenses from the State at a cost of $10 for the first year, and $5 for annual renewals. As originally drawn, the bill made no exceptions, and attorneys who appeared before the committee declared that it prohibited a private individual from disposing of his own property. In the amended bill there are numerous specific exemptions.

STATE ADVERTISING BOARD.

It is proposed to use the money paid for licenses in advertising the State and the bill creates a State advertising board of five members, to be appointed by the Governor. It is estimated that the annual income will be $60,000 the first year, after which it will be $100,000. Ninety per cent. will be at the disposal of the advertising board.

WAR ON "BLIND PIGS."

A joint resolution was sent to the House today by Assemblyman Richardson asking the Federal government to assist in putting down the "blind pigs" which operate safely under Federal liquor licenses, without securing county or city licenses.

In the resolution Richardson asks the Federal authorities to fix as one of the requirements for a Federal liquor license the securing of a local license, and that such local license shall be exhibited to the Federal authorities before the other is awarded.

CERTIFICATES FOR DAIRIES.

An assault by questions on the pure milk bill, introduced by Assemblyman Guiberson, today resulted in allowing the measure to go over until tomorrow. From all over the house questions were showered on Guiberson to determine what effect the bill, if enacted, would have on the small dairyman.

The bill gives counties the right to place in the boards of health power to enforce the regulations for certified milk, cream, ice cream, cheese and butter. The measure defines what certified milk shall be, and the tests it shall go through.

KEEN RIVALRY TO SUPPLY OIL.

General Petroleum Offers to Pipe Its Product.

To Relieve Tehachepi Pass of Heavy Traffic.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the return today from New York of Vice-President E. E. Calvin of the Southern Pacific Company, it became known that in the renewal of negotiations between the railroad and the General Petroleum Company, by which the latter expects to get a contract to haul the Southern Pacific's oil through a pipe line from Bakersfield to Mojave, thus relieving the railroad of the expensive Tehachepi Mountain haul, the Standard Oil will play a prominent part.

The Southern Pacific now has a contract involving hundreds of thousands of dollars annually with the Standard Oil. Under its terms, the Standard takes all the high gravity, or light oil, suitable for refining, from the Southern Pacific. It gives it in return a similar quantity of heavy oil, which the railroad considers better for fuel purposes, and gives in addition a certain percentage of the profits made by the refining process. This contract expires on January 1, 1914.

SEEKS RAILROAD OIL.

The General Petroleum, through Capt. John Barneson and Eugene de Sabla, is now seeking the railroad's oil suitable for refining. It proposes to carry the light oil through its pipe line to its refineries free of charge, and give the railroad a certain percentage of the profit of the refined product. It also proposes to charge the railroad a certain price—somewhere between 5 and 7 cents per barrel—for the heavy oil carried through its pipe line. But thus far, it is said by men in a position to know, the General Petroleum has not reached the percentage of profit on the refined product given by the Standard Oil, under the terms of the latter's contract with the Southern Pacific.

The railroad, according to various officials, faces an unusual situation by reason of the negotiations. They point out that the General Petroleum has already closed with the Santa Fe and will relieve the Tehachepi line of the Santa Fe's oil traffic. The Tehachepi line is owned by the Southern Pacific, and for the joint use of the tracks the Santa Fe is paying, in addition to an annual rental of $87,500, 50 per cent. of the maintenance cost, the latter based on its traffic.

WILL DIMINISH TRAFFIC.

Railroad men point out that with the Santa Fe relieved of its oil hauls, the traffic over the mountain will be diminshed by 50 per cent. Thus, they declare, the Southern Pacific will be forced to pay 75 per cent. of the maintenance cost and the Santa Fe only 25 per cent., if the Southern Pacific continues to haul its oil by rail.

It is also pointed out that the Southern Pacific is in doubt whether it can secure the same favorable terms from the Standard Oil in a new contract.

Whether the savings effected by piping its oil over the mountain will make up for the difference between the General Petroleum's offer of a share in profit on the refined oil and that given now by the Standard Oil is a question executives of the Southern Pacific are pondering over.

General Manager Scott and Vice-President D'Heur of the Kern Trading and Oil Company, which is owned by the Southern Pacific, are understood to have reported against the General Petroleum's proposition. They decline to discuss the subject, however, until something definite is decided upon.

PREFER JUDGES TO JURY.

San Francisco and Corporation Agree on Method of Condemning Spring Valley Water Company.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—The city will file a condemnation suit to acquire the holdings of the Spring Valley Water Company before three judges of the Superior Court, sitting en banc.

This plan was agreed upon at a joint meeting today of the representatives of the city and the company. The case will be an ordinary action in condemnation, the only difference being that the damages will be assessed by three judges and not by a jury. Each side reserves the right to appeal from judgment.

Before commencing he suit the municipal authorities and the water company will come to an agreement as to the lands that are necessary for the city's use and that must be condemned.

Twelve judges will be named, each side offering six, and these will be sifted down to three agreeable to both parties.

The city has offered the company $37,000,000 for its holdings, but the company demanded $37,500,000, and months of arbitration failed to bring a settlement.

Player Pianos

There are many player pianos offered the public today. There are a few that have merit. But for the person who wishes to feel sure that he is right; for the person who wishes to save possible future regrets; for the person who wishes to save the necessity at some later day of exchanging the player he may buy for the best—the Pianola—we urge that person to decide first and last to have a Steinway, Weber, Wheelock, Stuyvesant or Stroud Pianola Player Piano. Then you will know that you are right.

We have the Steinway, Weber and Steck Pianola Player Pianos in upright and grand form; the Stuyvesant and Stroud in upright form only. If you select from any of these five Pianola Player Pianos you will know that you have purchased right, that your money has bought more than it possibly could if you had chosen any other make. The one you decide to purchase, the one you say, "Send it out"—that one you may purchase on convenient installments if you do not wish to pay cash. And, furthermore, if you have at the present time a silent piano—an instrument that is merely a piece of furniture, we shall be very glad to estimate its value and take it in part exchange toward a Pianola Player Piano.

We will appreciate, and we feel sure you will be glad, after you have done us the courtesy of a visit, that you did so, then you will know fully regarding these splendid instruments.

ASCRIBE LOSSES TO PARCEL POST.

Express Companies Hit Hard by New System.

Insist Rate Reduction Would Be Destructive.

Interstate Commission Hears Trial Arguments.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Express companies have been hit hard by the operation of the new parcel post system, according to statements submitted today to the Interstate Commission by counsel for the companies in their final arguments against the reduction in express rates proposed by the commission. It was declared that the companies had suffered a loss approximating 29 per cent. in small package business or about 6 per cent. of the gross revenues of the companies.

Walker D. Hines asserted that for the five companies he represented—the Adams, American, United States, Southern and Wells Fargo—application of the proposed rates to present business would reduce revenues about $26,000,000 a year, or 5.5 cents on every dollar's worth of business done. Such a reduction in revenues he said would be absolutely destructive. It was urged that no proof had been presented that the general level of express rates was too high or that there was any basis for a reduction of rates.

EXPRESS SHIPPERS REPLY.

B. F. Fairchild of the New York Chamber of Commerce, for the express shippers, attacked Mr. Hines's argument as "purely theoretical and hypothetical," and insisted that the proposed rates would yield an ample revenue to the express companies.

On the record completed by today's proceedings, the commission will base its final order fixing such rates as may be regarded as reasonable.

KETTNER PULLS THE STRINGS.

Has Already Made Suggestion for Man to Fill District Attorney's Office in Los Angeles.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—[Special Dispatch.] Representative Kettner has made some suggestion to the Democratic County Central Committee at San Bernardino regarding the filling of one of the deputyships in the office of the United States District Attorney at Los Angeles. He is patiently awaiting a reply. The interruption of mail and wire communication has caused a lull in political news. With a partial resumption today things are taking on renewed interest.

Kettner, as well as the other California members, received large bags of mail and they held the usual number of conferences on political appointments. Kettner is disposed to think things will work out in a way to satisfy the politically starved cohorts under the Bourbon banner, but he isn't sure. The quarantine of Representative Church, whose family are in the hospital with small pox, has worked to delay any further understanding between the Democratic triumvirate from California.

R. F. De Valle's name was presented to the President today for the Ambassadorship to Mexico by Miss Mary E. Foy of Los Angeles, who was escorted to the White House by Representative Raker.

BRYAN GAINS ONE VOTE.

Tells Elevator Operator in State Department He Need Work but Eight Hours.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Elevator operators in the State Department no longer will be compelled to remain on duty overtime while the Secretary of State is in the building. Secretary Bryan believes that when an elevator conductor has worked eight hours it's about time for him to quit for the day. Incidentally, he is of the opinion that walking down a double flight of stairs will work no great hardship on any governmental official.

Recently Mr. Bryan was detained in his office until 6:30 in the evening, two hours after the clerks had left the building. When the Secretary came out of his office he started for the stairs. But the elevator man who runs the lift nearest Mr. Bryan's office was still on the job.

"What hours do you work?" asked the secretary.

"From 8:45 a.m. until 4:45 p.m.," said the man.

"Well, it's now after 6:30. You ought to have been home long ago."

"But it's against the rule to leave when the Secretary is in the building," explained the operator.

"Well, it's not necessary for you to remain while this Secretary is detained after hours," said Mr. Bryan with emphasis.

"Besides, it won't hurt any government official to walk down two flights of stairs."

Decides to Give Them Two Hours Each Week and Tell Them What's What.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 1. — President Wilson has decided to set aside two hours each week for "heart-to-heart" talks with the newspaper correspondents. One hour will be devoted to the writers each Tuesday morning, and another hour will be given over to the same purpose Thursday afternoons. The President will discuss administration policies and sketch his official programme, much of the matter discussed necessarily being in confidence and solely for the guidance of the writers.

HAWAII PLUMS ARE IN DEMAND.

L. L. McCandless Wants to Be Governor of Island.

Harry Irwin Is Out After Attorney-Generalship.

Both Come Across the Seas to Talk With Wilson.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] L. L. McCandless and Harry Irwin of Honolulu, who have been active in Democratic politics in the Hawaiian Islands, arrived this afternoon on the liner Wilhelmina en route to Washington, where they expect to be rewarded by the new administration for their services in behalf of the party. McCandless is one of several who are seeking from President Wilson the appointment as Governor of Hawaii. Irwin, whose mission to the capital is in behalf of the Board of Trade of Honolulu, which is making a fight against the withdrawal of the tariff on sugar, would like to become Attorney-General of the islands.

M'CANDLESS'S CHANCES.

McCandless it is said, has a very good chance of receiving the choice plum the new administration has to offer. His friends have been pulling the strings for him in the capital for some time. He was urged to come to Washington by J. H. Wilson, the National Committeeman for the party in the islands, who is now in the capital. G. J. Waller and E. M. Watson are the rivals of McCandless in the race for the Governorship. McCandless, who has been a prominent figure in politics in the islands for years, was recently defeated by a small majority for the berth of Hawaiian Delegate to Congress by "Prince Cupid."

"Yes, I want to be Governor of Hawaii," laughed McCandless today. "That's my reason for going to Washington. My friends have assured me that I have a pretty good chance."

McCandless is accompanied by his wife and their pretty little daughter, Loy.

WANT TARIFF ON SUGAR.

That the sugar industry in the Hawaiian Islands would be ruined if the tariff on the product is removed, is the statement of Irwin, who is armed with a battery of material to advance the fight of the sugar planters in Washington.

"Any material reduction in the tariff would practically put the industry out of business," said Irwin. "It is no small matter, as the sugar interests in the islands represent about $133,000,000. It is our intention to convince the Congressional Committee that it would be a grave mistake to remove the tariffs."

ROYALTY EXPRESSES SYMPATHY

Rulers of Great Britain, Italy and Persia Cable Condolences to Wilson Because of Floods.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Messages continued to come today to President Wilson from foreign rulers expressing sympathy for sufferers in the flood. King George of England cabled: "I am greatly distressed at the news of the great floods and grievous loss of life caused by them. I desire to express to Your Excellency my deepest sympathy with yourself and the people of the United States in your misfortune."

The President replied: "Allow me, in the name of the people and government of the United States, to express my deep appreciation of Your Majesty's kind message of condolence."

King Emanuel of Italy cabled: "On hearing the news of the floods that have devastated prosperous regions and made so many victims, I beg you to believe in the sentiment of sincere and deep sympathy with which I join in your country's mourning."

President Wilson responded: "Your Majesty's touching words of sympathy in the terrible loss of life and property which has befallen many American homes, are a real solace to the government and people of the United States."

From Sultan Ahmed Kadjar of Persia came the following: "Deeply shocked by the terrible catastrophe that has befallen the United States by reason of the flood I hasten to offer Your Excellency and the American nation the expression of my most earnest and sincere condolence."

President Wilson replied: "On behalf of the American people and in my own name, I thank Your Majesty for your kind words of sympathy in the direful calamity which has befallen so many American families."

WISCONSIN DEMOCRAT URGED AS GOVERNOR GENERAL.

Wilson Said to Be Anxious to Send Young Man of Progressive Type So That He Can Get an Accurate Survey of Conditions in Islands. Social Legislation Needed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Recognition of the Chinese republic and the Philippine question came prominently today before the Cabinet. There is reason to believe that the United States will be the first of the powers to recognize the Chinese republic.

The name of Joseph E. Davies of Wisconsin, secretary of the Democratic National Committee, was suggested as Governor-General of the Philippines. The President is anxious to send a young man of progressive type to the Philippines who will give him an accurate survey of conditions in the islands. His long friendship for Mr. Davies is said to have prompted friends to mention the latter for the place. In the absence of the Secretary of War no decision was reached. Mr. Davies already has been offered an assistant secretaryship in the War Department.

The President received a large memorandum today signed by Prof. Edward T. Divine of Columbia University and some of the most prominent social workers in the country, urging that social legislation be enacted at the coming session.

THE WEATHER BACK EAST.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—[Special Dispatch.] Fair weather still prevails generally over the country. The temperatures are above normal in every section. There is no big change of weather conditions in immediate prospect. Prof. Henry J. Cox, government forecaster, said tonight that Chicago's weather would continue practically unchanged tomorrow with cloudiness developing late in the day. Weather conditions in the Indiana and Ohio flood districts are good. Yuma, Ariz., again was the hottest place in the country today with a temperature of 92 deg. Sault Ste. Marie was the coldest spot with 24 deg.

"No, this is no April-fool joke," said Prof. Cox tonight, commenting on the weather in Chicago. "We are to enjoy some real summer weather for a couple of days. And then—well, there may be a change and some rain."

The lamb-like departure of March failed to result in the shedding of tears in Chicago. Oldest inhabitants are unable to remember a month filled with more savage treachery on the part of the elements than was displayed during the thirty-one days just past. The coldest day of the winter sneaked in before March had been here two days. Succeeding alternations of warm and cold days caused contagion placards to appear on doors in all parts of Chicago. With smiling sunshine the unsuspecting citizen would be lured forth only to be set upon with the snow and sleet and rain. Pneumonia, scarlet fever and grippe lurked in every nook and corner of the month and their combined depredations filled hospitals and pillaged homes.

What happened the latter part of the month is still fresh in the minds of all. Other temperatures:

TO DRIFT IN ICE OVER THE POLE

AMUNDSEN SAYS THERE IS NO LAND THERE.

Will Stick to His Plan If It Takes Five Years and Expects to Use Hydro-aeroplanes as Well as Vessels on His Expedition—Expects to Leave San Francisco in June.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EUGENE (Or.) April 1.—"There will be no trace of Peary or Cook at the North Pole when I get there a few years from now," said Roald Amundsen, the explorer, in an interview here today. "I do not believe there is any land there, and expect to find nothing but a great sea of floating ice."

Explorer Amundsen intends to drift across the pole, even though it may take him five years. He will take along with him two hydro-aeroplanes which are now being made in San Francisco, to be used to rise above the mists for purposes of astronomical observations.

"I shall use the slowest and the fastest known means of locomotion," he explained today.

"We will use the hydroplanes only for lookout purposes. They are very powerful—150 horse power."

The explorer expects to leave San Francisco in June, 1914, and enter the ice fields north of Alaska, prepared to stay with the drifting ice until it has carried his ship over the course that barrels in previous Arctic experiments have taken until he reached the Greenland coast. He will not leave the ship for any purpose other than to take observations. Wireless equipment will keep him in touch with the world.

"I declined his proposition. He called me up next day and told me there was nothing doing unless I paid $3500 in advance.

"I replied I would telegraph the whole matter to you and every legislator unless he reported the bill out in twenty-four hours. He did it. Under same penalty I demanded of him that my bill be reported out of the Assembly Committee immediately and it was done in forty-eight hours.

"'I think I ought to let you know anyway. If you want some undocumentary hearsay evidence of the Stock Exchange using a large amount of money to defeat the incorporation bill I am willing to tell you what Stilwell told me. No newspaper has anything of this.

[Signed] "GEORGE H. KENDALL, "President New York Bank Note Company."

STILWELL'S REPLY.

Senator Stilwell when shown the Kendall telegram to Gov. Sulzer, said:

"The fact that Mr. Kendall's telegram ends with the words 'No newspaper has anything of this' is the best evidence of the reason why Gov. Sulzer and Mr. Kendall bring out this telegram at this time.

"The hearing on the Stock Exchange incorporation bill takes place on Thursday afternoon before the Senate Judiciary Committee and I suppose Gov. Sulzer imagines that the effect of this telegram will compel the Judiciary Committee to report his incorporation bill.

"The entire story is so false and so absurd that it is scarcely worth replying to."

Late this afternoon Senator Stilwell was called to the executive chamber and confronted by Mr. Kendall. The Governor suggested that he "had better go upstairs and resign."

"Kendall never opened his mouth," said Senator Stilwell, "and I said, 'Governor, if anything this man has said would warrant a statement of that kind from you, it is a lie, it is untrue. Neither you nor anyone else has a right to tell me to resign, and I resent such a statement coming from you. I will not resign.'"

AIMED AT STOCK EXCHANGE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) April 1.—The Stilwell bill designed to prevent the New York Stock Exchange from discriminating against the Consolidated Stock Exchange would have the effect of putting the New York Produce Exchange out of business, according to a statement made today to Gov. Sulzer and Senator Wagner by representatives of the produce exchange. It was agreed that the measure would be amended to meet the objections of the produce exchange representatives.

Los Angeles Women Say They Will Stick to Him if He Keeps His Promises.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 1.—President Wilson was told today that women of the country expected to hold him to his declaration that his administration was to be as much shared by them as by men voters.

Miss Mary E. Foy of Los Angeles, president of the California Woman's Democratic League, told the President the women of California were ready to stand by him in his programme of legislation, and really hoped that he meant women would have an active part in the accomplishment of notable reforms.

"I meant every word of it," the President is said to have told his visitor.

Miss Foy declared the women of California, especially the Democratic voters, would support Mr. Wilson's administration "to the last."

NO NEW LAWS IN TENNESSEE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) April 1.—With a large colony of its membership established at points outside the State, the Tennessee House of Representatives met today and adjourned today without a roll call, until later. A count showed sixty-one members present, five short of a quorum. Until a quorum is restored there can be no legislation.

Amendment to the election laws giving the minority into the hands of the "regular Democrats" is the [illegible] the hegira of the thirty-odd Republicans and independent Democrats.

Gov. Hooper vetoed today the proposed law to make quorum-breaking a felony.

The Senate concurred today in a House resolution ratifying the Federal constitutional amendment providing for the election of United States Senators by popular vote.

Climate Failed; Medicine Effective

Rest, fresh air and well-cooked, nourishing food do help many persons suffering with Lung Trouble. But in many cases the disease is only temporarily "arrested," and something more is needed. Eckman's Alterative is a medicine for Throat and Lung Troubles and has brought about many complete recoveries—in many cases where the surroundings were not ideal. Judging by the many reports of recoveries received, we believe it should be used in every case of Lung Trouble. A remarkable case follows:

Weldon, Ill.

"My Dear Sir: Through your instrumentality I have been saved from a premature grave. On December 14, 1904, I was taken with Typhoid Pneumonia which developed into Consumption. In February, 1905, I went to Fort Worth, Texas, and later to Canon City, Colorado. After being there two weeks, my physician informed me that my case was hopeless. Three weeks later I returned home, weighing 103 pounds, the doctor having given me no assurance of reaching there alive.

"On July 14, 1905, I began taking Eckman's wonderful remedy for Consumption. Today I weigh 158 pounds. I am stout and well and can do any kind of work about my grain elevator."

(Affidavit) ARTHUR WEBB.

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious in cases of severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. For sale by The Owl Drug Co., and other leading druggists. Authorized Announcement by the Electric Service Companies of Los Angeles Intelligent Co-operation or Costly and Wasteful Strife?

The three electric service companies have offered over the signatures of their officers to enter into any one of a number of suggested plans to co-operate with the city in the wise and economical marketing of aqueduct power.

These propositions were made by the companies after negotiations with a special committee of the city council had developed the fact that the companies could not sell their local distributing systems to the city without the consent of a large number of bond and stockholders, and that the legal necessities could not be filled short of possibly several years.

In the event either of acquirement of the present electrical distributing systems by the city or the construction of a duplicate and unnecessary new distributing system, from two to three years would elapse before the aqueduct power can be put to work and made to produce revenue.

Acceptance of any of the plans proposed by the companies would mean use of the aqueduct power as soon as it is ready for delivery, and the realization of large amounts which may be applied to the reduction of taxes.

By entering into arrangement with the companies for the utilization and distribution of its power, the city would not sacrifice any of the rights or freedom of action which it now enjoys.

The mere possession of a large amount of electrical power places the city in position to drive practically any kind of a reasonable bargain with the companies.

Absolute right to fix the retail rates of electric light and power is held by the city, but even if it did not have this power, the city could enforce it upon the companies in any arrangement with the latter for the distribution of aqueduct power.

Without mortgaging the people's credit or incurring any part of the proposed $6,500,000 of useless debt, Los Angeles may dictate the amount for which it will sell its power, on one hand, and the rates at which it will be delivered to the people, on the other.

Briefly the companies have offered to negotiate along any of four different lines, as follows

1. To purchase city power at a fair price.
2. To become the distributing agents of the city.
3. To lease their distributing systems to the city.
4. To handle the city power on a partnership basis.

Simply by making these offers the companies have demonstrated their willingness to meet a difficult public problem fairly and honestly. They have no quarrel with the city or its official representatives. They are prepared to make certain sacrifices if the sacrifices will prevent a heavy useless public debt; avoid a period of competitive electrical distribution costly to the people and the companies; and contribute to the public good.

The people of Los Angeles can lose nothing by giving calm and deliberate treatment to the power question. They can, if they desire, establish a new and higher plane of dealing with public utilities, and can prove to the world that the best results come from intelligent co-operation and not from costly and wasteful strife.

And in making such a plan the city is not asked to bind itself for a long period of years, but a door can be left open in case the innovation should not succeed.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Nature warns you when the track of health is not clear. Kidney and bladder troubles compel you to pass water often during the day and get up many times during the night.

Unhealthy kidneys cause lumbago, rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints or muscles, at times have headache or indigestion, as time passes you may have a sallow complexion, puffy or dark circles under the eyes, sometimes feel as though you had heart trouble, may have plenty of ambition but no strength, get weak and lose flesh.

If such conditions are permitted to continue, serious results are sure to follow; Bright's disease, the very worst form of kidney trouble, may steal upon you.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalency of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who usually content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease constantly undermines the system.

If you feel that your kidneys are the cause of your sickness or run down condition, begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys improve, they will help the other organs to health.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular 50c and $1 size bottles at all drug stores. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., which you will find on every bottle.

Sample Bottle Sent Free.

SPECIAL NOTICE—To prove the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands of letters received from men and women who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy they needed. The value and success of Swamp-Root is so well known that all readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in the Los Angeles Daily Times. The genuineness of this offer is guaranteed.

KAISER APOLOGIZES TO OFFENDED TENANT.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, April 1.—The German Emperor's trouble with his tenant, Helmuth Sohst, has been settled amicably, after being before the courts for several months. The tenant has consented to vacate his farm voluntarily although the lease has five years to run. The consideration paid him has not been made public, but he is to receive the Order of the Royal Crown as a token of the Emperor's retraction of the statement that he had "thrown out his tenant because he was utterly inefficient."

Helmuth Sohst is to receive $30,000 as compensation while a letter sent to him from the Emperor's secretariat is understood to contain His Majesty's explanations and regrets.

President Reads His Message to Mexican Congress.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mexico City is quiet. Rumors that there would be trouble tomorrow, which is a holiday, were denied on all sides tonight. In fact, all factions seem to be drawing together in one common cause—the annihilation of the Zapatistas.

The savagery displayed by different bands of these rebels the past few weeks has healed many real or fancied wounds in the capital, and now the people seem to be of but one mind.

THE POPULACE CHEERS.

This feeling was vividly illustrated today when President Huerta and Francisco de la Barra drove from the Palace to the Chamber of Deputies, where the President read his message to Congress. The streets were lined with soldiers, but the people cheered both Huerta and De la Barra, and not the least untoward incident occurred.

Felix Diaz was not in the Presidential party, but many cheers and vivas were heard for him.

OROZCO IN COMMAND.

Tonight the government is collecting all munitions and soldiers available to send against the Zapata bands. Pascual Orozco, Jr., former rebel leader in Chihuahua, is to be in supreme command of the army of extermination.

RHEIMS JOKE IS SERIOUS.

Announcement in German Newspaper About Zeppelin Falling Fools Large Crowd.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

RHEIMS (France) April 1.—A Rheims newspaper startled its readers today by the publication of a statement that a German Zeppelin dirigible balloon, after cruising over the fortresses at Toulon and Verdun, had come to earth near the Rheims barracks, having lost both of her propellers.

Enormous crowds of excited people hurried to the spot indicated, but saw no Zeppelin. Then someone remembered that it was the first of April. The people took the joke very badly, and large forces of police and gendarmes had to be rushed to the scene to disperse them. It is said the authorities will prosecute the newspaper on the charge of publishing false news likely to cause a breach of the peace.

TALK OVER DISSOLUTION.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—[Special Dispatch.] Atty.-Gen. McReynolds made a beginning today in the attempt to reach an understanding with the Harriman interests over the "unscrambling" of the affairs of the Union and Southern Pacific railroads. As the California Railroad Commission prevented an otherwise perfectly good plan for the unmerging to be put into effect, it became necessary for Mr. McReynolds to try again on the government's behalf.

Judge Lovett was here today and met the Attorney-General. They discussed the problem from various angles. The effect of various lines of action on the Union Pacific, the Southern Pacific and the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake lines were tentatively discussed and after talking over generalities, the gentlemen departed with the understanding that each would give profound thought to the subject and later would meet and talk it over again.

That, said the Attorney-General, was the net sum of the results attained at today's session.

Union Pacific Announces a Department Which Will Bring Settlers into New Sections.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OMAHA (Neb.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Union Pacific Railroad today announced the opening of a strenuous campaign for the colonization of the West and promoted the colonization department of the road to a position of the utmost importance. R. A. Smith, former advertising agent of the road, is made head of the new department with headquarters in Omaha.

J. A. P. Cummins succeeds Mr. Smith as advertising head. The promotion of Smith dissolves the merger of the advertising and colonization department that has existed for over a quarter of a century. Farming settlers will be brought in where needed, business advanced, mines opened and general development work of all kinds undertaken.

UNIONIST QUITS WIRELESS QUIZ.

Says Important Information Has Been Withheld.

Scores Methods Used by Parliament Committee.

Declares Liberals Shielded Sir Rufus Isaacs.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 1.—Harold Smith, a Unionist member of the Parliament and a member of the Parliamentary committee of inquiry into the government's wireless contracts, resigned today from the committee as a protest against the withholding of information. In a letter to the chairman of the committee, Sir Albert Spicer, he writes:

"Two members of the committee have been publicly charged with having received and withheld from the committee most vital information, which, if communicated to their colleagues, 'must have very much shortened and materially altered our proceedings. These two members have not denied the charges and one of them has publicly objected to a question being put to a witness with the object of testing its accuracy.'

The charge to which Mr. Smith refers is that two of the Liberal members of the committee had been informed by Atty.-Gen. Sir Rufus Isaacs that he had purchased shares of the American Wireless Company. The direct question was put to Sir Rufus Isaacs while he was on the witness stand, but the committee disallowed it.

Fire Insurance Representatives Recommend Suspension in Missouri Because of Drastic Legislative Act.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 1.—Representatives of fire insurance companies doing business in Missouri met here today and recommended a suspension of their business in that State until the legal basis of their operations can be determined.

The fire insurance men asserted that the repeal of the Oliver State rating law by the Missouri Legislature and the passage of an amendment to the anti-trust law relating to fire insurance, had rendered the status of the business uncertain in Missouri.

The Attorney-General of Missouri has announced that unless the fire insurance companies reduce their rates at once in accordance with the law he will begin criminal proceedings against them.

WATCH THERMOMETERS; WAR FOR MERCURY MINE.

Federal Courts May Take a Hand in Controversy Over Famous New Almade n Property — President Nones Declines to Resign and Makes Startling Statement About Government In vestigation.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A row among the stockholders and directors of the Quicksilver Mining Company, owner of the famous New Almaden mine between San Jose and Los Gatos, and controlling the country's output of quicksilver, has assumed such proportions that it promises to break out in the Federal courts of San Francisco tomorrow. It has also resulted, according to the president's own assertions, that certain books and records of the company are now in possession of the Department of Justice as a result of efforts on his part to secure immunity for the company for alleged criminal acts by a former administration against the laws of the United States.

The court action will take place tomorrow unless W. H. Landers, quicksilver and mining expert of this city, succeeds in gaining an entrance to the New Almaden mine and permission from the superintendent to make a thorough study and appraisement of it. Landers was appointed to make this investigation at a recent meeting of stockholders in New York, which is the company's principal point of business, despite the fact that its properties are in California. Today, he attempted to carry out his mission, but was forcibly prevented at the entrance of the mine. He asserts that if this performance is resumed tomorrow he will immediately set the machinery of the Federal courts in motion to see where authority in the company really is vested.

STORMY MEETING.

Back of Landers's appointment is the story of a stormy stockholders' meeting held in New York, at which charges of mismanagement were made and the resignation of President Charles A. Nones demanded. Nones declined to resign and although he nominally presided at the meeting, the leadership was wrested from him when he declined to put numerous motions before the meeting.

Among these motions was one that a committee be appointed from among the stockholders to make a thorough investigation of the affairs of the company and be vested with authority to employ an expert to make a physical appraisement. Nones declined to take any part in such proceeding so the stockholders selected for this purpose, M. E. Harby, counsel for the Nones Copper Company at Cananea; I. L. Benedict, Jr., and L. Wallerstein. This committee selected Walters, the San Francisco expert, to make the physical appraisement.

At the time of this action, the stockholders also ordered that all the mails of the company be forwarded immediately to New York from the company's mines near San Jose. Then, President Nones objected strenuously, but he was overridden by the stockholders.

It was in connection with the controversy over the books that the company's entanglement with the United States authorities came out. This came as a distinct surprise and shock to the stockholders, but Nones positively declined to give them any idea of the nature of the trouble, saying that in the first place, he had given his word to the Federal authorities to keep quiet, and that in the second place it would not be "in the interests of the company" to divulge the facts.

"Is this company now under investigation by the Department of Justice?" demanded one stockholder.

"It appears so," responded Nones.

"Who of the government demanded the books?"

"The department of investigation."

"It is evident that Mr. Nones has given the Department of Justice some information," added another stockholder, "and I assert that we, as stockholders, have a right to know if our company has been guilty of criminal acts."

"I cannot tell you anything," responded Nones, "for this reason: I have obtained immunity for my company for acts that were done by a former administration, criminal acts against the laws of the United States. You can pack a room full of stockholders, but you won't gain anything by that. I'll tell you right now that I am under promise and that I will not say one word until I have the sanction of the bureau of investigation in Washington."

OVER PRESIDENTS HEAD.

Twenty stockholders were present at the meeting, which had been called over Nones's head by a vote of 25 per cent. of the stockholders. The dissatisfied California stockholders had sent in proxies for their stock. At the outset, Nones, who was flanked by an array of counsel and clerks, attempted to assume control of the meeting, but by force of numbers he was overridden, and the stockholders put through every demand, except that of Nones's resignation. One or two of the more conservative suggested that nothing be done on this question until after the report of the investigating committee, and in view of Nones's emphatic refusal voluntarily to resign, this counsel prevailed.

No specific charges were made against the president, but he was closely questioned — when he would consent to answer — on receipts and expenditures of the company covering the past two years, and on letters he had written various stockholders and directors in optimistic vein concerning the company's condition.

AN OLD PRODUCER.

The New Almaden quicksilver mine, near San Jose, is one of the largest producers in the world, its only rival being the Old Almaden mine in Spain. It is about twenty miles southwest of San Jose. The mine has been producing for forty years, and is said to have nearly eighty-five miles of tunneling.

MRS. HOBART WINS DECREE.

WIFE OF WEALTHY SOCIETY MAN IS DIVORCED.

Daughter of Commodore Williams of United States Navy Is Given Custody of Children by San Francisco Judge and Secures Satisfactory Financial Settlement.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hannah Williams Hobart was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Walter Scott Hobart today by Superior Judge Cabaniss. The decree was granted on the ground of desertion and repeated cruelty, and Mrs. Hobart was given the exclusive custody and control of her three minor children. Property rights had been settled previously out of court. Mrs. Hobart informed the court that her husband had agreed to provide her with a regular separate allowance.

Hobart, who for many years has been one of the most prominent members of the rich and exclusive Burlingame set, did not contest his wife's suit.

In her testimony, Mrs. Hobart said: "I was married in San Rafael on December 12, 1896, and I have three children, whose names are Hannah, aged 16; Ruth, 14, and Walter, aged 12 years; I have lived continuously in San Francisco—this is my residence, though I was in Europe for some time during my children, in France and Italy. I charge my husband with cruelty in these respects: When I was in London my husband came home intoxicated several times in the early hours of the morning and used extremely vulgar language and abused me. Later, in France, my little boy underwent operations performed on his hand. After three operations I was completely worn out. Mr. Hobart went away. He came home, and when the fifth operation had been performed he told him that I nearly fainted with the last operations, and I could not stand it any more, and I asked him to go and take care of the children. He refused me of being very selfish; that I had to go to Carlsbad; so the very next day he left Carlsbad and left with the children. Later he sailed for America."

The nuptials of Walter Hobart and Hannah Williams, the daughter of Commodore Williams, United States Navy, were celebrated with a deal of pomp and pomp. They were married in San Rafael during December, 1896. Hobart was then a young man with a great fortune in his hands and wealth awaiting him. His bride was a beautiful young woman whowas a recognized leader in the best society circles.

RELIEF FUND IN NEW YORK.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 1.—The Interborough Rapid Transit Company's decision to set aside 5 per cent. of all moneys taken on the city's subway and elevated railways yesterday for the relief fund brought to these companies the heaviest day's traffic in their history. The 5 per cent. amounted to young men who are going out into the nation.

"I want to help preserve that part of the nation that is worth preserving and without which the nation cannot exist. If I can do this I shall thank God for the opportunity.

"I am here to work in the ranks with you and to aid the president of the college, who is now away from you, but who soon is coming back in improved health. I propose a cheer for Arthur Hadley."

AND THEN THE CHEER.

A long Yale cheer was given. Then came the impressive singing of "Bright College Years," Yale's song of songs, with the assemblage standing with bared heads.

Mr. and Mrs. Taft later went to the hotel, where they are to make their home temporarily.

AND REVELL CALLS ON TAFT.

GOES SO FAR AS TO PLAY GOLF WITH EX-PRESIDENT.

Denies that Politics Formed Basis of Conferences Held at Augusta, Ga., by Party Leaders With Former Executive, Who Is Putting Up Better Game than Ever.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—[Special Dispatch.] Alexander Revell, Progressive party leader, was not forcibly impressed by the report from Augusta, Ga., that he and a number of other prominent men held political conference with ex-President Taft in that city within the last two weeks. Mr. Revell admits the conference, but says golf and not politics was the center of attraction.

Mr. Taft was quoted as saying his golf game has improved since he left office.

"Golf and the weather formed the basis of our conferences," said Mr. Revell. "The ex-President played twelve holes one day in the rain, and were he not in excellent health he certainly would have caught cold.

"John Hays Hammond and I played eighteen holes in the same rain. He made the course in 79 and putted through oceans of water. I did the eighteen holes in two and one-half hours.

HILLES THERE TOO.

"Charles D. Hilles and Norman B. Ream were the best-looking men there. They both know a great deal, but it all counts for nothing because they don't understand the really fine points of the game of golf. Take it all in all, the conferences were a great success. It was agreed that the golf players of the various parties, including a few from abroad, should meet there next March or April and come to some permanent decision on 'how it is possible to have a high cost of living where golf were not included.'"

HIGHWAY COMMISSION.

Assemblyman Chandler brought up the bill prepared by the California Highway Commission perpetuating that body to care for the repairing and maintenance of the State roads. At present, the commission has no authority to do more than oversee the building of the $18,000,000 State road system.

COUNTY BOARDS OF HEALTH.

The greater part of the morning session was taken up in debate upon Assemblyman H. C. Bagby's bill providing for a board of health in each county, and for sanitary inspectors. Assemblyman Golder denounced the latter provision, which, he said, would permit the invasion of homes without notice by men who would generally be "cheap ward politicians." The bill was amended to require health officials to give "due notice" before sending inspectors to enter residences and also to leave the organization of such boards optional with each county.

FOR PURE WATER.

Assembly Bill No. 236, by Bagby, prohibiting the furnishing of polluted or unhealthful water for domestic purposes, and placing all domestic water systems under the supervision of the State Board of Health, was passed.

FIRE INSURANCE.

Assemblyman's Byrnes's bill providing for the establishment of safety funds by fire insurance companies, was passed without debate, but Assemblyman Polsley gave notice that he would move the reconsideration of the measure tomorrow.

BUILDING AND LOAN BANKERS.

Assemblyman Green attempted to call up his bill, No. 831, prohibiting building and loan associations from engaging in banking, but upon objections from Assemblyman Shannon action was deferred until April 9.

The Assembly adjourned in time to attend the baseball game.

It was introduced by Senator Cohn of Sacramento county.

LIBERTY BELL.

Another resolution petitions the City Council of Philadelphia to grant permission to the Panama-Pacific Exposition to bring the Liberty Bell to California in 1915.

LAKE TAHOE.

The Senate also approved Senator Birdsall's resolution relating to the preservation of the natural condition of Lake Tahoe and the settlement of conflicting claims to the flood waters thereof.

FOR FEDERAL STEAMERS.

Senator Gates's resolution recommending to Congress the establishment of a government-owned line of steamers between Atlantic and Pacific ports via the Panama Canal was approved.

GO TO BALL GAME.

Before leaving for the ball game, where most of the members spent the afternoon, the upper house disposed of a score of bills of minor importance.

THE OWENS BILL.

Senator Finn's motion to reconsider the Owens bill, which would close all saloons in California between the hours of 1 and 5 in the morning, was postponed until tomorrow.

WHITTIER SCHOOL.

On recommendation of the State Board of Control a bill was offered for introduction in the Senate this afternoon providing for the transfer of 100 boys from the Whittier State School, at Whittier, to the Preston School of Industry at Ione. It was found recently that the large brick building where the boys are housed at Whittier is unsafe for occupancy, and the State Department of Engineering urged their immediate removal. The bill carries an urgency clause.

"Well, what do you think of that?" he exclaimed. It is no wonder your store is famous throughout the clothing trade of the United States and that you have become the largest exclusive men's clothiers in the world." Ladies, if you don't care to put this amount of money in a sewing machine, see THE RUBY—ball bearing. The best low-priced sewing machine ever shipped to the Pacific Coast. It will need no expense for repairs in 20 years of ordinary use. Price $25—$2 down, $1 a week.

One of the most essential things in using these two machines is using the best of oil, which we carry.

STRIKERS DEFY COURT MANDATE.

Declare They Will Stay Out Until Leader Is Free.

Haywood May Now Have to Answer Felony Charge.

Judge Grants Two Writs on Behalf of Agitator.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES]

PATERSON (N. J.) April 1.—To the triple demands of the silk mill workers, on strike here—more money, shorter hours and less labor—there was added today a fourth, the release from jail of William D. Haywood, the Industrial Workers of World leader, sentenced yesterday to serve six months for disorderly conduct. There will be no resumption of work, the leaders declare, until Haywood is freed.

A second charge against Haywood—that of causing unlawful assemblages—accuses him of a felony, punishable by seven years' imprisonment and fine. This charge probably will be placed before the grand jury within a few days.

Elisabeth Gurley Flynn and Ewald Koeningen have taken over the leadership of the 15,000 strikers since Haywood's conviction.

TWO WRITS GRANTED.

Supreme Court Justice Minturn today granted two writs to Haywood's counsel. One, a writ of habeas corpus, called for the production of Haywood before him Saturday; the other a writ returnable next Tuesday that calls on the city authorities to show why Haywood's conviction should not be set aside.

On the habeas corpus writ, Justice Minturn fixed Haywood's bail of $500. A bond of $5000 in addition is demanded on the charge of causing unlawful assemblage. Haywood remained in jail while his lawyers set out to seek a bondsman.

CHICAGO, April 1.—Five thousand union painters, paper-hangers and decorators went on strike here today. The men demand an increase of 5 cents an hour and the right to inspect specifications on the jobs where they are employed to prevent contractors from "skimping" work. Some of the smaller contractors have signed the union agreement, and there are about 4000 men still at work.

HILL LINE FAILS TO PAY TAXES TO WASHINGTON COUNTY.

Passengers Delayed Forty Minutes But Ticket Agent Through a Ruse Gets them Started on Their Way to Spokane—Rest of Electric Equipment Still in Hands of Officer.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES]

COLFAX (Wash.) April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The local trains and trains of the Inland Electric "Hill line" and O. W. R. and N. Railroads were taken in possession today by Sheriff William Cole of Whitman county for the failure by the two roads to pay the personal tax assessed against them. The time limit for the payment of personal taxes in the county expired last night.

A deputy guarded each part of the equipment taken. The passenger train belonging to the Inland company was due to leave Colfax at 1 o'clock, but was prevented from doing so by Deputy Sheriff Baker. After the train had been held until forty minutes after the time it was due to depart, the passengers on the train became restless and threatened to leave the train. Agent Eldridge of the Inland company resorted to a ruse to get it out of the Colfax yards. According to the deputy, Agent Eldridge assured him that the matter had just been settled and the taxes paid. The deputy thereupon left the train and started to the Courthouse. As the officer was leaving, the train started and was gone before it could be stopped on its way to Spokane.

Tonight, the Sheriff is holding the remainder of the equipment.

PAYS ON UNION OPTION.

Payment by De Sabla Is Step Toward Consummation of Twenty Million-Dollar Oil Deal.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Eugene De Sabla today paid $100,000, due on Robert Watchorn's option for the control of the Union Oil Company.

In December last the local capitalist completed a deal whereby he took over Watchorn's option on the controlling interest in the petroleum company from the Stewarts for a consideration of $1,000,000, of which one-half was paid on the making of the contract, the remainder falling due in monthly payments of $100,000, beginning this month. When the present payment fell due, there was no doubt of the ability or desire of De Sabla to perform his part of the contract.

It is understood that the deal proper for the Union Oil Company's control involves about $20,000,000, final payment on which is to be made on or before January 1, 1915.

Further than declaring that he was in the habit of paying his bills when they fell due, De Sabla refused to make any statement. He declared that any reports must emanate from Watchorn, treasurer of the corporation, and reputed agent of the Stewarts. Watchorn is at present in New York on a business trip.

The proprietors of the establishment of which the telephone number is A1770 were in a state of siege yesterday afternoon from persons demanding an interview with Mr. Pickerel, with calls in almost equal number for Messrs. Sturgeon and Shad. It was not till the 'steenth call came in that the exasperated proprietors informed the public at large that they are operating the Western Fish Company and that Pickerel, Sturgeon, Shad et al. spent the first of April in the ice box.

Girls Will Raise Debt.

The Eureka Dancing Club for working girls, operated under careful supervision, is planning a benefit entertainment to be given at the Friday Morning Club on the evening of the 11th inst., when a number of its members will present the "Milk Maids' Convention." Miss Charlotte Leland of Hollywood, is staging the production. Mrs. B. A. Evans will take the part of Birdie Larkspur, and sing the "Springtime" song. The proceeds will go to wipe out an indebtedness incurred at the time of the club's organization.

Don't Like Restriction.

The new county charter which forbids deputies of the District Attorney from having private practice has resulted in the resignation of Byron Hanna, chief deputy in charge of civil matters, who vacated his office yesterday. Frank Blair, who has been an active prosecutor of criminal cases in the same office, expects to leave June 1. He states that he can make more money in private practice. Arthur J. Hill will take Hanna's position and advise the Board of Supervisors as well as attend to other matters of a civil nature. Hill has been a deputy under Capt. Fredericks for three years.

Considerate Watchman.

Anthony Robinson, an employee of the Hauser Packing Company, was arrested by a watchman at the plant early yesterday morning in an alleged attempt to steal hams and bacon. The watchman was loath to disturb his superiors, and consequently kept Robinson a prisoner until yesterday morning about 8 o'clock, when he was turned over to Detective Zeigler and locked in the City Jail. An investigation later in the day is said to have disclosed the fact that Robinson has been paying his rent and other expenses with meat stolen from his employers.

FRIEDMANN DENIES VACCINE IS OF HUMAN ORIGIN.

Berlin Scientist Also Repudiates Statement that He Has Visited Plant of Long Island Drug Syndicate—Clinic Today Is Postponed Because of Accident.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—[Special Dispatch.] Dr. M. A. Sturm, assistant to Dr. Friedman, the German tuberculosis specialist, today denied a newspaper report that Friedmann has visited the plant of a drug syndicate in Long Island City. Dr. Arthur Friedmann, brother of the scientist, admitted, however, that the latter has been invited by the management of a drug syndicate to attend a dinner to be given in his honor.

Dr. Friedmann this afternoon denied a report which has gained some circulation, that his vaccine has its basis in human bacilli which has undergone transformation in turtles.

"The vaccine is derived from tuberculi and nothing else," said he.

Dr. Friedmann was distressed this afternoon by an accident to the oven he uses for the final preparation of his anti-tuberculosis vaccine. He would not tell anybody what had happened, except that all the material he had prepared for use tomorrow in seventy-five patients of the Sulzer Hospital for Consumptives, had been spilled and the clinic, which was to have been the last of the United States government tests must be postponed at least a week.

MODIFIES COMPENSATION ACT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO (Cal.) April 1.—In response to the stiff fight waged by fruit growers and farmers from all over the State against the provisions of the Boynton workman's compensation bill, now pending before the Senate Committee on Labor and Capital, Senator Boynton, author of the measure, announced today that he would amend the bill to exempt specifically the employers of ranch and farm hands, fruit pickers and domestics.

As originally framed the bill covered practically every trade, regardless of the differences in hazards. Farmers protested that such a law would work a hardship upon them, and orchardists likewise complained. Several open hearings were held, and today Senator Boynton decided to make the change, thereby eliminating most of those who objected to the bill.

Farmers and orchardists will not be eliminated entirely, but will be given the choice of accepting the State insurance plan if they so desire.

Discord.

WHERE RECALL MEETS RECALL.

Modern Rapid-Fire Politics Stir Arcadia.

Mayor, Trustee, Marshal and Clerk Involved.

Efforts Being Made to Avert Further Strife.

Arcadia, beautiful little city of political discord, is in the throes of a double back-action recall movement. Ever since a drastic anti-saloon, anti-poolroom ordinance was enacted the city's officials have had a hard time getting along together. Several efforts have been made to recall Trustees and, not long ago, the board split over a proposition to throw the Marshal out of office.

Now, there is a petition out to recall Trustee G. E. Parker who, with Trustee Barnes, favored the removal of the Marshal. As a counter-movement petitions are also being circulated to recall Mayor H. A. Unruh and City Clerk Pedley who, in addition to holding that position, is Unruh's secretary. The other members of the board are A. D. Bowman and Harry E. Stocker. Stocker is aligned with Unruh. Bowman, who ordinarily plays a lone hand, stated last night that so far as this particular battle is concerned he is prepared to back up Unruh.

The feeling in some quarters appears to be bitter, but Mayor Unruh said yesterday that he hopes the muddle can be adjusted at next Saturday's meeting of the board. Bowman will also essay the role of peacemaker at that time, but he is by no means confident of success. Bowman knows just how it feels to be the target for a recall movement. He has been through it and while he was upheld by a vote of the people the litigation which grew out of the affair is till pending.

SECOND RECALL EFFORT.

This is the second effort to recall Mayor Unruh. The first one fell flat because the petition lacked the requisite number of signatures. The effort to get Bowman's political scalp grew out of the anti-saloon movement. Bowman says he was in favor of abolishing saloons, but he wanted the action taken in such a manner as to avoid ruining the saloon-keepers, whose property rights, in his opinion, were entitled to the same consideration as those of anybody else.

Recognizing that the anti-saloon feeling was overwhelmingly strong, Bowman ceased even this opposition and himself made the motion to pass the anti-liquor ordinance and the saloons were closed May 1. Last June it was alleged that he had not been sufficiently vigilant in having the provisions of the ordinance carried out and a petition for his recall was circulated.

The election to name his successor was held in July and he was reelected by a heavy majority. He then brought suit for $25,000 against some of the men who had been active in the recall movement, and who, he asserts, made damaging and untruthful allegations against him. This suit it now pending. The split between Unruh, Parker and Barnes came about three months ago. Parker and the Mayor, as co-workers in building up and maintaining the Arcadia Good Government Association, had, up to that time, been apparently good political friends.

Parker declared that the marshal, who, in addition to his police duties, was tax collector and street superintendent, was not properly looking after the street work. Parker and Barnes voted to remove him from office. Unruh and Stocker were in favor of retaining him.

POLITICS THE GAME.

This left the balance of the power with Bowman, who, as a long-time resident, and office-holder of the late "Lucky" Baldwin's city, is no novice at the political game. For a long time he had been a helpless, if not disconsolate, minority of one, and this split placed him in the seat of power.

When the marshal question was first voted upon by the board, Bowman cast his ballot with Unruh and Stocker and the marshal kept his job. At a subsequent meeting Bowman agreed to a compromise, which permitted the marshal to remain as marshal and tax collector, but relieved him of his duties as street superintendent. Parker, under the agreement, was to look after the streets with the understanding that he should receive no salary.

Since Parker undertook the streets job he has been criticised because of the way in which trees have been trimmed and other street work handled. The breach between the factions gradually widened. The double set of recall petitions followed.

At a school bond election last July representatives of the Baldwin estate, which pays about two-thirds of the city's taxes, opposed the proposed $50,000 issue, and were successful in defeating it. At a subsequent election, with the opposition withdrawn, an issue of $25,000 was voted.

Aside from its political disturbances the little city is as peaceful and prosperous and beautiful as its name would suggest. It not only has no saloon, but billiard and poolrooms are barred. Though it has no church the community is as strait-laced as a New England village. Its only dissipation is playing the game of politics with the blue sky as the limit.

MANY BENEFICIARIES.

Will of Late Wealthy Angeleno Woman Bequeathes Thousands to Friends and Charities.

The will of the late Mrs. Ida Hancock Ross, who died March 15 last, was admitted to probate yesterday. It was only a matter of a few minutes to transact this important business relating to one of the largest estates in the county. G. Allan Hancock, son and heir to the estate, was examined briefly by formed Judge Stephens. As executor it will devolve upon him to see that the numerous bequests made by his mother are faithfully carried out.

TWENTY TONS OF BONES.

And They Are Wonders of Aeons Agone, Unearthed Here by University of California.

Twenty tons of bones of the prehistoric animals complete the discoveries at La Brea asphaltum pits, and will conclude the work of the University of California in unearthing these skeletons of aeons ago. Reginald Stoner, professor of archeology, has been in charge of this work, which has run over a period of four months. He stated yesterday that it was the greatest exhumation of prehistoric skeletons and bones ever made in America.

"No other Pleistocene deposits have yielded the number or variety of species that we have secured from the La Brea beds," said Prof. Stoner. "We found there the bones of the lion, the bison, the camel, the saber-tooth tiger, the wolf, the mastodon and other unusual animals, as well as of species of birds which we as yet have not had time to properly classify.

"Our search took us twenty-three feet below the surface, and covered only a small area of ground, so that there are still great opportunities for unearthing skeletons of all kinds. The tar beds are extensive and diligent work will serve to show that even our discoveries and the extent of our research can readily be equaled."

As rapidly as the various bones were taken from the pits, Stoner, who was assisted by as high as twenty men at one time, had them packed and shipped to Berkeley. There they will be cleaned and mounted as rapidly as possible for study.

Because of his success in this field, Stoner will soon be sent to Nevada, where a number of discoveries of strange fossils have been reported.

THE TWO DOGS STUMP JUSTICE.

Collie and Offspring Held for Board Bill.

Nervous Witness Wants Shot Gun for Lawyer.

Can a dog be held by a hotel man as a co-tenant liable for the room rent of its master? Can he also charge up against said pup alleged damage done the carpeting? These are but two of an array of problems that arose in the case of A. Wood against F. A. Baker, his erstwhile landlord, yesterday. The trial was before Justice Forbes who observed that the involved legal aspects made it necessary to take the matter under advisement.

Wood, who says he has walked 13,000 miles with his faithful dog, Queen Collie, narrated her many acts of faithfulness in order to show her value to him.

"Your Honor," said Wood, "that dog knows more than lots of persons. She used to wake me up by putting her paw on my face. Once I went to sleep on a railroad track back in Oklahoma and she saved me from being run over by a passenger train, waking me by her efforts to drag me off the rails.

"How much does the dog weigh?" asked the court, apparently regarding the story as somewhat tinged with romance.

"She weighed about forty-eight pounds at that time," said the witness.

"What were you doing on the track?" persisted Justice Forbes.

"Well, I want to tell Your Honor," said Wood. "You see, I had been walking a long way that day. I am a champion walker. It rained and the only dry place was on the cinders between the rails."

TROUBLE STARTS.

Before Wood and his trusty dog reached Los Angeles Queen presented him with a nice puppy. He took the mother dog and her baby to various places and finally sought the friendly shelter of the Hotel Fremont, then conducted by Mrs. Belle Brown, on South Main street. He took his dogs into his room, but apparently Mrs. Brown made no objection. Later the establishment passed into the control of F. A. Baker, one of the present defendants.

"Those dogs ruined my rugs," said Baker. "Wood brought in all kinds of meat and laid it out on the carpet. I told him he must stop feeding in the room or he would have to move. On the day he left I grabbed the dog's chain and told Wood I would keep her and her puppy until his rent was paid."

"How much did you feed the dogs after you seized them as baggage?" sarcastically asked Attorney Barnes, on cross-examination.

"Well, it cost me about $5 a week."

"How many times a day did you feed them?"

"Three times."

"Don't you know that dogs in Alaska run all day with 100 pounds on them and are only fed at night?" shouted the lawyer.

"You are holding some clothing belonging to this plaintiff, are you not?" continued the cross-examiner.

"Yes, sir. I have a vest," replied the defendant. "It is only fit for the ragbag."

Mrs. Brown was the next witness. Counsel for the defense asked the lawyer on the other side to restrain his method of procedure as the lady was nervous. "Lie back in the witness chair and be comfortable," said counsel for the defense soothingly.

"I would like to use a shotgun on that man," said Mrs. Brown aloud aside to a friend. Justice Forbes told all parties to refrain from unnecessary bickering and proceed with the case.

The plaintiff sues for $299, but alleges that the dog is worth $500 and her puppy $50 unless the defendants have ruined them by unscientific feeding. The defendant set up a counter- claim for room rent and about $35 damage done two rugs.

At the present time the cause of all the disturbance is being "boarded out" with her young pup. It is costing the hotel man several dollars a week.

On the Verge.

NEXT MAYOR MAY BE NAMED LATE TODAY.

Political Situation Intense as Time for Filing Nominating Petitions Shortens—Municipal Conference Executive Committee Still Wrestling—Betkouski Prepares for Flying Start—Earl Convenes Tonight.

THE Executive Committee of the Municipal Conference was in session at the office of Charles G. Andrews in the Wright & Callender building all day yesterday, but the members of the committee delegated to select a suitable municipal ticket maintained silence.

Most of the day was devoted to the task of finding a suitable candidate for Mayor. Mr. Mulholland and Mr. Booth, according to reports from the committee-room, were eliminated because of their refusal to permit the use of their names. D. K. Edwards has been before the committee, but according to current rumors will not be presented as a candidate to the conference, which is made up of representatives of the several political divisions. Capt. Osborne was again mentioned as a representative upon whom all might agree. Councilman Betkouski was also suggested as a conference possibility.

"We expect to be ready to make a satisfactory report to the conference Wednesday afternoon. The prospects for such a report are good," said a member of the committee last night, while another intimation is to the effect that the committee may recommend that the nomination be thrown upon the floor of the conference and made in open meeting. The sessions of the committee will be resumed at 9 o'clock this morning. "It's like a horse race," said a member. "There is usually lots of scoring before they get away to a good start."

BETKOUSKI MAY RUN.

Martin Betkouski, who led the field prior to the appointment of the Executive Committee, was frequently mentioned in political circles yesterday, and was approached during the day by friends, who urged him to reenter the race.

Betkouski is confident that he could be elected if placed in nomination, and announced his willingness to make an aggressive and active campaign against the red-flagger if such a step seemed advisable. "I am for Los Angeles and her best interests," he said, "and if the conference committee fails to nominate a man who can win I shall be ready to circulate my nominating petitions for Mayor and do the best I can for the people of Los Angeles. I am for a common-sense, straightforward business administration. I know the city and her needs and the people know me. I may have a more definite statement to make tomorrow."

In the meantime Betkouski is circulating petitions for Council, and will seek re-election to that body if he decides not to go after the Mayoralty. The conference is likely to indorse him for Council if not for Mayor.

Earl is persisting in his plan to hold a convention of his own in Symphony Hall tonight under the guise of the Central Committee of the Good Government Organization. This comes a few hours after the scheduled session of the Municipal Conference, which is set for 3:30 o'clock at No. 517 South Broadway, and the action of the first convention may have considerable bearing upon the second. In addition to the men already suggested as possible Earl candidates, the name of Councilman McKenzie recurred yesterday.

THIS THE DAY.

In any event the situation is likely to be clarified by the happenings of today, for the time in which nominating petitions may be filed is becoming perilously short. The City Clerk will keep open house until midnight on Saturday for the receipt of eleventh-hour documents, it was stated yesterday. So far no petitions have been returned, although several are about ready for filing.

Yesterday the Prohibitionists secured a full set of blanks, and Frederick Freeman Wheeler, a cold-water candidate for the Council, took some in his own behalf. Others aspiring to be Councilmen and who let it be known yesterday are J. W. Roberts, Lon B. Rector, who is a member of the Muncipal Conference; Erwin Wunderlick of San Pedro, George Ringo, Col. W. H. McGoldrick, Louis D. P. Callahan and John Hay[illegible] Hayes is a retired contractor, a resident of the city for a quarter of a century, and he is credited with having the backing of the material men and contractors who feel that with so much municipal and school building in sight it would be well to have a practical representative of their crafts in the Council. Hayes lives at No. 1176 West Thirtieth street and his friends are busy in his behalf. They expect to have his nomination papers complete by today.

PROHIBITION PLATFORM.

At a meeting of the Prohibitionists held last evening at the party headquarters in the O. T. Johnson building, the following platform was adopted and campaign plans discussed:

"The Prohibitionists of Los Angeles, in presenting to the people of this city the names of certain citizens as candidates for public office, believe the conservation of the moral character of Los Angeles boys and girls and of manhood and womanhood is by far the most important issue before our city.

"We believe the city government should not be the largest partner in a business that places pitfalls and temptations before our young people and is sending men and women to death and destruction by the score.

"We stand, therefore, for the absolute prohibition of the manufacture and sale of all alcoholic liquors for beverage purpose and pledge ourselves, if placed in power, to carry out this declaration to the best of our ability.

"We believe in the completion of the aqueduct and the building of the Franklin Canyon pipe line to bring the Owens River water to the city at the earliest possible date. The development of the power system should be quickly completed to the end that a revenue from both water, light and power may be promptly forthcoming and thus reduce our taxes, now becoming onerous and burdensome.

"The work of building the harbor should be prosecuted vigorously that the city may be prepared for the trade and commerce destined to come this way upon the completion of the Panama Canal.

"In short, a clean, straightforward business administration, giving full attention to the moral, educational and city beautiful development, is our ideal, and we appeal to all those who agree with us in these standards to stand with us for victory at the ballot box at the approaching primary election."

COMMISSION FORM.

In line with the suggestion made several days ago by President Wheeler of the Board of Public Utilities that the heads of the several city commissions should stand for election on the Council in order to intelligently interpret Amendment No. 5, which requires that each Councilman take under his surveillance one-ninth of the city's business, a meeting was held yesterday afternoon at the office of the Utilities Board. Lorin A. Handley, heir presumptive to the chairmanship of the Board of Public Works; F. T. Woodman, president of the Harbor Commission; George McDill of the Police Commission; Frank Henderson, president of the Public Service Commission, and Frederick Freeman Wheeler were there.

The plan was discussed and it was agreed that it would be extremely desirable to have Councilmen serve in the dual capacity, but some of the conferees declined to commit themselves until they had given the proposition, which is in effect a step towords the commission form of government, further consideration. Wheeler and McDill are already candidates for nomination.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Assuming for the sake of an argument that there will be seventy-five candidates for Council by the time the bell rings Saturday night; ten candidates for Mayor; forty aspirants for the Board of Education, and ten possible City Attorneys, Auditors and Assessors, City Clerk Wilde's job for the succeeding five days will be cut out for him. Each candidate must produce at least 500 signatures that stand the acid test. These names and addresses must be checked with the great register. One hundred and forty-five times 500 is 72,500 names.

Not to have been "mentioned" in connection with a possible nomination for something just about elim-

JUMPS FIFTY THOUSAND.

Corner Sold Two Months Ago for Hundred and Twenty Thousand Brings Hundred and Seventy.

The northeast corner of Figueroa and Ninth streets, ninety-five feet on the former thoroughfare by 155 feet on the latter, was transferred yesterday by W. B. Merwin, A. L. Schwarz and R. A. Rowan to Meyer Lissner, the firm of W. B. Merwin & Co. acting as brokers in the transaction. The consideration, though not stated, is rumored to have been considerably in excess of $170,000. Lissner will improve the site for the present with a one-story brick "taxpayer," intending to build a more substantial structure at a future time.

The corner was purchased by Mrs. Susan Wilshire from Morris Levy of San Francisco about two months ago for a reported consideration of $120,000. W. B. Merwin & Co. engineering this deal also. A short time thereafter Mrs. Wilshire leased the property to the syndicate which yesterday sold it to Lissner, giving the three lessees at the same time an option to buy the site. The advance of the property in eight weeks was $50,000, or over $6250 a week.

Tragedy.

BRIDE IS SHOT DOWN AT PLAY.

Pretty Young Woman Killed in Mother's Home.

Friend Dodges Gun Which He Says Was for Him.

One Person Missing Who May Be Involved.

Mrs. Irene Smith, 21 years old, was shot through the heart yesterday afternoon in the parlor of her mother's home at No. 546 North Hill street. The assassin escaped after terrorizing Mrs. L. A. Eby, the young woman's mother, and firing several shots at Morris Bohanon, a roomer. The erring bullet was not intended for the victim whose life paid the forfeit, according to Bohanon's statement to the detectives immediately following the shooting.

"I was sitting with Mrs. Smith at the dining-room table playing cards when someone knocked at the front door," Bohanon said, "and she went to the door. The next thing I knew James J. Murphy, an uncle of mine, walked into the parlor with my sister, Mrs. Estelle Moore. I got up from the table and walked into the parlor, extending my right hand to shake hands with him. Instead of taking my hand he whipped a revolver out of his pocket and fired. I felt the bullet pass my face and instinctively I hit him as hard as I could, knocking the gun to one side. Seeing a chance to get away, I turned and ran as fast as I could out of the back door. He fired again as I was going out and I heard another shot after I got out of sight around the corner. I do not know which shot hit Mrs. Smith."

Mrs. Irene Smith,

A bride of four months, who was shot through the heart yesterday afternoon at her mother's home. The bullet is supposed to have been intended for her companion, a young man who escaped after a hand-to-hand encounter with his uncle, who is in the City Jail, accused of having done the shooting.

MOTHER PROSTRATED.

Mrs. Eby, who was prostrated with grief when she learned that her daughter was dead, spoke incoherently last night of the tragedy which robbed her of her child. According to her story she entered the dining-room from the adjoining kitchen just as the first shot was fired.

"I did not know anything was wrong when I started into the room," she sobbed, as she held a picture of her favorite daughter close to her bosom and refused to be comforted. "I heard someone talking and I just stepped into the dining-room. As I did so I saw a man, a stranger to me, with a revolver in his hand. I thought he fired at me, for the bullet broke a large mirror back of where I was standing. I don't know what happened then. When I regained my senses I saw my daughter lying in the parlor on the floor. I don't know of any trouble; I don't know why anyone should have wanted to kill her."

The police were not entirely satisfied with the story told by young Bohanon, although this story was substantiated in many essentials by the mother of the slain girl. The detectives are of the opinion that there is more back of the shooting than has been revealed. Granting that Bohanon and his uncle were not on good terms, as the young man contends, the detectives find it hard to believe that Murphy would have gone deliberately to the house and attempted to murder his nephew on comparatively slight provocation or none at all. Another thing the officers find hard to reconcile with the apparent facts is the statement as to the actual shooting of the victim. If, as Bohanon says, his uncle was shooting at him it appears unlikely that he

OPPORTUNITY TO SEE "ORPHEUS."

Through the combined courtesy of the Alexandria Hotel management and Mrs. H. F. Hayes, a guest of the hotel, an opportunity of seeing one of the masterpieces of the Renaissance will be afforded lovers of art.

Beginning Sunday, next, for three afternoons, from 12 to 5 o'clock, and three evenings, from 8 to 10 o'clock, "Orpheus," the most remarkable canvas executed by Leandro da Ponte Bassano, a celebrated Italian painter who lived from 1559 to 1623, will be placed on public exhibition.

Before leaving for the East, Mrs. Hayes, a long resident of Chicago, niece of the late Gov. John H. Grear of Iowa, was induced by Col. Ormsby and Mr. Parsons of the Federation of State Societies, to place "Orpheus" on exhibition for the benefit of the flood victims.

Voluntary contributions to the relief fund of the Federation of State and Provincial Organizations will be received.

Encouraged by the generous outpouring of yesterday and the preceding day, benefits of different kinds for the helping of the flood sufferers will continue all this week and next. The following will constitute this week's programme:

This afternoon, benefit performance of "The Easiest Way" at the Morosco Theater, Florence Reed in the leading role.

Tomorrow afternoon and evening the Mozart Theater will donate its net receipts to the relief fund. Many special attractions have been arranged for. A flat admission of 25 cents to any seat in the house is made for the occasion.

From 10 o'clock a.m. till 6 o'clock p.m. today the Garrick Theater will donate its entire receipts to the cause.

Tomorrow evening the Musicians' Protective Association will give a benefit dance at the Palms academy.

On Friday the pupils of the Egan school will give a special performance at the Burbank. Matinee.

Friday afternoon the Los Angeles Athletic Club will give a big benefit in the gymnasium of the new building.

The benefit which was to have been given at the Mason Operahouse on Friday night has been called off. Too many entertainments have been arranged for the same night.

Dr. E. P. Ryland, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Hollywood and vice-president of the Methodist Ministers' Union, received the following telegram to the members of the union yesterday from Freeman D. Bowman, San Francisco:

"Have received urgent appeal from the Board of Home Missions in behalf of the flood sufferers. Urge all our pastors to send their collections at once to the secretary of the board."

This means that the Methodist collections will be sent either to the general headquarters of the board in Philadelphia or to the San Francisco offices for re-shipment.

The Chamber of Commerce last evening reported a total of $14,779.39 in contributions and pledges to its relief fund. The contributions and pledges yesterday amounted to $919, of which $750 was in pledges. These new subscriptions were reported as follows: Cash, $5; J. C. Holland, $1; Mrs. A. E. Wiggins, $5; West Adams Presbyterian Church, $5; Mrs. J. S. Richards, $25; cash, $1; M. Lawrence, $1; C. E. Hodgson, $10; Arthur F. Gates, $5; Mrs. Kell, $5; C. H. Gibson, $1; Rev. John A. Jackson, $5.

A telegram received yesterday by the chamber from Gov. Cox of Ohio thanked the chamber for shipments and directed that further shipments be made to Col. Edwin T. Miller, Columbus. In compliance with this request twenty cases of clothing were shipped to Miller.

MILLION-DOLLAR HOME.

Los Angeles Ad Club Names Building Committee to Plan It—Dr. Wiley Tells About Advertising.

A million-dollar building for a home is now the goal of the Advertising Club of Los Angeles. Several propositions of this character have been made to the organization, and President Ernest Ingold has appointed as a building committee for the future consideration of the project the following: E. J. Boos, Jr., James R. H. Wagner, Charles Elder, Charles M. Andrews, Thomas B. Campbell and C. H. Mann.

It was announced at yesterday's luncheon at Christopher's that the two girls who were walking to San Francisco as representatives of the club were given a royal reception at Santa Barbara and were cheered on their way for ten miles by a company of boy scouts. They are to be received at San Francisco by the City Council, a brass band, an automobile parade and a regiment of infantry.

George M. Highland of Portland was present to invite the members to the Rose Carnival of the Oregon metropolis, the second week in June. Then Chairman Harold Janss introduced H. Jevne, who presented Dr. Harvey W. Wiley and the latter presented enough good points on advertising to fill a book. It is a great thing, he said, to tell the truth about what you have to sell and to know the truth about what you have to buy. In his opinion advertisements that prey upon the imagination of the people, suggesting that they have all manner of diseases and offering impossible cures, are the worst published because they go after the dollars of those who can least afford to spend them, and give nothing but added misery in return for the expense. Journals which have discarded every advertisement that is untrue or only half true, have found themselves well repaid in the good quality copy with which legitimate business has gladly furnished them.

In speaking of his position on the right of labor to organize, Dr. Wiley said he does not believe in forced idleness, strikes or violence. Since coming to California, he said, he has been inoculated with bacillus boostus, but he wanted to warn the people here that over-advertising the productivity of land and the capacity of the harbor is just as bad as advertising dry goods for sale at 49 per cent. below cost. Since coming West he has been shown the greatest harbor in the world in nine different cities, he said.

KEEP UP THE RELIEF WORK.

The need of the flood victims in the Middle West is still great and those who can are urged to make contributions for their relief as soon as possible. The Times will continue to receive such donations of cash. The list of pledges to the fund started by The Times follows:

Healthy Baby is Precious Blessing

To Make It Healthy and Keep It Healthy Use a Reliable Baby Laxative

In spite of the greatest personal care and the most intelligent attention to diet, babies and children will become constipated, and it is a fact that constipation and indigestion have wrecked many a young life. To start with a good digestive apparatus is to start life without handicap.

But as we cannot all have perfect working bowels we must do the next best thing and acquire them, or train them to become healthy. This can be done by the use of a laxative-tonic very highly recommended by a great many mothers. The remedy is called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and has been on the market for two generations. It can be bought conveniently at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, and those who are already convinced of its merits buy the dollar size.

Its mildness makes it the ideal medicine for children, and it is also very pleasant to the taste. It is sure in its effect and genuinely harmless. Very little of it is required and its frequent use does not cause it to lose its effect, as is the case with so many other remedies.

Thousands can testify to its merits in constipation, indigestion, biliousness, sick headaches, etc., among them reliable people like Mrs. M. Johnson, 752 Dayton street, Kenosha, Wis. She is the mother of little Dorothy Johnson, who was always in delicate health until her mother gave her

DOROTHY JOHNSON.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Mrs. Johnson says: "I never saw such rapid improvement in the health of any one. Syrup Pepsin is a wonderful remedy and I shall never be without it again." Thousands keep Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin constantly in the house, for every member of the family can use it from infancy to old age. The users of Syrup Pepsin have learned to avoid cathartics, salts, mineral waters, pills and other harsh remedies, for they do but temporary good and are a shock to any delicate system.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington st., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

CITRUS MEN'S FRIEND CALLED.

Fast Train Snuffs Out Life, Demolishes Auto.

Santa Fe Road Censured by Coroner's Jury.

Had Fought for Years for the Growers.

A. F. Call, attorney for the Citrus Protective League and the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, as well as one of the largest citrus growers in the State, was instantly killed at Corona at 7:30 a.m. yesterday when his automobile was struck and demolished by a Santa Fe passenger train. By his death the citrus industry of the State lost a man who was perhaps better acquainted with its legal problems than any other man in the country.

Call had been at his packing-house for a consultation with his foreman and had started across the track when his machine was struck squarely in the middle. He was thrown out and dragged for thirty feet. When his foreman, who saw the accident, reached his side, Call was dead.

Call, who was 52 years of age, came to this city fifteen years ago from Sioux City, Iowa, with his brother, Joseph F. Call. They were associated together in the practice of law until eight years ago, when A. F. Call moved to his farm near Corona.

BATTLE TOGETHER.

During the early years of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, Call & Call were attorneys for the exchange. About seven years ago Joseph H. Call retired from the position and from that time to his death A. F. Call was the legal adviser of the exchange. His connection with the Citrus Protective League as attorney is more recent.

Call was on the firing line for the citrus industry in both the orange and lemon-rate cases, as well as in many other famous cases. By the irony of chance his death occurred the day following the announcement of the Commerce Court's denial of the injunction sought by the railroads in the preceding-rate case, the last important legal battle in which Call was interested. Though untiring in his work for the citrus industries, Call never accepted a cent from the Citrus Protective League for his legal services.

Call leaves a widow, from whom he was estranged, and a brother in Sioux City, besides Joseph H. Call of this city. A son was killed by Indians in Mexico some years ago; another son died of typhoid fever.

In accordance with his expressed wish the body will be cremated. A memorial service will be held Sunday at Corona, but there will be no public funeral services, this being the desire of Call. The final disposition of the ashes depend on the desire of his brother in Sioux City.

SANTA FE CENSURED.

The Coroner's jury at Corona yesterday returned a verdict of accidental death, but severely censured the Santa Fe for running trains at illegal speed within the city limits.

"It is a hard blow to the industry," said General Manager Powell of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, in speaking of Call's death. "Call was not only the best-informed man in the country on legal matters pertaining to the citrus industry, but was an enthusiast on the subject and gave of his time and money to fight its legal battles. The past seven years he had been a party to every fight we have waged, and through his appearance in courts all over the country was perhaps the best-known citrus man in the country. Two years ago he appeared before the Ways and Means Committee in the tariff fight. This last year he prepared the brief in the tariff fight."

"He was as good a business man as he was an attorney," declared Secretary Wallachlaeger of the Citrus Protective League, "and his advice in business matters was sought often as his advice as an attorney."

DESERTION—REVENGE.

Woman, Abandoned, Tells Police of Crooked Doings of Husband and He Lands in Jail.

Failure to "tote fair" with his wife, who had nursed him through a long illness and worked to support him when he was unable to earn a living, brought Arthur Vaillancour to grief yesterday. On information furnished in a spirit of revenge by Mrs. Vaillancour, the police arrested Vaillancour yesterday and he is held at the Central Station on a burglary charge.

Mrs. Vaillancour told the police that her husband, who she says recently deserted her and her children, had in his possession somewhere a trunk and two suit cases filled with jewelry and fine clothing stolen from Los Angeles residences. The woman declared Vaillancour was in the habit of taking stolen watches and other jewelry and melting them in a hole in the rear of his home, No. 512 South Avenue Twenty.

Clothing and jewelry, part of which has been identified by Mrs. J. D. Pfeiffer, No. 3224 Pasadena avenue, were surrendered to the police by Mrs. Vaillancour. In the belief that much jewelry and clothing may be recovered if the trunk and suit cases are found, an order has been issued to the police to search all the roominghouses in the city.

SUPPOSED BANDIT SHOT.

Fighting a pistol duel near Stephenson avenue with an unknown antagonist late Monday night, Special Officer L. Johnson reported the affair to the Sheriff yesterday. In company with a deputy that official visited the scene of the shooting. There was a blood spot where the other man apparently, and stains along the highway showed where he crossed to the side of the street and evidently made for the vacant lot. The officer thinks the man was trying to hold him up. As he approached the officer opened fire. Had the other been an innocent citizen he would have made complaint to the authorities, argue the Sheriff's deputies.

TO HOLD REINVESTIGATION.

President Eshleman and Commissioner Loveland of the State Railroad Commission are to be here the 18th inst. for a reinvestigation of rates between this city and its harbor over the lines of the Southern Pacific and Salt Lake railroads. This reinvestigation is on the commission's own initiative. The hearing, as first announced, was to have been held next Friday. The hearing is to begin at 10 a.m. and will be in the Supreme Court rooms, in the Bullard building.

THE LOS ANGELES BUILDING COMPANY makes promises and fulfills them.
THE LOS ANGELES BUILDING COMPANY is the little giant of the Building Companies that is to be one of the big giants in the building business in Los Angeles. This little giant is growing every day.
One million and a half shares of Common and Preferred Stock have been sold to nearly one thousand investors.
The pictures reproduced in this announcement tell an interesting story of progress and growth of the LOS ANGELES BUILDING COMPANY.
In the lower picture is President Potter and Secretary and Treasurer Wilson of the company breaking ground for the first bungalow on the Company's beautiful tract at Alhambra March 6, 1913.
This might certainly be called rapid building—and so it is—a twenty days' building operation.
We ask the Stockholders to visit our Alhambra tract on South Granada Avenue, where two one-half solid blocks of artistic bungalows will be built among the orange groves.
Mr. W. S. Terry is always at the property. He is there to sell bungalows—he is there to talk with stockholders.
THE LOS ANGELES BUILDING COMPANY has plenty of cash on hand and bills receivable, which includes Stock subscriptions amounting to close to $100,000.
Its tract is one of the most desirable around Los Angeles, and in our estimation THE most desirable in Alhambra. It is certainly a garden spot, situated as it is, right in ten-year-old orange groves, and South Granada Avenue lined with Peppers and Eucalyptus, and facing the snow-clad mountains.
This Company has fulfilled all its promises. A month ago it said to its prospective investors of our Preferred Shares that these Shares would be advanced to 10 cents. This Company made good and advanced its Preferred Shares to 10 cents. Today it still makes good by withdrawing the 10-cent price on its Preferred Shares.
When our first ten bungalows are sold and our first dividend paid, the Preferred Stock will be offered again at a much higher price, probably 15 cents or higher, and only a limited amount will be sold at these new figures.
This does not mean that the stock will be taken off the market. We always want a market for our shares, but it does not mean that no further Preferred Stock will be sold at 10 cents, and the next offering will be at a higher price.

On March 6, 1913.

NOW COMES AN IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT ON THE COMMON STOCK OF THIS COMPANY.
These shares are to be advanced to their par value, 10 cents. Shares can be bought now at 5 cents, to be positively advanced to 10 cents.
Here is an opportunity to make a 100 per cent. investment. Buy now at 5 cents, and when the shares are increased to 10 cents, it means 100 per cent. profit.
This Company keeps its promises. It hasn't a dissatisfied Stockholder. It is using its money for building. You can see these operations by taking the Alhambra car at the Pacific Electric Station and riding out to Alhambra, getting off at South Granada avenue.
Shares can be bought now at 5 cents on the cash basis or the payment basis.

HOPES JINX IS GONE.

Man-about-town Long Pursued by Ill Luck Thinks April Fool's Day Dispelled Spell.

Norman Manning hopes to remember yesterday—April Fools' Day—as one which broke the jinx which seemingly has followed him remorselessly for the past two years.

Manning, a native son, social favorite, crack athlete and well-known man-about-town, has had enough misfortune in twenty-four moons to fill a book. He thought the worst had come three months ago when somebody made a getaway with his fine new Peerless automobile. He never saw the car again; neither did the police.

Fate was not done playing tricks, however, for last Friday, while making a fast drive from San Diego to Los Angeles to attend a dance at which he was to be the host, he lost a purse containing $45 and a diamond stick pin worth $700. He had not the remotest idea where he dropped the wallet, but he telegraphed officers along the line as a matter of form.

Manning received a telegram yesterday from the constable at Escondido, saying that a woman found the purse on the road and that he was mailing it to him in care of the Bankers' Club, of which Manning is a member.

For the future, Manning says, he intends to carry insurance against loss, even if it is necessary to organize a new company that will assume that kind of a risk.

Faith and Works.

[London Chronicle:] Walter Alchin's story of the prize fighter who knelt to pray in the ring before the contest recalls the case of Bendigo, the champion boxer, who became an evangelist. He carried his prize ring traditions into his new profession, however. Being informed that a certain man was an atheist, he asked:

"What's that?"

He was told "a man who doesn't believe there is a God."

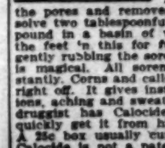
Lillian Russell's Warning, Sore Feet: Bad Health



Lillian Russell is a physical wonder. Now in mature years, but having preserved the fresh beauty of youth. In the Chicago Tribune she says: "Care of the feet, hardest worked members of the body, is absolutely essential to health. Irritation from sore feet often causes serious nervous disorders, and nothing brings face wrinkles quicker." Here is the best treatment known to science for all foot ailments. It works through the pores and removes the cause: Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of warm water. Soak the feet 'n this for full fifteen minutes, gently rubbing the sore parts." The effect is magical. All soreness disappears instantly. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off. It gives instant relief for bunions, aching and sweaty smelly feet. Any druggist has Calocide in stock or will quickly get it from his wholesale house. A 25c box usually cures the worst feet. Calocide is not a patent medicine. Don't waste money on uncertain remedies. Insist on getting what you want from the druggist.—[Advertisement.

FOR WOMEN AND MEN.

Facts, Features and Fancies

BY OLIVE GRAY.

Have you ever thought how keen and observing are the makers of women's clothes. How closely they must watch the trend of fashion? They must prepare for coming changes and must in effect be seers, in order not to be left behind by the progressive stream. Then, too, when a certain style in dress takes possession of the feminine world, it gives rise to certain other styles or accentuates certain other features of dress. For instance, the present model of the slit skirt makes necessary the use of fine hose, as these ankles are more exposed to view than they have ever been. Instantly the manufacturer sees the possibilities in this mode and, presto! There is soon the market a silk hose embroidered; and not only that, but embroidered with brilliants. You know these will instantly find popularity. I saw the first shipment recently in the dressing-room of one of the big stores. There were several different styles. One was embroidered upon the front in floral effects, another, more striking still, had the effect of being encircled with a jeweled bracelet. A third, and one which I especially liked, was clocked with brilliants. The quality of the hose was the very best of silk and the colors are most popular of the season. Another novelty in hose made to meet the same requirement of dress, was of extremely open mesh, really lace in appearance. This is to be worn over a contrasting color, giving the two-toned effect which is so much sought. Of course, pumps will be the footwear selected for use with these hose and the buckles, if the choice is for Colonial pumps, will be brilliants to correspond with those used upon the stockings.

A Handy Set.

A set of handy kitchen spoons, all made from aluminum, is on sale in one of the big Broadway stores for less than usual price. There is every needful one, from the largest for making cake, to small tea sizes for measuring and including several for especial purposes.

The High Cost of Lunch-box Living.

I thought, as I yesterday observed the newly-devised lunch-box shown in a Broadway store, that it is after all largely a question of the luxuriousness of living which makes the cost so high. This especial lunch-box is fitted with a thermos bottle in a compartment, so that in putting up the lunch for the daily laborer there will be not only the usual foods, but also a drink of coffe or tea or, if preferred, a drink ice-cold for use on a summer day. Not many years ago such an equipment would have been considered impossible. At present it is somewhat of a luxury. Not many from now it will be deemed a necessity.

Helps for Housework.

The Good Housekeeper has made another discovery. She says that when she cuts onions, she wears a pair of close goggles and finds that her eyes do not smart and she does not weep. She also uses the same protection for her eyes when she sweeps and in pouring into the sink or basin any sort of fluid or powder for disinfecting. This is a protection to the eyes. In using some kinds of powder she also ties a cheesecloth over the nostrils and mouth. Such precaution is certainly wise when using chemicals whose ingredients may be injurious to inhale.

Their Politeness.

An instance of the unfailing politeness of the Japanese was shown recently in a touching way, as I heard the story. In one of the high-class boarding furnishing houses on Broadway, the little child of one of the Japanese elevator operators passed away and the girls in the business office showed their sympathy by sending flowers to his house. The very next day, they each received a finely written and well-expressed letter of thanks for their kindness. How few Americans long enough forget their self to think of thanking those friends who have remembered them in their sorrow. Eventually, they may impress themselves, but not at once certainly. I think we may take over a lesson in genuine politeness from the stranger within our gates.

Some Books.

The really good housekeeper—the one who never neglects anything which she should do, keeps accurate accounts of all expenditures. This may seem a task, but when she becomes accustomed to it, the satisfaction will more than overbalance the trouble. I find in a Broadway store, expense books especially arranged for household accounts and costing but a few cents.

Leader of Work.

In an article in a current magazine it is clearly set forth that under normal circumstances it is the business of the housewife to see that many of the public utilities are propagated on, since they are in reality doing the work which was formerly that of the housewife. Whereas, formerly, the housewife filled oil lamps and trimmed wicks, she now simply turns up the flame. Whereas, formerly the coal and the wood box dominated the kitchen, the gas jet does its work in a tidy and convenient manner. The steam laundry has taken the place of the washtub. Many homes are supplied wholly with bread from the bakery, and many canned products make light the work of cooking. It has been pointedly said: Most of the household work has been delegated to man, and our housekeeping is a matter of public utilities. The paragraph of the interesting magazine article of which I speak, runs: "Months of the business of running a home today is the business of keeping the public utilities, and to see to it that we get the best service for the least reasonable cost for all of all our households." Thus the matter of home-keeping becomes one of politics.

The Emergency Shelf.

The housekeeper who always keeps an "emergency shelf" for the unexpected company likely to arrive too late for luncheon or dinner hour for preparation to be made, will find canned soup which is ever ready, for great service. The following is bottled and kept for many months: Chop fine one "clove" of garlic, one red pepper, a bay leaf, a bit of parsley, thyme, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one table spoonful of salt, and pour over them one quart of best cider vinegar which has been scalded and is still boiling hot. Seal in a Mason jar and when wanted for a hurried French dressing for a salad, nothing save olive oil need be added.

To Piece Out.

If you find that your blankets have shrunk during the process of laundering, and are too short for the bed, they may be pieced out at the foot with heavy unbleached muslin. This will answer to tuck beneath the mattress and will in nowise detract from the warmth or comfort of the blankets.

Children's Surprise.

At a recent party given for little ones at the beach, a sand pile was used as a surprise "shower." Many small toys, such as sand shovels, rubber dolls and wee buckets were hidden in the sand, and the children were told to dig for them. They entered upon the novel "mining" with great glee and each "find" was hailed with shouts of happiness.

Fashion's Sign-Post.

Many evening gowns for summer are in beaded or spangled effects.

Bright colors are combined with white or black in almost all garments.

Bright-colored bead bags will be carried with the new spring costumes.

Brocaded silks and chiffons are used for some of the richest new parasols.

Colors are as bright in petticoats as in gowns, and that is saying a good deal.

The sleeves of nearly all suits are long and set in with an armhole seam.

The present short close skirts make the shoe question a most important one.

JUST A LITTLE TIME.

That's What Republican Party Needs for Readjustment, Says Colorado Politician.

A. M. Stevenson, "Big Steve" they call him in Colorado, the Republican politician, who was a power at the national convention in Chicago last year, is registered at the Lankershim from Denver, his home.

"Watch the present administration; see what it accomplishes; give the warring factions of the Republican party a chance to shake hands individually on the street, before you try and get them together in a convention. The Democrats will fight among themselves," said Stevenson.

"There are today serious breaks and splits in that party and it is only a matter of time before they become open. The factions in the Democratic party are as numerous as those in the Republican. Wilson is a very sane man, one who knows well how things are going along, and I hope that he will be able to continue the country in its present prosperity; but he will have a difficult time to keep things on an even keel, with the different elements that are fighting for their own measures within the party.

"The old line Republicans have nothing to fear for the reason that this party has stood at exactly the same place on various occasions. What is needed is a little time for readjustment and for the old-time men to take up some of the new reforms and policies that are demanded by the people. The Progressive party has nothing to live for. It holds no large offices, has no tangible organization, and today the Progressives in all parts of the country are fighting and squabbling among themselves, which means early dissolution for the organization they have."

Stevenson is here looking up some land cases in which he is interested as an attorney. Incidentally, he joined his family, his wife and daughter, who have been passing part of the winter here.

Lots of young fellows who insist on "just the latest curve" in clothes think that the only way to get what they want is to pay absurdly high prices to get them made-to-measure.

It isn't the only way; it isn't even the best way. Even where economy isn't a consideration, these young men would do better to buy our $25 suits; they'll find at $25, ready, more style, better quality, tailored-to-fit, than they expect, or get, by paying $10 or $15 or $20 more, made-to-measure.

If you feel that $18 or $20 is enough for your pocketbook to pay, you'll find our clothes at those prices. You may want to pay $35 or $40; we make them.

The best way to prove this is to try it; that doesn't cost anything. Our guarantee is back of our statements, as well as our clothes.

TO MAKE FIGHT FOR WINERIES.

ONE SUPERVISOR DETERMINED TO AID INDUSTRY.

Believes Vineyardists Shouldn't Be Compelled to Bring Product to Los Angeles and Ship from Here. Opposes Shipment of Liquor to Dry Districts.

"When Supervisor Pridham returns I will take up with him the plan to amend the law regulating the sale of liquor and the application for renewal of winery licenses," said Supervisor Butler yesterday. "In the case of the Sierra Madre Vintage Company, for example, the concern cannot roll its barrels of wine across to the freight depot, a few yards away, but must first bring the wine to Los Angeles on trucks and ship from here.

"I believe the law should be amended also so that persons living in dry districts cannot come here, order intoxicants and have them delivered to their places."

The board is now placed in the position of permitting grocers and liquor houses here to ship intoxicating liquors to any part of the county, provided the actual order is made here and not by telephone or letter. At the same time the board refuses vineyardists an opportunity to crush their grapes and make California wines except the latter go to the expense of hauling their product to Los Angeles and ship from here.

Supervisors Norton and Manning apparently take the position that the drastic county ordinance is law at the present time, and that they must take the law as it is found.

Inasmuch as the Appellate Court has found unconstitutional a county ordinance in a northern district, which is similar to the liquor law in this county, according to a number of lawyers the wine men will undoubtedly seek relief in the courts.

At the meeting Monday Chief Deputy District Attorney Hanna was present with a proposed ordinance which would have prevented the wiping out of the vineyards of the county. It was intended at the same time to satisfy all but the sternest prohibitionist. But the board refused to take up the matter.

In the opinion of traffic men the vineyards will be destroyed and a business running into millions of dollars annually in the county will be blighted by the action of the Supervisors, Butler alone standing out for some measure to prevent confiscation.

LEGS WORK ALL RIGHT.

Supposed Victim of Railway Accident Declared Hoaxer by Wife. Jailed for Non-Support.

William Berry is in durance vile after trying to elicit some sympathy from his wife by telephoning a fictitious message to the effect that both of his legs were cut off by a Santa Fe train. At the time Constable Hayes was looking for Berry, wanted to answer to non-support charges filed by his wife.

The good-hearted constable urged Mrs. Berry to go to San Bernardino, where the husband was supposed to be dying. Arriving there Mrs. Berry found it was a hoax. Hayes redoubled his efforts to catch the man and yesterday got him. Berry will remain in the County Jail until his examination before Justice Forbes.

—New Shareholders
Added to Gibraltar in the Week Ending March 31

This shows that our prediction is being verified—"that in less than 30 days" you will not be able to buy treasury stock of Gibraltar. We announced on Sunday, March 23rd, that we were going to become a close corporation as soon as the limited amount of preferred stock remaining in the treasury was sold—that our operations were proving so very profitable, and the sale of this stock with the amount subscribed would amply finance all that we had undertaken and what we contemplated for the future. We do not wish to divide the profits from these operations among any greater amount of shares than our present authorized amount of preferred shares and shareholders necessary to accomplish this.

The addition of 475 new shareholders in one week is the strongest possible endorsement of the position we have taken. This enlargement of Gibraltar's forces—this increased business, is the logical reward of a company that has made very profitable investments due to an experienced executive management.

Specializing as we do in Olive Nursery Stock, we quote the suggestion, "If you think there is no money in olives, go now and try to buy some of the nursery stock"—

With over 11,000,000 olive trees being propagated and grown in our three World's largest olive propagating plants, Gibraltar is foremost in the production of olive trees.

The olive has the most brilliant future of any producing tree. The next ten years of the olive industry will exceed the past ten years of citrus growth, and will require approximately 200,000,000 trees to supply the demand.

When the last of the apportionment of preferred shares have been sold, the books close for sale of treasury stock.

The limited amount of stock now in the treasury is being reduced rapidly day by day and, judging from the amount we have sold since we announced the final offering of stock, we will

HOT STUFF.

We regret to see that some of the new art is breaking into the American magazines. But maybe it will teach the people what not to buy.

A GOOD NAME.

There may be something in a name after all, as Orange county is making fine citrus fruit shipments to the East at this time with entirely satisfactory results.

HEROES ALL.

Now that Washington Park has been given the right start for 1913 the public will rightfully be more interested in Hap Hogan than in Huerta, and in Pop Dillon than in Felix Diaz.

WOODROW'S FRIEND.

Senator Works means to reintroduce his bill to give Woodrow Wilson and all future Presidents a six-year term. It is no wonder that local members of the pie brigade are afraid of the Senator's influence at court.

PROUD OF IT.

The people from Dixie foregathered at the woman's club building Tuesday evening for a big hand-shaking. Those southerners are so bent on hospitality that if they can't show it any other way they get out and give a reception to themselves.

GOING UP.

A Long Beach man bought a lot a few years back for $700 and sold it Monday for $125,000. His town was a village of a few hundred when he purchased and a city of 30,000 when he sold. Long Beach is so near Los Angeles that it cannot help getting on.

CONVENIENT.

A clever man in Pasadena has taken about three hundred of the Spanish and Italian names in common use throughout California and has published a booklet giving their correct pronunciation and their meaning in English. Some of our oldest inhabitants would do well to get a copy and practice.

THE FINEST EVER.

If you have not yet made up your mind as to what flower makes the prettiest bouquet you ever saw gather a handful of quince sprays in full blossom and place them in a deep vase on the center table. We think you will agree with us that the quince bloom has few rivals in the contest of loveliness.

NOT ON THE MENU.

At the Home Products banquet the managers failed to serve imported bachelors with California-grown brides, which is the best article produced in the State. This oversight is accounted for by the simple fact that those who eat California products will live forever and marriage will no longer be essential to the perpetuation of the race.

A BAD HABIT.

Quite a number of the dinner clubs in this city, and their name is legion, are falling into the custom of eating a dab of cold ham and a slice of bologna, followed by a little black coffee or ice cream, and calling it a lunch. We don't care what the editor of The Care of the Body would say about this, but we here and now declare that such is not our idea of food.

CLEARING HOUSES.

One item of news from flood-stricken Dayton, in spite of the pathos, brings a ray of sunshine into a dark place. Says the report: "Those who had no homes left to clean cheerfully assisted those who had." In other words, the more unfortunate cheerfully helped the less unfortunate. Does not this bring out the difference between Christianity and socialism? Christianity teaches that the poor may help the rich just as the rich may help the poor; socialism urges the poor to prey on the rich lest the rich prey on the poor.

In a Christian community there is no class and no need for communism. We have in our common humanity a bond strong enough to prevent hatred and injustice. One touch of nature makes the whole world kin; one taint of socialism makes the whole world envious. The American people prefer kinship to jealousy.

A WORD FOR THE TURK.

While the whole Christian world is rejoicing that the cross in Eastern Europe is triumphing over the crescent, perhaps the unspeakable Turk is also deserving a little sympathy from the American people. We always admire the under dog if he fails fighting bravely. We prefer a good loser to a poor winner.

In the Balkan upheaval the spirit shown by both the victors and the vanquished must compel admiration. Could one-half the story of suffering and misery endured by all the brave fighters on both sides be adequately told, sorrow at the horrors of the war would drown in tears the jubilant rejoicing at the results.

Even in England, where success is so worshiped that the means of obtaining it are sometimes lost sight of, a writer has been moved in a satirical verse to put in one word for the poor, beaten Turk.

"So while the twilight falls upon the twice betrayed,
The Daily Mail tells England and the Daily News tells God
That God and British statesmen have made the Turks afraid.

WHEN NATURE SPEAKS.

When nature speaks all other voices are hushed or unheeded. In sickness and suffering there is no place for the tenets of socialism to prove the equality of all created beings. J. Pierpont Morgan, as great a power, now that the world is ruled by commerce and finance, as were Alexander and Caesar and Napoleon when the world was ruled by military conquest, is, in the presence of the great leveler, as impotent to help himself as he was once powerful to control others. "But yesterday the word Caesar might have stood against the world;" and today? And tomorrow?

"Oh, but they say the tongues of dying men
Enforce attention like deep harmony;
Where words are scarce they are seldom spent in vain,
For he breathes truth that breathes his words in pain."

The words of dying men, as a matter of fact, have generally little connection with their life work; words that enforce attention are breathed in strength and vigor. If pain produces truth, then the truth is that our mortal bodies are still our chief concern.

Knowing the versatile business ability of the world's greatest financier, we may be sure he has provided against the day of paying that last debt that neither millionaires nor paupers can escape. His worldly affairs will be left in such condition that no disturbance or panic shall result in the business world from his inevitable end. No man of action or purpose ever relies on a death-bed settlement or a death-bed repentance. In Mr. Morgan's case there will be no need for either.

Everyone who came into personal contact with this user, but never abuser, of power speaks of his lovable personality. His patriotism was undoubted; if he enriched himself he also enriched his country at the same time. America is better off because Mr. Morgan was one of her sons. Kings and emperors were proud to be numbered among his friends.

And yet in his mortal sickness, as he approached the long silence, nature was stronger in him than money or position or power or prestige or a world-wide responsibility. The last recorded request of the man who could make or unmake kings was "to have his limbs massaged." Pathos? Yes; but with a world of human nature in it.

INCREASE OF REVENUES.

In 1901-2 the total revenues of California from taxation were $7,688,675. In 1911-12 they were $21,445,997. Arizona increased from $564,486 to $1,192,350. Nevada increased from $399,750 to $994,882. Oregon increased from $1,222,537 to $3,752,940. Washington from $2,399,982 to $8,757,748; Idaho from $456,773 to $3,814,985; Wyoming from $414,989 to $2,457,617.

The only States showing a decrease were Florida from $1,791,896 to $1,368,306, and Tennessee from $2,632,386 to $1,132,900, though concerning the latter State the statistician appends a note that the returns are "both antiquated and dubious."

The footings from all the States show an increase of from $189,165,859 in 1901-02 to $461,066,224 in 1911-12.

"If to this gigantic total," says the monthly magazine, Waterways and Commerce, "which is merely State and not municipal taxation, is added the annual appropriations of the Federal government, which now exceed $1,100,000,000, the cost of our government for a single year is $3,405,000,000, or nearly $200 per family of five persons, with every tendency to increase. In 1911 the population of our forty-eight States was 93,792,509 persons. The tax burden, therefore, is no less than $38.50 per capita, establishing a record in public expenditure which no other nation on the globe approaches, or presumably, is anxious to emulate.

"Canada's Official Year Book records that during the past three years nearly 400,000 persons, mostly farmers and their families, quit the United States to settle there. Some may have sold their lands in the States; others must have abandoned them in silence, with the sacred associations that surrounded them; and all must have felt that nothing but dire necessity had urged them to such a step.

"This sinister movement has been attributed to the desire for cheap lands in Canada. But, as there can be no advantage in abandoning improved lands for unbroken ones, relinquishing what you already own for what has to be purchased, there must be another and deeper reason. This is surely in the ominous pressure of a tax system that levies over $200 a year upon the families of the fleeing emigrants."

FORCIBLE FEEDING.

Miss Zelie Emerson of Detroit, Mich., inspired by the same noble sentiments that brought Lafayette to our shores and carried Byron to Greece, journeyed to London to aid the militant suffragettes there in their appeals to the reason and conscience of the men of England by a letter-acidizing, window-smashing, grease-pot-throwing, fire-bug-promoting, dynamiting, breeches-stripping campaign.

Miss Emerson had been trained in her American home in calisthenics. She was able to precipitate cobblestones against the windows of government buildings with an accuracy of aim and force of impact that no English-born woman could emulate. For activities in justifiable window-smashing Miss Emerson was haled before a British Dogberry, who condemned her to sixty days' incarceration in a dungeon cell with which no telephone communicated.

Miss Emerson, with the same noble impulse that animated the breasts of heroes and martyrs in every age, resolved to aid the cause of suffrage by catching pneumonia. She sponged herself all over with cold water and remained uncovered all night.

But all in vain. Her splendid physique was unaffected by her experiment. The hot American blood boiling in her veins would not suffer a British pneumonia to approach within reaching distance.

Then she determined on a hunger strike. Dr. Tanner had exhibited the ability of a mere man to go without food for forty days without other incentive than the demonstration it afforded. Could not a woman do as much for the sacred cause of woman suffrage, especially when the woman needed to reduce her avoirdupois, anyhow?

So Miss Emerson disregarded the stirabout and Yarmouth bloaters and tea that were offered her for breakfast. She scorned the cold beef and toast and bitter beer brought into her cell for luncheon. She kicked over the soup, and meat and vegetables, and plum pudding set before her for dinner. She was out for the position of head martyr in a starvation campaign.

For three days did she baffle the efforts of the myrmidons of George the Fifth to induce her to take nourishment. Then the power of the British Empire was invoked and she was forcibly fed. The process by which this was done is not stated in the cablegrams. It may have been accomplished by pumping soup down her throat, or by immersing her in a bath of chicken or beef broth, or by the more subtle process of auto-suggestion—hypnotizing her into the belief that she was a churn that must be filled with cream.

Leading authorities on international law such as the Baroness von Hengervar Hengenmuller (how is that for a name?) and the Baron von Horst have declared that under the law of nations as expounded by Vatel and Puffendorf, forcible feeding of a foreigner is illegal and constitutes a ground for interference by the American government in behalf of the right of Miss Emerson to starve herself without obstruction from the officials of the effete despotism of George the Fifth.

Let John Bull beware. Because there are Anglomaniacs among us who are willing to yield to the demands of Sir Edward Grey that we turn over the management of the Panama Canal to him, it does not follow that we will submit to British interference with the sacred and inalienable right of Miss Emerson to aid the cause of woman suffrage by starving herself. It is a right for which her fathers suffered and bled and died. It is a right gained by the sword of Washington, and the pen of Jefferson, and reaffirmed by the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Federal Constitution.

Rather than allow that right to be invaded President Wilson is expected to twist the tail of the British lion until he tears it from its socket. He is expected to send a fleet of dreadnoughts (as soon as we can build them) to desolate the shores of Albion and teach England that she must never again interfere with the right of an American maiden to starve herself to a skeleton in a British jail.

OUR CANNED GOODS.

When the completion of the Panama Canal shall reduce the cost of transportation from California to the Atlantic and Gulf coasts from $30 to $10 per ton there will be an enormous increase in exportation of canned vegetables and fruits from this Coast.

It is claimed that the canned products of orchards and fields are superior in freshness and flavor to all others. They are gathered in the right condition of maturity and it is but a few hours until they are prepared, canned and cooked. Each day's picking is put up before beginning anew, and after the food is cooked in the airtight can it is absolutely protected from change.

"The introduction of labor-saving machines," says a Boston journal, "in place of the old slow-going hand methods, has greatly reduced the expense of canning and has increased the supply of canned food enormously. A hundred and fifty workers will put up from 120,000 to 160,000 cans per day of the number two size cans. Fruits and vegetables which used to be grown in patches or orchards are today grown by the hundreds of acres and all safely preserved in season at a moderate cost."

In the glorious climate of California canneries can be kept running the year round, for planting can be so arranged that every day from January to December will be a harvest day. The home kitchen, however well equipped, cannot compete with the canneries in economy and perfectness of preparation. As in the last century the farmer carried his wheat and his corn to the country grist mill and carried home the flour and the meal less the miller's toll, so the day is close at hand when he will carry asparagus, and beans, and beets, and peas, and green corn, and spinach, and tomatoes, and squash, and apples, and apricots, and grapes, and plums, and figs, and peaches, and berries of all kinds to the canneries and receive them canned at less cost than the empty cans would cost him if he did the canning on the ranch. By this process he has his crop compacted into a merchantable condition salable the next day, or the next month, or the next year for market.

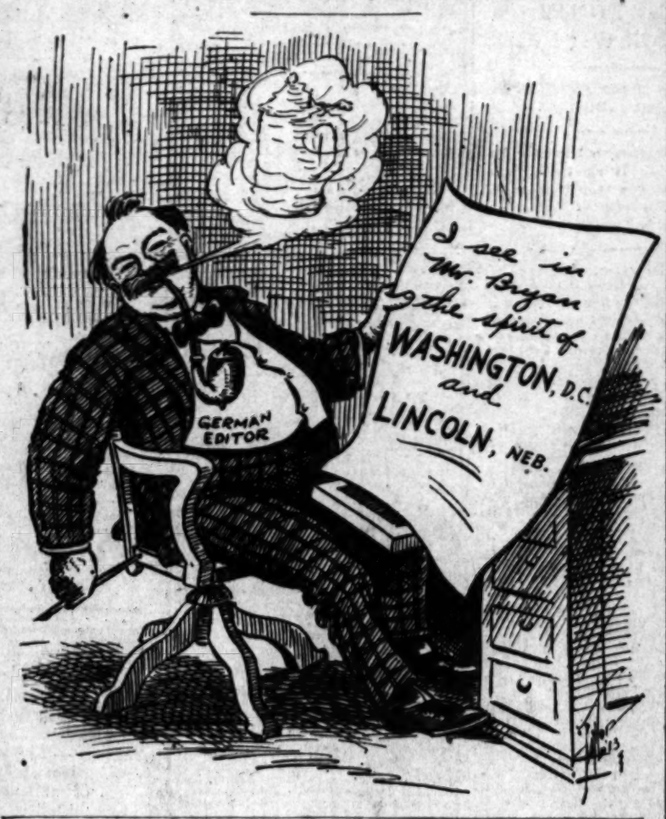
A comparatively recent addition to the list of canned vegetables is pumpkins. This packing is done at the canneries only, for the home kitchen cannot provide the extreme heat necessary for cooking and sterilization, and the smooth, silken texture and uniform consistency characterizing high-grade canned pumpkin can be produced only with the swiftly revolving fine screen finishing machine used in the modern cannery.

The farmer who once piled away his winter supply now hauls the pumpkins all to the canner and in exchange for a part of them takes home a year's supply of the canned goods.

A writer for an eastern paper says: "While watery pumpkin is the abomination of every good cook, it must be borne in mind that an extremely dry product is procured only by excessive evaporation, which process is bound to detract from the virgin flavor of the fruit. Neither should one light in color be chosen. This often betokens the presence of fruit insufficiently ripened, which gives the article a characterless flavor. A happy medium in these things is therefore to be sought."

Canned fish and meats of all kinds we have. Canned milk and canned cream are preferred by many people to the article fresh from the cow. Oysters and strawberries, butter and eggs, shad and oranges and cucumbers have thus far defied the canners to preserve their flavor. But anything that is better cooked than raw will be told, to paraphrase the language of Hamlet, "Get thee to a cannery, go."

Probably What He Meant.



A NOBLE WOMAN.

She is polite to her own children.

She never makes a weapon of her power to be disagreeable in order to gain her own way.

She is low voiced.

She never dresses conspicuously.

She never reads the letters of other people, nor repeats what she has heard of other people's affairs.

She is true to her convictions, firm in her self-respect, faithful and unchanging in her love, gentle in her manner, unobtrusive in her relations to others, and the more intimate one becomes with her the more one esteems her.

In a word, the false aristocrats are they among whom familiarity breeds contempt; the aristocrats of the spirit are they who, the nearer you come to them, and the more closely you know them, the more highly you hold them.—[Dr. Frank Crane in Woman's World.

Suffragette Opinion.

[Washington Star:] "All men were created equal, were they not?" asked Mr. Meekton.

CHIVALROUS REFLECTIONS.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

One of the nicest young men I know has been deploring the fact that if women will persist in taking up suffrage and all that sort of thing, chivalry is bound to die out. He is very chivalrous himself, so I expect he knows.

Now, sisters, let us pause ere we do this dreadful thing. Can we, I ask you, do without chivalry? Think what it means.

For one thing you may conceivably be allowed to get in and out of street cars all by yourself. Think how you will miss that manly grasp just beneath your left elbow and that fascinating little shove at the precise moment that you essay to hold the rail. You miss it, of course, and the conductor and your chivalrous friend exchange a kindly glance of manly tolerance for your feminine ineptitude. The second time of trying you succeed in gripping that rail by a strenuous effort of pure animal strength in spite of your chivalrous friend's splendid endeavors to the contrary, whereupon he smiles with conscious pride and satisfaction. His glorious manhood has protected and assisted your feminine weakness.

Instead of all that, if you will persist in taking up suffrage and all that sort of thing, you will in future be allowed to swing yourself lightly on the car without any extraneous aid. It will make you feel unpleasantly independent, disgustingly able and healthy, dreadfully degraded.

And think how distressing to be allowed to cross a road without assistance. Of course you have to do it now between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. on week days while hubby is at business. But think how dreadful to have to do it on Sundays and holidays too. No fine, strong grasp upon the upper part of your arm, no wild sensation of being steered through a howling jungle, no narrow escapes and breathless gratitude. Just calmly walk across unaided as though it was a common week day! Oh, unthinkable!

And then just supposing we are some day let in for opening doors for ourselves and fetching chairs. Ye gods, how ghastly! Then, indeed, will our degradation be complete. Of course, we do that sort of thing occasionally now when there is no splendid male around to hop up and do it for us, but we don't quite like it to be known. It isn't exactly decent. Such vulgar, unwomanly capability is rather shameful.

That seat in the street car, too. I begin to see the whole essence of the woman's movement sitting in that seat. Can we, my sisters, forego the sublime chivalry of the offer of that seat? Does our whole future status in the good graces of chivalrous men depend upon our ability to exact that seat under any and all circumstances? It would seem so.

In defiance of all tradition I tried a bit of chivalry myself recently. Men like it, thought I, so perhaps we women ought to demand some of it for our own use. It has been an exclusive male privilege too long. So I picked out a tired, cross-looking male straphanger on the car. (I wasn't doing the thing in a really manly way, because, of course, he ought to have been young and handsome to really deserve my chivalry.) "Take my seat," said I in my best suffragette manner.

After a moment's hesitation, during which the poor man was haunted by his traditions, he said: "All right, I guess I will, thank you, miss." But he could not repress a blush when he sat down. Of course he was blushing for my unwomanliness. But I rather enjoyed myself. Do you know I can't help being sorry chivalry is an exclusively masculine prerogative. You have no idea how jolly it feels to be chivalrous.

Why, of course. Perhaps that is why men are clinging so anxiously to the chivalry idea—it is they who miss it most. It will be quite disgusting not to have anyone to be chivalrous to. Chivalry, like mercy, blesses him that gives and him that takes, but mostly him that gives. The taker is apt to experience an odd indefinable sense of being patronized.

Then again masculine chivalry has enjoyed many privileges. It could be discriminating and many a man has been able to build up a glorious reputation for chivalry by merely cultivating a discerning eye. Do you suppose, for instance, that he will leave off reading the paper at breakfast time if we promise to forego suffrage?

How truly awful if chivalrous men should leave off raising their hats to us. This hat-raising business has got into our very marrows and I am sure no refined woman could ever do without it. It is the outward and visible sign of inward chivalry—the only tangible thing we can cling to which assures us of male respect. A man may lie to us, cheat us, betray us, indeed his whole behavior may be unspeakable, unthinkable, and we can endure it all with far greater equanimity than if he once failed to raise his hat to us on one of the set occasions.

I can well remember the thrill of importance it gave me when, as a school girl, a grown-up man first raised his hat to me. It was the most interesting thing that had ever happened!

And last week I experienced the same sensation because a man failed to raise his hat to me. It was an important business meeting and he had it on when I entered the office. He greeted me as he would a man and entered straight upon the matter in hand without remembering his hat. He was immensely chagrined when he remembered it later and flooded the air with apologies, but in some vague way I was conscious of a feeling of gratitude that for once my sex had been honestly forgotten and I was subjected to the same unchivalrous treatment that men accord to men. (Oh, no, he really did not mistake me for his wife.)

Horrible confession for any decent woman to make. I would not let my nice young man friend know for the world. He might think I was a horrid, capable, unwomanly creature upon whom chivalry was wasted. He might even think I believed in woman's suffrage. Then I'd be sorry.

What Did She Mean?

[Exchange:] A retired clergyman tells a good story on himself. He used to officiate occasionally as a vacation supply in a suburban church. One Sunday he was accosted by an old lady, a housekeeper in the employ of a friend.

"I want to tell you, sir," said she, "how much I enjoy going to church on the days that you preach."

The clergyman said he was very much gratified to hear it.

"Oh, sir," she added, with appalling candor, "I get such a good seat then."

[Life:] Professor of Biology: Are there any more questions on this subject?

Pen Points: By the Staff

Why not send George Primrose or Lew Dockstader as Minister to Dahomey?

Something to worry about—Bibb Graves is mentioned for assistant Secretary of War.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels is said to be a vegetarian. If so he now confines his diet to navel oranges.

President Wilson is quoted as being opposed to "riders." Does this include those who use the bicycle?

It is all right for Los Angeles to have a municipal orchestra, but who will sit in the second-fiddle row?

It is now claimed that sea sickness is merely a matter of imagination. Is dyspepsia in the same class?

A grandson of Longfellow is a street car conductor in the East. Was not the job of "Village Blacksmith" open?

No wonder American women are the best dressed in the world. Look what the milliner's and dressmaker's bills are.

Isn't it about time to proceed with the post-mortem on the Sick Man of Europe? Why this delay in the obsequies?

A national convention of plumbers has been called to "elevate business," it is declared. But don't they mean prices?

It is now claimed that the new nickel is useless from the fact that it is impossible to tell which side is heads and which tails.

It is probable that the late Gen. Hancock's view that the tariff is a local issue will be vindicated by the Democratic Congress.

Julian Hawthorne, the convicted mining promoter, will be eligible for parole from Atlanta in a few months. But his trouble will not be ore.

A man up-State advises the eating of pie three times a day. He has reached the age of 93 on that diet. But of course they are not cafeteria pies.

There ought to be a drop in the high price of living since the new style dresses have appeared. It is not necessary to button them up in the back.

Among the other legacies left by the Taft administration is the surplus of $11,000,000 that will be in exhibition at the close of the fiscal year, June 30, next.

One thing, there is never such a stress of storm, fire and flood that wireless messages cannot be transmitted from the scene of devastation. No danger of the wires being down.

In spite of the fact that the Democrats are in power the price of T-bone steaks has not dropped to 10 cents a pound. Is there no balm in Gilead even under the reign of Woodrow Wilson?

Something ought to be done to ameliorate the grief of the Hon. Obadiah Gardner. But then much should be forgiven, for it isn't often that a Maine Democrat gets a chance at the public crib.

Dr. Seller of Philadelphia advocates Sunday baseball with a prayer to open the game, but even that would not save some teams that we know of. But we are mentioning no names, mind you.

Secretary Sephas Daniels is not after additions to the navy. He is likely to have himself read out of the Democratic party. And how will that fit with the Bryan peace policy?

A number of the Bull Moose members of the lower house declare they will not ally themselves with a third party, but will support the administration of President Wilson. More grief for the Sage of Oyster Bay.

When the average man deserts lobster, broilers, fresh mushrooms, asparagus, fine roasts and steaks for chuck steak, corned beef and cabbage, the high cost of living will be at least partially solved. The high cost of living, however, must be eliminated, and that appears to be out of the equation.

It does not appear that Champ Clark is so finical about appointing members of his own family to soft things in Washington. His son, who has been named to a fifth place in the House, would likely have been given the position of Ambassador to London if the balloting at Baltimore had been different.

Will the Republicans in the Senate unite to prevent the confirmation of the Wilson appointments? If they do the Democratic-Progressive combine have only themselves to thank for the precedent they set when they stood out against the Taft nominations. It is a long lane that comes home to roost.

Supervisors in Star Chamber Session About Librarian Permission to Employ Cataloguer.

After a two-months' delay, Miss Ce... B. Gleason secured permission from the Board of Supervisors yesterday to employ a cataloguer in the County Library. Supervisors Butler, Manning and Hinshaw voted in favor of and Shaw against the plan.

The board acted behind closed doors. Presumably this was done to prevent any possible dissensions from becoming public property. Miss Gleason declined to discuss the situation afterward.

Supervisor Butler was franker than his associates.

"I believe Miss Gleason is a competent librarian,' said he. "There is no reason why we should not accept her recommendations in good faith. If this county is to have a library, the librarian must be able to work effectively. There is no reason for handicapping the position."

The cataloguer will be Miss Julia ... of this city, who once worked at Pomona College library, and later in the State library at Sacramento. The position pays $100 a month.

Concern Which Operates Thirty-four Stores on Pacific Coast Makes Big Plans Here.

Due to the growing business of the Sherman Music House in Southern California and Arizona, A. H. Eliers, treasurer of the concern, which operates thirty-four stores on the Pacific Coast, came from Portland yesterday to complete plans for the incorporation of the Los Angeles Eilers Music House, which will take over all the stores in the Southwest. Eilers, who is president of the new concern, will make this city his home and plans to extend the company's business to Nevada and Utah.

"In the Southwest we are growing so rapidly that the business could not be adequately handled by the parent company," Eilers declared. "We decided to organize a new company and take over the stores in Los Angeles, Pomona and San Diego, as well as a number of the affiliated stores in Arizona. This will be done as soon as we have incorporated."

Some Remarkable Artistic Work Is Seen on the Bodies of Missionaries as Well as More Humble People.

[Tit-Bits:] Although the practice of tattooing is expressly forbidden in the scriptures—for in Leviticus it is said, "Ye shall not make any cutting in your flesh for the dead, nor print any marks upon you"—the custom of decorating the skin with religious subjects seems to be steadily growing. According to a London tattooing artist, he is often called upon to tattoo hymns, texts and copies of famous religious pictures on the bodies of religious enthusiasts, as well as other symbolical designs.

A well-known bishop has upon his right arm a representation of the sun of righteousness and a cross crushing the head of a hideous dragon typifying sin, while a young clergyman has a picture of a skull with a snake thrusting its head through one of the eyesockets and a radiant butterfly flitting away, symbolical of death and eternity.

The head of Christ crowned with thorns is carried about the wilds of Africa on the chest of a stalwart missionary, and a lady who devotes her time to church work bears an anchor, a cross and a heart—faith, hope and charity.

One of the most remarkable examples of tattooing of religious subjects is that provided by the case of an engineer storekeeper on one of the White Star liners. He has, perhaps, the most wonderfully tattooed body in the world. From his neck to his waist line he is covered with pictures and inscriptions. Displayed on his body is a wonderful piece of the tattooer's artist's work. It is nothing less than a faithful reproduction of Leonardo da Vinci's picture, "The Last Supper."

The greater part of his body is taken up with tattooing of a religious nature. On his back are the Lord's Prayer and the hymn, "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

There is also a lady who has had Leonardo da Vinci's great picture of "The Last Supper" tattooed on her back, the picture being produced with marvellous fidelity; which reminds one that some time ago a woman entered a well-known London hospital, and the nurses discovered that the upper part of the right arm was entirely occupied with a pictorial representation of "The Rock of Ages," while on the lower part of the arm was the scene of the Crucifixion.

Perhaps the most extraordinary tattooing idea ever carried out was that of a coachman, who, at the time of the Dreyfus trial, had his body and legs covered with no fewer than thirty illustrations of the leading personages. Together the work occupied nearly two years, three months being devoted to a picture of the terrible ceremony of degradation, when Dreyfus was stripped of his decorations and uniform.

It is interesting to note, by the way, that quite a number of members of European royal families bear tattooed marks. The Grand Duke Alexis of Russia, for instance, is most elaborately tattooed; likewise his cousin, the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha. The Queen of Greece and the King of Sweden are also tattooed. On his left arm Prince George of Greece has a wonderful representation of a flying dragon in many colors. One of King George's arms bears a similar device, and Prince Francis of Teck has upon his right forearm a curious picture of a frog leaping for a fat beetle.

...E MAN IS EATABLE.

The Papuans Say Human Flesh Never Gives Them Indigestion. People Eat Their Own Relatives.

[T. P.'s Weekly:] The Papuans who hear the coast are finely built and, differing from the pigmies of the interior. They are cannibal, and the author tells some horrible tales concerning them. In 1858, when the Carl was wrecked, 300 Chinamen were cast upon an island near Yule. Here they were fed and fattened by the natives, who carried off two or three at a time, to the pot. There they were boiled and eaten. The Milne Bay tribes not only kill and eat human victims, but eat the dead bodies for that purpose. Some prisoners of war are roasted or speared and devoured for food. A more inhuman practice is to eat them alive. It is said by the natives that human flesh never gives indigestion, being much preferable to roast pig. As to whether the cannibal chiefs obtains along the Mimika, the author is not prepared to say. He does, however, that at Bonarua he saw a native dug up her recently buried child and entertained a friend upon the corpse. This gave rise to indignation in the village, the husband regarding it as a precedent likely to have bad results.

Cooking as a Fine Art.

FOR WOMEN HOMEKEEPERS.

FASCINATING TALK ON A FASCINATING ART.

Open House and Free Lessons Three Days in the Week, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, in Afternoon, Second Floor New "Times" Building.

This is "canned foods week," observed the country over when hundreds of thousands of retailers, grocers, jobbers and manufacturers in practically every city and town in the United States are making canned fruits, vegetables, fish, milk and meats their sales features. That's why Mrs. Haffner-Ginger used so many canned things in her demonstration Monday afternoon—the canned hominy and peaches, the tinned tea and all that.

Sometimes we have a "raisin day" you know, when everybody in California makes raisin eating the serious business of life and all the Fresno grape growers go around with happy and contented smiles on their faces. So this week, it is up to housekeeepers to take advantage of this national canned foods campaign and stock up. Probably there'll be some tempting bargains offered. Ask your grocer about it.

That Fancy Icing Class.

The eight women who took the lesson in fancy icing last Saturday afternoon express themselves as delighted with the results.

"I'd no idea I could learn so much about what looks like such a difficult undertaking, and accomplish so successfully the feat of making those lovely flowers," said one enthusiastic pupil who publicly testified at Monday's lecture.

Some samples of the work done by the class were passed around through the audience. There were a couple of little cakes decorated—one with violets and the other with tiny roses—that were greatly admired, and then huge cake, iced and decorated with exquisite Cherokee roses, the petals falling over the edges of the cake in the most natural way imaginable. That cake certainly was a wonder of artistic beauty—but it developed that, after all, under this exquisite icing there was no real cake. It was simply a large pan turned upside down and decorated and, for teaching purposes it filled the bill admirably but, if one was planning to devour that cake it turned out to be an April Fool affair, for no one could cut through an enameled pan.

Mrs. Haffner-Ginger announced that she would give another opportunity to instruct pupils in the art of making the dainty flowers and gave the details. Any one interested can telephone Mrs. Haffner-Ginger and she will explain the terms. She proposes to give five lessons in fine cake making and fancy icing at a rate that will appeal to those cooks who want to specialize in this direction. There are now a few vacant tables in the school kitchen, the first instalment of pupils having finished their private lessons and any who wish to join should make their applications as soon as possible.

When Cream Won't Whip.

"The other day," said the cook lady as she rapidly moved the dasher of the cream whip, "a woman called me on the teelphone. She was full of trouble; she was getting ready for a luncheon, or tea, or some sort of function, and she said her cream absolutely refused to whip stiff, and what should she do? In the midst of her perplexity someone had suggested that she 'ask The Times cook lady.' I told her to put some gelatine with the cream and it would come out all right."

"How much gelatine?" asked someone in the audience.

"Well, I should say use half a package of Knox's gelatine to a quart of cream," said the cook lady, and she went on to tell just how to do it.

Today's Demonstration.

At this afternoon's lecture, Mrs. Haffner-Ginger announces that she will cook a dinner which will correspond with that breakfast that she served to the lucky Iowans on Monday. The State—barring Illinois, Pennsylvania and Iowa—which has the largest number of representatives present will win the dinner.

It has been suggested that, at some time, the southern women—all those who were born south of Mason and Dixon's line—compete with the foreign-born women in the audience. While there are many southern women in the audience every day, their territory covers so many States that those coming from any particular one make too small a representation to have much hopes of winning the prize and they think this pooling of interests and pitting themselves against Canada and foreign countries might give them a chance.

For Information.

Mrs. Haffner-Ginger's office hours in the Times Building are from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. For information about free lectures or the school kitchen courses phone Mrs. Bertha Haffner-Ginger, Main 8200 or Home Phone 10391.

National Canned Foods Week

To Housewives, the Country Over!

Dealers, grocers, jobbers and manufacturers during this week will participate in a GREAT SALE OF CANNED FOODS to prove to millions of housewives the purity, cleanliness and quality of these low-cost foods. We want you to try an assortment. See what you can save.

Use Canned Foods a month. Serve them daily—fruits, vegetables, fish, meat and milk. You can serve them in hundreds of forms and ways deliciously appetizing. See, at the end of each week, what you save on the high cost of living. They are ready cooked. They save money on fuel. All these foods are the purest foods produced.

The Highest Authorities

I had written for perhaps ten years warning American women against canned foods. I said, put them up at home or go without them. I beg them now to use canned foods. We are proud to have them on our table.
MARION HARLAND.

For seasons of natural shortage, for periods, places and times when fresh goods are not available, the canned goods fill a most important place in the modern dietary, and the wholesomeness, palatability and convenience of the products are in most instances unquestionable and under modern conditions of life they are filling a larger and larger need.
DR. HARVEY W. WILEY.

These canned goods were essential to the subsistence of the troops in the Philippines who were scattered through the islands and subjected to unsanitary conditions and surroundings. But the general good health of the army there, especially during cholera and plague epidemics, when canned goods were principally used, was primarily due to the variety and wholesomeness of the canned foods.
BRIG.-GEN. HENRY G. SHARPE,
Commissary Department, U. S. A.

There can be little doubt in the mind of anyone who has visited a modern canning factory where fruits and vegetables are being prepared for the market, that the product is actually cleaner then when prepared in the ordinary home kitchen.
MRS. NELLE D. CHENOWETH,
Formerly of Household Science Dept., University of Illinois.

Heat at 250 Degrees—The Only Preservative

We use only heat as a preservative, with sometimes a savor of sugar or salt. Our canneries are close to our supplies. Usually not more than four or five hours pass from the time these foods are taken from their natural surroundings until they are sealed in the cans and sterilized at 250 degrees, ready for the market.

They are fresh when we can them—and just as fresh when you open them as the day they were prepared. They are perfectly pure, clean and wholesome. They are even served to convalescents in hospitals, because physicans know that canned foods are absolutely protected from the dirt and contamination to which the so-called fresh fruits and vegetables are exposed.

What Dr. Wiley Writes

Look in your newspapers during Canned Foods Week for articles by food specialists—by Dr. Wiley, Marion Harland and others who know Canned Foods and their values. These people recommend Canned Foods because of their purity, flavor and healthfulness.

Then See Your Dealer

Then go to your dealer and get an assortment of Canned Foods to serve for a month on trial. Do that and you'll always serve them. You'll please the whole family. You'll save on your bills. Dealers everywhere this week are making Canned Foods their SPECIAL SALES FEATURES.

Go see your dealer. See his assortment and choose what you like best, to try.

would have accidentally shot the young woman who had admitted him to the house. On the other hand if it was his intention to kill his nephew, it appears unlikely that, failing in this through the latter's escape, he would have turned the weapon on the young woman.

IMPORTANT FACTORS.

The presence of Bohanon's sister, Mrs. Moore, whose address is given as No. 1047 North Hobart avenue, and her subsequent disappearance are factors that enter largely into the consideration of the unusual case. This feature is explained in a way by Bohanon, who told the officers that Murphy had for some time past been seeking to discredit his nephew with his own people. Following their investigation at the house the detectives took Bohanon with them and started on a search for Murphy, whose address was given as No. 5740 Bandera street. He had disappeared, but last night, accompanied by his attorneys, Behymer & Craig, he went to the Central Police Station and surrendered. He is now in the City Jail. A revolver with three chambers recently fired was found upon him. Murphy refused to talk.

The police are now seeking Mrs. Moore. They believe she is deeply involved in the strange case. Diligent search last night failed to disclose her whereabouts and she may have left the city.

Bohanon, who says he is an insurance agent, comes of a good family and has been boarding and rooming for some time at the residence where the tragedy occurred. From what he said following the shooting it appears that he was a friend of Mrs. Smith, whose husband, Walter Smith, a printer, is in El Paso. The uncle, according to the story, objected to his nephew's associations for some reason and wrote to Bohanon's relatives censuring him severely.

"LOT OF LIES."

"I found out that my uncle had written a lot of lies about me to my folks and so I made him face Mrs. Smith and confess that the things he had written were not true," Bohanon said. "I told him if he didn't take back what he had said and tell Mrs. Smith they were lies I would thrash him. That is the only cause, so far as I know, for the shooting."

Mrs. Smith, according to her mother, who is a widow, had been married only four months. The mother denied any knowledge of ill feeling between the young wife and husband and said that on the contrary Smith has been sending his wife plenty of money and their relations were the best. The daughter had been married previously, having secured a divorce from her first husband, whose name was Mattis.

A pair of brass knuckles found in the yard by a street sweeper after Murphy had escaped were identified by Bohanon as similar to a pair owned by his uncle, who is understood to have been at one time a peace officer of some kind in Minneapolis. Living at home with Mrs. Eby are two younger daughters and a son, Will, 25 years old. She also has a married daughter, Mrs. Lenora Franklin of Oakland. The family has lived in Los Angeles two years.

LONGEST ELEPHANT'S TUSKS.

Magnificent Ivory Obtained From the Animals of Equatorial Africa Which Are Rapidly Disappearing.

[Tit-Bits:] It is the ambition of most big game hunters to bag a good "tusker"—an elephant with exceptionally big "teeth," to use the sporting term—but that ambition is seldom realized nowadays, for elephants, particularly those of record age and size, are becoming more rare every day. Indeed, it is stated that the African elephant, from which the finest ivory is obtained, is doomed. It has practically vanished from South Africa, and is being slowly exterminated in other parts of the country. This extermination has been brought about by the great demand for ivory nowadays.

Only a few years since a single large firm of billiard ball makers used in a month as many as ninety-five pairs of tusks. Thus to supply this single firm no fewer than 1140 elephants suffered death annually. And the demand for tusks may be gathered from the fact that about 300 tons are sold in London alone during the year.

The consequence is that the chance of a big game hunter's coming across such an elephant as that shot by Maj. Powell-Cotton in the Congo State eight years ago, the tusks of which weighed 372 pounds, is very remote. These were the finest pair of elephant's "teeth" ever secured by a white sportsman, although they are not the heaviest on record. The heaviest pair of tusks ever secured are to be seen in a museum in the United States. One of the tusks measures ten feet, four inches along the outer curve and scales 235 pounds, and the other, which is an inch or two less, weighs 225 pounds, giving a total of 460 pounds.

The second of these tusks is eclipsed by one to be seen in the British Museum collection. It measures ten feet, two and one-half inches, is twenty-four and one-half inches in circumference and weighs 226 pounds. One of the longest tusks on record was that in the possession of the late Rowland Ward at one time. It measured eleven feet, five and one-half inches over the curve and scaled 150 pounds. Its fellow measured eleven feet in length and weighed 143 pounds. The pair now enrich the American National Collection.

Sir Edmund Loder is the possessor of a very fine single tusk, which measures nine feet, five inches and weighs 184 pounds. In 1911 W. W. Greener, the Haymarket gunmaker, had in his window a wonderfully even pair of "teeth," which scaled just over 184 pounds apiece, had a widest circumference of twenty-five inches and an extreme length of eight feet. They made a very fine second to Maj. Powell-Cotton's splendid pair.

A remarkable tusk in the possession of Graham Pownall, which came from Uganda, measures eight feet, five inches, has a circumference of twenty-three and one-half inches and scales 175 pounds. These instances will give some idea of the magnificent ivory produced by the elephant of Equatorial Africa. It might be mentioned that the average weight of elephant tusks is about fifty pounds apiece.

OPERATIONS FOR APPENDICITIS.

The Time Was When Such a Treatment Was Accompanied by Personal Danger to the Surgeon.

In a recent issue of the California State Medical Journal, Dr. John C. King gives an account of a case of appendicitis which he attended thirty-two years ago and which illustrates the change that has occurred during that period in the attitude of the profession toward the disease.

"In the summer of 1880," says Dr. King, "I was called to a case of what we then called peri-typhilitis. An abscess formed and the patient became very ill. I requested a consultation with a view to operation. The consultant, an able man of large experience, decided that an operation was unjustifiable and advised ointment of fodide of potassium well rubbed in.

"Forty-eight hours later, feeling that an operation was imperative, I sent to Cincinnati for a well-known surgeon, a professor of surgery in a college there. Upon examination, he declared the man would die under any circumstances; that he would not risk his reputation by operating; that aspiration of the pus was the only good surgery demanded. (He kindly offered to send me an aspirator.) The patient was becoming septic, so, after another forty-eight hours, I insisted upon opening him. He gave consent.

"I asked a number of physicians to give ether, but although several of them had anesthetized patients for me for other purposes, none would give ether in this instance, deeming it improper to attempt an operation. I finally told the man to get another doctor; that I felt he would die unless the pus could be removed; that none of my friends would assist me in doing what I thought needful. He replied that I could go ahead without an anesthetic; that he could stand it if I could.

"The patient's brother had threatened to kill any one who would attempt to cut him; so, while his wife stood guard at the door, I cautiously opened the abscess. It was difficult to realize that what we now deem so simple and necessary a procedure should then have been considered so absolutely wrong. The tension in the abscess was such that the pus spouted up not less than an inch when the knife reached it. I evacuated all I could and dressed the wound.

"'Before my return the next day one of my colleagues, a leading man, visited the patient, unbidden, moved the dressing and examined the wound, notwithstanding the protests of the wife. He declared the man would die; that I had been guilty of malpractice; that he would be glad to be called upon as a witness in the prosecution that he knew must follow; that he had taken the liberty of examining the patient before death with that end in view.

"A year ago Dr. T. B. Wright of Pasadena brought to me a message from the patient, Col. M. V. B. L. of Circleville, O., to the effect that he was still living. This story is amusing and almost incredible now, but thirty-two years ago it meant a real battle for a very young and fairly ignorant surgeon."

SEEKING POTASH SUPPLY.

Government Making Tests in Desert Lake Beds, Especially in the Panamint Valley and in Nevada.

[Indianapolis News:] In connection with the search for potash in the West which is being made by the United States Geological Survey, a great number of localities have been visited by the survey geologists, especially in the Great Basin. Shallow desert lake beds, so-calley dry lakes or playas, are extensively distributed throughout this region. Most of these playas contain salts to a greater or less extent, and nearly all these salts show on analysis from 1 to 4 per cent. or more of potash. Few of these lake beds show evidence of having ever been submerged to a considerable depth, and the deposits that lie in the lowest parts of most of them are probably only alternating strata of clays and saline muds, with thin salt crusts produced by periodic flooding and drying up.

Large and massive deposits of crystalline salts can hardly be expected except as the result of the drying up of a very extensive and deep saline lake, or as representing the continuous accumulation of saline matter in a water body during a very long period of time. Record of the existence of such lakes in prehistoric times is to be found in certain parts of the Great Basin region. Contrary to the general assumption, however, the extensive lake basins are in fact relatively few. It is evident, therefore, that the search for the important salt bodies of this type has of necessity been narrowed to a relatively few localities.

The areas in Searles Lake and the Panamint Valley, California, of public land withdrawn from entry on account of their potash content, are the lowest parts of two ancient lake basins, whose waters at their highest stage probably connected through a narrow strait. Both basins were filled by overflow from the drainage of Owens River and in both the salts are believed to have accumulated by natural concentration of the normal drainage waters from that source.

The salt body in Searles Lake lies at the surface of the ground and was located in claims for the soda it contained before interest in potash had been seriously awakened. The mud flat that forms the bottom of the Panamint Valley has recently been located in "potash" claims, but without any evidence that can be taken to indicate the existence there of a valuable saline mass. The salt that rhows on the surface in the Panamint Valley is relatively insignificant in amount, and tests for potash in the surface salts or ground of the Panamint Valley when it dried up might have deposited a bed of salt as large or larger than that now existing on the surface in Searles Lake.

The Panamint Valley is relatively narrow, and the streams from the rugged mountain slopes that border it have spread their fans far into the center of the valley. Drilling, possibly to a considerable depth, will be needed to test the possibility of buried salt deposits in this valley, and if such deposits are found to be present it is believed that they will be essentially like those of the Searles deposit.

Columbus Marsh, Nevada, is the evaporated pan of a shallow lake. Analyses of clays obtained in this deposit have shown some exceptionally high percentages of potash. No important beds of clear crystal salts have yet been found in the marsh, and the possible commercial value of such a deposit still remains a subject for further investigation. Pending such work these lands also have been withdrawn from entry.

SHORT COURT TRIALS.

A British Court in Less Than Three Minutes Tries a Pickpocket and Gives Him Seven Years Sentence.

[Tit Bits:] In these days of criminal trials long drawn out it may not be uninteresting to glance back at a time when, in England, at least, complaint ran in the opposite direction. Such were the earlier years of Queen Victoria, when the old criminal code still survived in much of its archaic barbarity, and the picturesqueness of legal procedure inadequately compensated for its cruelty.

The late Lord Brampton, better known as Sir Henry Hawkins, refers in his Reminiscences to the scandal of what he calls the "after-dinner" trials of that period. It was then the custom for the court to adjourn for dinner at 5 o'clock, at which time there was no lack of conviviality; so that when Bench and Bar returned to their duties they were in no mood for protracted toil.

In Lord Brampton's own words, "Judges and counsel were exhilarated and business was proportionately accelerated." In confirmation of this he notes that these "after-dinner" trials did not occupy, on an average, more than four minutes apiece, and in illustration, cites an actual case, the paltry nature of which, contrasted with the enormity of the punishment involved, throws a lurid light on the inhumanity of the times.

The case was that of a pickpocket, in which the prisoner had, inconsiderately, pleaded "Not guilty," and therefore had a right to be heard. We may quote Lord Brampton's account, beginning with the examination of the witness for the prosecution by the prosecuting counsel.

"'I think you were walking up Ludgate Hill on Thursday, the 21th, about 2:30 in the afternoon, and suddenly felt a tug at your pocket and missed your handkerchief, which the constable now produces?'

"'Yes, sir.'

"'I suppose you have nothing to ask him?' says the judge. 'Next witness.'

"Constable stands up.

"'Were you following the prosecutor on the occasion when he was robbed on Ludgate Hill, and did you see the prisoner put his hand into the prosecutor's pocket and take the handkerchief out of it?'

"'Yes, sir.'

"Judge (to prisoner:) 'Nothing to say, I suppose?' Then to the jury: 'Gentlemen, I suppose you have no doubt?' I have none.'

"Jury: "Guilty, my lord.'

"Judge (to prisoner:) 'Jones, we have met before; we shall not meet again for some time. Seven years' transportation. Next case.'

"Time: Two minutes, fifty-three seconds. As this seems to be a 'record,' it is only fair to add that the judge's name was Mulrhouse."

BOXER'S DEATH.

BAKERSFIELD, April 1.—The Coroner's jury which investigated the death Saturday night of Jack Martin, who died soon after being knocked out in a boxing match by Charles Bartole, rendered a verdict justifying exonerating his opponent, and Bartole was discharged from custody.

Physicians testified that Martin's heart was ruptured by the excitement of the contest and that Bartole's blows did not injure him.

NEW JERSEY'S "SEVEN SISTERS."

MAY SERIOUSLY REDUCE THE STATE REVENUE.

President Wilson's Final Legislation Will Probably Cause Corporations to Leave the State and Necessitate Assessment of Taxation Where None Has Been Heretofore.

[New York Journal of Commerce:] Howard K. Wood, president of the United States Corporation Company, which makes a feature of incorporating new companies and filing charters for them, declares that as a result of the recent passing of the so-called "Seven Sisters" bills by the New Jersey Legislature many corporations will drift away from that State to others and that in the end, New Jersey will lose annually a large amount of revenue now derived from taxation of corporations. He also believes that stockholders in New Jersey companies will lose many millions in the next five years in litigation.

Such corporations as remain in the State, he asserts, will have to operate under decisions of the courts instead of their board of directors.

In an interview with a representative of the Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin, Mr. Wood, who has made a study of the "Seven Sisters" bills, yesterday said:

"While in the incorporation of business enterprises as in the sale of their products, the lines of least resistance are followed, corporation are organized by their promoters and are managed by their directors for the purpose of legitimate profit to the stockholders and not for the purpose of evading laws or practicing dishonesty.

"The corporation being a fabric of the law, the organizers and operators are bound to go to the State offering the greatest advantages in simplicity of organization and management, when they procure from the State the charter under which they hope to conduct a successful business. By advantages I do not mean opportunity to evade legal requirements.

"Any number of States, in 1896, when New Jersey codefied her corporation laws, had statutes of greater liberality so far as the possibility of evasion of requirements was concerned, and where for trifling fees, as compared to the New Jersey organization fees and annual taxes, a corporate organization might be obtained. The New Jersey law was a masterpiece, and it was due in large part to the understanding of the necessities of business as transacted in corporate form by the men who drafted and evolved the law from a careful study of the English companies act. These men were the late James B. Dill, William H. Corbin, Allen McDermott and others. A great number of corporations having enormous capital and transacting business all over the world went to New Jersey for their charters because of the clearness and workability of the law, and not because it was either cheap or permitted evasion. The annual taxes were fixed and determined by the law, and there were none of the uncertainties with reference to operation that so hampered the corporations of other States. Whatever evils may have arisen in the conduct of their affairs by the great industrial corporations operating under New Jersey charters, these evils are not due to structural defects in the New Jersey corporation act.

"New Jersey has been in a unique position. She has been one of the few States that did not have to worry over plans or schemes to raise revenue. She had an income that was very large, that more than paid the expenses of operation of her government and which was derived chiefly from taxes paid by corporations. It would have seemed the part of wisdom to have extended such form of supervision over her corporations as to have corrected any evils that existed from time to time, and that would have assisted her corporations in the legitimate conduct of their business.

"Corporations operating under New Jersey charters, whether they be large or small, are now faced by a series of statutes that up to the present time no officer or lawyer representing a corporation with whom I have talked has been able to clearly understand and determine just how a corporation can operate hereafter in New Jersey, or how it will be affected by the changes referred to.

"In other words, for a series of years such New Jersey corporations will remain in the State, and, we believe, that a great many of them are taking steps to secure charters under the laws of some other State, will have to operate under decisions of the courts instead of decisions of their board of directors. I believe that not only New Jersey has lost a revenue which has been most enviously regarded by other States will she realize that a mistake has been made and that a policy of remedial legislation was possible without the destruction of her corporation business.

"I believe it will be found at the end of five years that the amendments of 1913 have cost the stockholders of New Jersey corporations many millions of dollars in litigation and reorganization fees and that the State of New Jersey will have decreased her revenue derived from corporations by more than a million dollars yearly."

It's First Use for Wealth.

[Saturday Evening Post:] E. F. Swinney, president of the First National Bank of Kansas City, was born in the South. He goes back home once or twice a year and it is part of the home-coming programme to have Uncle Mose polish his shoes. Old Mose prides himself on the fact that he has never "Misteh Eddie" since he was knee high and "his daddy befo' him."

When Mr. Swinney was there recently Mose was polishing his shoes, stopped and asked:

"Well, Mose," Mr. Swinney replied, "I have seen ten silver dollars, haven't you? Now, imagine ten of those stacks and you have a hundred dollars. Then ten times that and you have $10,000, and 100 times that would have a million."

"Misteh Eddie," continued Mose, greatly troubled, "would all them silver dollars go on the table yondah?"

"No, Mose—not if they were piled to the ceiling. What would you do if you had a million silver dollars, Mose?"

Mose stopped shining. He pondered a minute. Then he said:

May Name Mayor Today

inates the unfortunate from the ranks of the political 400, but not all of them break into the mention column as freely as City Attorney Shenk, who has been at various times during the past week a "mentionee" for Mayor on the Municipal Conference ticket, on the Earl ticket, on the Alexander ticket and for a renewal of his present job on the Conference ticket. Shenk is back from Sacramento and may be heard from today. He is a good man for any job, anyway.

Guy Eddie, the former City Prosecutor, appears to be taking a great interest in the forthcoming Good Government ticket. The suggestion was made yesterday that Eddie for Mayor, running on a platform of "vindication," would be about the ideal thing for the Oxpress.

S. C. Graham, who would alienate the Owens River water from Los Angeles for the benefit of towns miles away, and at an expense to the city of many millions of dollars, is another favorite G. G. candidate. Graham has a "huuch" and says he won't run. It's hard times in the Earl camp, whose deserted streets resound to pin-dropping and the tweet of the lone swallow doing his little best to create the impression that "summer has came."

C. C. Johnston was trumpeted a few days ago as the only candidate for Council to come out of San Pedro. Harmony with a capital H is the word that blew in from the outer harbor, and then Charles A. Adair and Erwin Wunderlick spilled the beans. Now San Pedro has a trio of favorite sons.

J. S. Conwell, the auto candidate for Council, has a full-fledged campaign committee, a press agent, and all the fixin's. He says he will take the hill on the high with never a bobble or blowout. Honk! Honk!

Frederick Freeman Wheeler and Fred C. Wheeler are both out for Council. A regular old-fashioned two-Wheeler.

MURDER AND ROBBERY.

Aged Fresno Man Goes to Assistance of Son and Lookout for Bandits Slay Him.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FRESNO, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rushing around the corner of his store to aid his son, who was being held at bay by robbers, W. B. Quick, an aged grocer of this city, was shot and killed tonight in the outskirts of the city by the robbers' lookout. The robbers made their escape in a stolen rig, which was found later in another section of the city. Hobo camps are being raided by the officers and suspects arrested.

Blake Quick, the son, was in the rear room of his store with his wife when the two robbers entered. He went to the front of the store and they asked for a loaf of bread. When Quick again faced them he looked into the barrels of two revolvers; they compelled him to open the cash drawer and they took $50 in silver. Quick's wife entered the store through the rear door with her babe in her arms, but was driven back by the thugs. She slipped out the back door and aroused her father-in-law, next door. The aged man seized his rifle and started for the front of the store and was shot down by the lookout. He fired once, but the bullet lodged in a post. Quick was followed from his home by his aged wife. He died in her arms. When the shots were exchanged outside, the robbers backed out of the door. They ran two blocks down Tehama street and shot twice at people who came to their doors. Two blocks from the scene of the murder the robbers stole the rig.

—taste

The individuality and distinction in the garments of the well-groomed man depend not so much on fashion, for many tailors follow the prevailing styles very closely, nor upon fabrics, for the market is open on all but the most exclusive cloths which we import.

It depends more largely upon good taste—the intangible something which, in the instance of Krohn Clothes, gives them a character and style of their own, a quality silently expressing the breeding and personality of the wearer.

Good taste, judgment and a discriminating sense of right values have won and kept my host of prominent patrons for the past fifteen years.

MANLY IDEALS FOR GUIDANCE.

DR. STEINER TALKS TO HIGH SCHOOL BOYS.

Classes Cheer Him and Present Their Pennants—Declares Man Who Makes Good Today Is Exception, and All Should Strive to Rise Above the Multitude.

"Are you making good?"

Dr. Edward T. Steiner, one of the noted sociologists of the country, professor of applied Christianity at Grinnell University, Grinnell, Iowa, propounded this question in a powerful and direct manner to the members of the Student League of Los Angeles, made up of the boys in the classes of the various high schools in and around Los Angeles, at the Auditorium yesterday afternoon.

"Are you making good yourself, not standing on the merits of your father or your grandfather? The man who makes good today is the exception," he declared. "To rise above the ordinary is the unusual and it is a more difficult matter for the youth of the present age to advance out of the swift-running stream of endeavor to an enviable position, than it was years ago.

"At a girls' college not long ago one of the teachers told me that her greatest trouble was keeping the slow freight coaches among the girls up to the swift express travelers. This was an unusual condition. The one most usually discovered in schools is too many empty coaches. The spirit of education today is superficial.

"The struggle of the Japanese and Russians was not won on the battlefields of Manchuria or at Mukden, but in the schools of Japan, where for years the discipline of the mind and the will were being taught and practiced. That same discipline is sadly lacking in our schools of today.

"Every man must learn to do the things in life he does not like, and leave undone the things he loves to do. Today we have belief in two great fallacies, wealth and position. Our greatest danger lies in forgetting the struggles of our ancestors. There can be no greater curse than that of the spirit of aristocracy, of feeling on a higher plane than one's parents. In fraternities this spirit frequently crops out, making fops of the boys who belong to them. Don't forget the poor or look down on them.

"No man has the right to taunt another for what God has bequeathed him in the way of racial difference. Nationality should never be condemned by a dominant people. Underneath every man heredity of the soul is essentially alike. There is no difference between the thoughts of the philosophers of old Greece, of modern Germany; between the men who stand at the pinnacle of the realm of thought. There is no difference in the brute man, who debases himself in liquor or in drugs.

"Our young men should hold one great doctrine, particularly on this coast—the brotherhood of man. You can never make the black man better by cursing him. To lift men up, show them love. The name of California will not live because of the gold that was discovered in such great quantities. It will not live because of its golden orchards and golden fields. Nor will its name be immortal because of its vanquishment of the desert. These things make but a passing impression. Men forget material things. What will always stand forth and be remembered when the name of California itself has been forgotten is the men who came here and planted the cross, exalted the savages, gave them a knowledge of the reason for their creation.

"Real values in life are spiritual. Abhor the materialistic life of today with its clink of gold and silver. Plead for tolerance in religion, since we cannot all worship by the same faith let us show reverence, respect and unselfishness for the faith of our neighbor. California has the best cry. It is in this State that all races meet, the melting pot of the world, the place where you can show your faith in the eternal brotherhood, your faith in God and in his great truths."

At the conclusion of his talk, Dr. Steiner was cheered by every school represented, and a member of each class stepped on the platform and tendered him a pennant of his respective school. Those represented were Manual Arts, Polytechnic, Los Angeles High, Glendale, South Pasadena and Hollywood High Schools.

THE WEDDING RING FINGER.

The Third of the Left Hand Was Not Always the Custom—In Early Times the Right Hand Was Chosen.

[Tit Bits:] No other finger than the third of the left hand is now ever considered for either an engagement or wedding ring, but it was not always so. At the time of the reformation it was just coming into fashion, and the rule in the ancient Greek Church was the use of the right hand third finger. Wedding rings have been used back as far as we have any records, and the right hand was the favored one.

There are no authentic reasons for the change save that, the right hand being in active use, the ring was more liable to wear and injury, as the gold used was exceedingly soft. A fifth-century writer speaks very entertainingly of rings. It was then the fashion to wear great numbers of them, elaborately set with jewels, carved, and sometimes of massive designs and proportions, so that the hands thus laden were scarcely fitted for heavy work. Then the rings began to be worn exclusively upon the left hand, leaving the right one free.

The fanciful reason given by many for the use of the third left-hand finger is that it is nearest the heart, and as an old chronicle says, this digit "hath especially the honor to bear rings." The story of the signet ring has an interest to all, for history tells us that every free man in Greece was privileged to wear his signet ring, and it was a much prized possession. The custom was evidently adopted from the Sabines, and free citizens of Rome made some of theirs of iron. Afterward, when Rome was luxuriating in her tremendous power and was in the height of glory, many a staunch old Roman displayed his signet ring of iron in token of his regard for the simple way in which they used to live.

History does not tell us just when the custom of wedding rings originated, but it was long before the time of Christ. Some say that the ring is an emblem of eternity, as the circle has no beginning and no ending; and from the earliest time it was regarded as a symbol of constancy and fidelity, and exchanged in other transactions beside matrimony where evidences of faith and loyalty were solemnly sworn to and sealed with the sacred token. At first the signet rings were used in the marriage ceremony, and in the sixteenth century "motto" rings came into favor. That meant the plain golden circles inscribed with "Until death," "Semper fidelis," "Two hearts that beat as one," "Mispah," "We two together go," "One faith, one love," etc. These were called "posy" rings.

Another reason for selecting the third finger for the wedding ring is the fact that from the earliest time the bishops or heads of the churches wore the insignia of their office upon that finger; the "high priest of the temple" wore it as long as he retained his position, it being placed there in the consecration ceremony. We find the bishops of today wearing the church ring set with an amethyst.

Signet rings are mentioned in the Bible, and we find the ring in those days to have been a sign of honor as it is with us. During the war a bride who wished to specially honor her groom sent the gold money to the goldsmith with which to fashion the wedding ring, for in those days the heaviest and broader the band the better, and girls used to measure the width and "heft" the circles to see whose had the broadest and heaviest and thereby establish a social standing unimpeachable.

Now the bride asks for a very narrow rounded circle with which to pledge her vows, one that will be as unobtrusive as possible and not interfere with the wearing of her other much-bejewelled rings, some of which are almost as big as a sixpence and as long as—well, as long as the fingers which they adorn.

Redondo Beach.

REDONDO CARNATION GARDENS IN NEW HANDS.

Property Which Could Have Been Secured by City for Twenty-four Thousand Dollars Is Sold for Forty Thousand—Board of Trade Has New Headquarters.

REDONDO BEACH, April 1.—By far the largest real estate deal made here for many years was transacted today when the Redondo carnation gardens, one of the show places of the city, were sold for $40,000. The gardens were the property of the Redondo Improvement Company and the deal was made by Harry Brolaski.

The company making the purchase is composed of Dr. A. T. Hembree, M. Mayer and H. J. McNally, all well-known residents of Redondo Beach, and an outside capitalist whose name is withheld.

A building company will be formed by these men and the tract cut up into lots and made into a choice residence district on which the company will build homes to sell. The famous drive which extends the width of the tract, and is lined with magnificent old palms, will be retained and made the center of a beautiful bungalow court upon which artistic bungalows will be erected.

The property, which comprises a block facing on Catalina avenue, Guadalupe avenue, Broadway and Alley street, was originally laid out in carnation gardens by the Ainsworth-Thompson Company, which later became the Redondo Beach Company. About twenty-three years ago, under the management of H. C. Feder the gardens became famous for the beautiful carnations shipped to all parts of the country. Shipments of 10,000 carnations a day were made when the gardens flourished. Here Mr. Feder, an experienced florist, originated the James Corbett and the Los Angeles carnation, and many other varieties.

Later the Redondo Improvement Company, of which H. E. Huntington is the head, bought the gardens, and with their fields of carnations, hot houses, smilax arbors, mammoth palm trees and beautiful flowers, have been a show place of the town. Recently Mr. Huntington offered the property to the city for a public park and Daisy site for $24,000, as he proposed in this way to assist the city in procuring a public park. The bond election, however did not carry, and that price was refused to all purchasers for the city for that purpose.

It is the plan of the purchasing company to retain the attractive palms and rubber tree walks and cypress hedges and other beauties of the gardens as far as possible.

NEW HEADQUARTERS.

The Board of Trade has established new headquarters in the Myers Block on Diaz avenue, and on Wednesday will have the new room opened to the public. A free information bureau and employment bureau will be established and conducted by Secretary J. P. Lorch, who will be in attendance at the time at the rooms. A reading room with all of the Los Angeles daily papers and magazines will be established and open house will be maintained for strangers and others.

Plans were made last night by the Board of Trade for the entertainment of the Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade of the neighboring cities about the middle of June.

It was also planned to invite the Southern California Editorial Association here as guests of the Board of Trade on a day previous to this.

The board voted to give a donation to flood sufferers to be given into the benefit fund raised by the High School students and Chamber of Commerce.

TO RESTORE DROWNED.

A Dreager pulmotor, one of the latest inventions for resuscitation, has been installed in the bath house. The pulmotor has an airtight rubber mouthpiece which is fitted on the patient's face and by means of a motor which works automatically, artificial breathing is maintained. When the patient has regained consciousness another attachment forces oxygen into the lungs from an oxygen tank.

Arrangements are being made by George Freeth and other bath-house employees to give an entertainment in the bath-house to raise funds to purchase a three-wheeled motorcycle for life-saving apparatus.

FOR FLOOD SUFFERERS.

The High School students gave a benefit performance tonight at the Art Theater for the flood sufferers. A splendid programme was given by the school glee clubs, orchestra and by soloists, and over $300 raised.

The Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Trade and citizens in general, as well as the churches, contributed to the fund. A number of merchants sent funds through the Merchants' federation to the scene of the disaster. A large quantity of clothing and unperishable food which was collected will be sent to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to be forwarded East.

TOURS IN EUROPE.

Traffic Expert Representing American Interests Abroad Predicts Wonderful influx of Tourists When Canal Is Open.

Hundreds of thousands of persons are coming to California and the Pacific Coast from Europe with the opening of the Panama Canal, according to Donald Rose, general European traffic manager for the Illinois Central Railroad, who, with his wife, is registered at the Hotel Van Nuys from London.

Interested in the transportation matters through a number of allied railroad lines, our officers in various European cities have been able to make a very close estimate of what may be expected," says Rose. The railroad companies have for months been advertising the event and tickets for passage to California have long been on sale on the installment plan. It is said that this would eventually mean the return of American ships to the marine. He is connected with the Illinois Central with the Central of Georgia Railway and the Ocean Steamship Company of Savannah. He visited Los Angeles twenty years, before being sent to Europe by the company.

HOME SOCIETY RECEPTION.

The Virginia reel and stately minuet filled the boards at the Woman's Club last night at the annual reception, dance and card party of the Home Society. About 400 Southerners were present. A majority of those in attendance indulged in reminiscences of the land which they love next to their own. The evening's festivities were inaugurated with a welcoming address by Mrs. Drew Pruett, introduced by Mrs. Gesner Williams.

FOOLISH PARTY WAS ELABORATE.

Pasadena Society Folk are Unconventionally Merry.

Fresno Man Implores Help to Find Helpmeet.

Crown City Gives Ten Thousand to Sufferers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PASADENA, April 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The April Fools' party of the Altadena Country Club last night was one of the most elaborate, though small, masquerade balls that has ever been given in the city. About sixty attended and the costumes were bright and unique, without any of the more common ones usually worn. The ballroom at the clubhouse was decorated not with flowers, but with immense bouquets of carrots, cabbages and lettuce, flaunting great bows of ribbons, and suspended from the ceilings were bags of confetti.

When the revelry was at its height these were opened by means of strings and the parti-colored paper sifted down on the dancers. The guests unmasked at 9:45 o'clock and at 11 o'clock a supper was served.

J. B. Coulston, president of the club, was the host of a party of twelve; A. F. Gartz, two; R. Crane Gartz, two; Charles H. Gilbert, four; F. E. Hose, two; L. H. Turner, two; Miss Sarah Granet, two; Shirley Vance Martin, two; T. H. McCoy, Jr., six; Charles H. Mears, four; Miss Sarah Slavin, four; Mathew S. Slavin, Jr., two; Ridney Benson, three; C. E. Krusen, six; Miss Gertrude Carrier, two; Col. John Lambert, three, and Edward D. Peterson, four.

WANTS PASADENA BRIDE.

The epistolary efforts of two southern women to make a marriage bureau of Mayor Thum's office last week was followed yesterday by a similar attack upon the citadel of Chief of Police Wood by a Fresno man. The letter was addressed simply to the "City Marshal of Pasadena," and signed "J. Keler, Fresno, Cal." It reads in part as follows:

"Will you kindly do a favor and post for me the incloseed notice in a conspicuous place, where the ladies can read it. I take this plan of trying to find a helpmate, knowing that you are a man of popularity and influence and may be the means of placing me in correspondence with some lady who would appreciate a kind, temperate worthy husband, who can furnish first-class references if desired."

The incloseed notice, which is in plain chirography, and decorated top and bottom with scrolls, runs:

"Temperate gentleman would be pleased to form acquaintance of ladies matrimonially inclined, with equal means who would not object to assistance. All questions answered. Can furnish good references. Send photograph and description. Put in first letter. Flirts save stamps."

Chief Wood played the role of Cupid in the business-like way of putting the letter in the clip with the reports of the day's business and hanging it up in his office.

MORE MONEY RAISED.

The six hnudred some odd dollars that were raised for the flood sufferers at the entertainment held at the Hotel Maryland last Monday night was increased to nearly $1000 with a bridge party there last night. The seats at the tables were sold for $5 each, and the prizes were donations of the merchants of the city. They ranged all the way from a child's cradle to an easy chair, and some merchant was so thoughtful as to send several suits of undergarments. Many Pasadena society people, as well as the guests of the hotel, played.

The fund being raised by the Pasadena Board of Trade grew steadily yesterday. The grand total of the city's contribution now exceeds $10,000.

SEEKS LOST DUCK.

Mrs. M. L. Gaylord of No. 253 Markham street yesterday appealed to the police to assist her in finding a lost duck. There were two pet ducks on the grounds at her home and they were made much of by the family and the neighbors. Yesterday one turned up missing. It left behind only a few feathers on the sidewalk, and these afforded a scant clew for the police to work on, unless it is to be taken, as they believe, that some dog had devoured the duck. At that, there was nothing to point to any particular dog.

The owner, nevertheless, holds to the theory that the duck was carried away in a gunny sack and that the feathers were shed in the fowl's resistance to entering the bag.

ANNUAL MINSTRELS.

At the Shakespeare Clubhouse on Thursday evening the men of All Saints' Church will give their annual minstrel show. Such favorites as Henry Earle, Roy Kellogg, Arthur K. Wyatt and Harry Annan are taking leading parts in the song, music and jokes—thus ensuring an evening of melody and merriment. Miss Vera Grauert will appear in the operetta, "The Barber of Bath," which was recently given with such marked success at the Hotel Green. The sale of tickets has been phenomenal and a full house is expected. This annual minstrel show is always one of the events of Pasadena's social season.

CITY BRIEFS.

Harold H. Swift, younger brother of George F. Swift, head of the Swift Packing Company of Chicago, arrived in Pasadena yesterday. He is at the Raymond Hotel, where other members of his family are also staying.

One of the most enjoyable musicales that the Orton School has ever given took place at the Hotel Maryland last Monday night. About 200 were present. The programme included numbers from all branches of the music department of the school. Invitations were issued by Miss A. B. Orton.

Mrs. Dr. J. C. Fraser of this city yesterday received word of the death of her sister, Mrs. W. D. Halladay, and infant son in Arizona March 26. Before her marriage Mrs. Halladay was Miss Anna Brown of this city.

The City Council yesterday refused to grant a new liquor license to William H. Stepp of No. 105 South Fair Oaks avenue, whose restaurant was the subject of a complaint a short time ago.

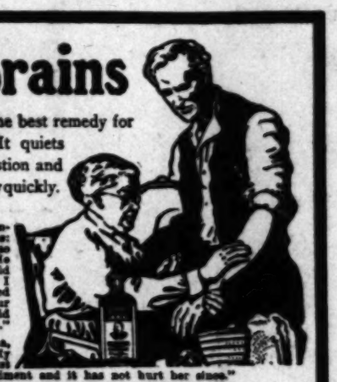
WET AND DRY FIGHT.

HERMOSA BEACH, April 1.—Citizens of this beach who believe that the city suffers a handicap in not being able to furnish wine and beer with meals, have circulated a petition of sufficient size to compel the trustees to call an election to permit voters to pass on the matter of granting hotel licenses. The prohibitionist element is much perturbed over the matter and will seek to avert a fight by calling attention to the deeds issued by the original townsite company, which provide that title will revert to original owners if liquor is sold on the property. This is derided by the supporters of the movement, and a hot fight is in prospect.

For Sprains



Sloan's Liniment is the best remedy for sprains and bruises. It quiets the pain, relieves congestion and reduces the swelling very quickly.

HERE'S PROOF

Mr. HERBERT A. VOSEL, 38 Somerset St., Plainfield, N.J., writes: "A friend sprained his ankle so badly that it went black. He laughed when I told him I would have him out in a week, but I soaked his foot and then applied Sloan's Liniment, and in four days he was working, and said that was a right good liniment."

Mr. JOS. HATCHER, of Selma, N.C., R.F.D. No. 4, writes: "My daughter sprained her wrist and she applied Sloan's Liniment and it has not hurt her since."

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is unequalled as an antiseptic—heals cuts, wounds and burns, and will draw the poison from sting of poisonous insects.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE KEEPS THE SCALP CLEAN AND STOPS THAT ITCHING

If your scalp itches, you have dandruff. The itching is due to the increasing growth of the microbe that causes dandruff and this sets up an irritation in the scalp. Itching scalp is merely a warning, for wherever there is dandruff, there is bound to be a loss of hair. Falling hair is never so slight that it may be disregarded, so much nearer the inevitable end—baldness.

To stop itching, you must get rid of the dandruff. The use of Newbro's Herpicide will eradicate it completely. Every trace of the scale-like accumulation will disappear. The hair formerly dead and dull and falling out takes on snap and life which go only with a clean, healthy scalp. There is a world of satisfaction in the use of Newbro's Herpicide because you can see the results.

When troubled with dandruff and your hair growing thinner every day, it is no time to experiment with some off brand preparation or a remedy which you are told is "just as good" as Herpicide. What you want is results—results that are quick and assured. Newbro's Herpicide is guaranteed to do as claimed or money refunded. Why take chances with the unknown article?

Sold everywhere in 50c and $1.00 sizes. Applications at the better barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

Send 10 cents in postage or silver to the Herpicide Company, Dept. S., Detroit, Mich., for sample bottle and booklet on the care of the hair.

SITS TACITURN AND REGRETFUL.

ALLEGED THIEF TELLS NO TALES TO POLICE.

A Boy in Years He Displayed Remarkable Cunning in Disposing of Stolen Property—Building Permits for Quarter Total More than a Million Dollars—News Briefs.

LONG BEACH, April 1.—A boy in years, but an old crook in natural bent, Roy Workman, the motorcycle thief, who was recaptured two days ago after a sensational escape from the local police, sits silent and taciturn in his cell, and has so far resisted attempts of the officers to secure any confession of his connection with the reputed band of cycle thieves, who have been working Southern California. Since his return to the city he has been glum and morose.

Despite this silence, however, the local police say they have positive evidence and information that Workman has been directly connected with the theft of at least thirty motorcycles. Efforts are also being made to locate his Long Beach residence, as it is known that he has lived here for a month previous to his arrest, but so far they have been unsuccessful. They hope by locating his room to get some clue as to his former residence and connections in Pennsylvania, where, he says, his widowed mother lives.

MARCH BUILDING.

A permit for a $12,000 brick apartment-house filed last evening at the closing hour with the building inspector raised the March building total to 237 permits of a valuation of $434,990, making a total for the year of 644 permits of the contract value of $1,126,474, both totals breaking all building records for Long Beach.

Postoffice receipts for March amounted to $8799.74, as against $6357 the same month in 1912, a gain of $1542.74, or 24.5 per cent. For the quarter the receipts were $24,182.55, a gain of 29.2 per cent. over the same quarter last year.

TO INSPECT INCINERATOR.

In order to get information at first hand to use in advocacy of one of the provisions of the proposed merger bond act, Mayor Hatch and members of the Council and Advisory Committee will make a trip to Pasadena on Saturday to inspect the new incinerator just put in operation in that city at a cost of $46,000. Long Beach plans to have one to cost $50,000.

CRAZED BY LOVE.

Granville Sanders is detained at police headquarters, pending his removal to Los Angeles for an inquest into his sanity. Sanders last night went to the home of Mrs. Thurston, police matron, and lying down upon a cot began to cry, and in a paroxysm of grief told of his love for a girl. He became violent and was taken in custody by the police. Since being confined he has done nothing but weep and rave of the girl, who, it is said, cares nothing for him and indeed knows him but as a passing acquaintance.

BAND MEMBER DIES.

James Green Geohegan, familiarly known as "Uncle Jimmy Green" to music lovers, and who for three years has been a member of the municipal band, died last night after a short illness. He was a native of Ireland and 69 years of age. He came to California twenty-five years ago, and has been a member of musical organizations throughout the State. He leaves a widow. The municipal band will act as escort at the funeral services on Thursday morning.

NEWS BRIEFS.

J. Weiss of New Orleans, representing a group of southern capitalists who are interested in fruit shipments from South America and Hawaii, has been in the city the past week investigating the possibilities of Long Beach as a distributing point for fruit shipments by steamer. He left this morning after making an exhaustive inspection of the local harbor and the railway facilities.

Eleven vessels carrying cargoes for local companies and trans-shipments by rail entered the local harbor during March, and docked at the city wharf, paying fees of $186.14. Most of the cargoes were of lumber and building materials.

TRUSTEES WOULD COMPROMISE.

South Pasadena Officials Are Willing to Pay a Fancy Price for a Slice of a Citizen's Lot.

SOUTH PASADENA, April 1.—The members of the board are considering the advisability of offering to William Massey the sum of $350 and build stone wall on frontage as purchase price for property necessary to be taken from his forty-nine front foot lot on Bank street, west of Marengo avenue, to widen Bank street. This street is sixty feet wide, with the exception of that portion on which Massey's lot fronts, and this is only fifty feet wide. The payment of $350 with the construction of the wall, is a suggested compromise proposal to the request of the owner for a valuation of $500. The matter has been before the board for adjustment for some time.

DEPARTMENT REPORTS.

The report of the city departments for the month were as follows: John W. Moore, city electrician, permits issued, thirty; fees to city, $50.45. John W. Moore, city plumbing inspector, permits issued, twenty-six; estimated cost of improvements, $4550; fees to city, $47.75. John W. Moore, building inspector, permits issued, seventeen; estimated cost of improvements, $18,670; fees to city, $18.50. W. H. Johnston, city license collector, collected for eleven business licenses, $129. F. R. Pierce, street superintendent, issued eleven permits for digging streets in February, and received fees, $2.75. In January issued fourteen permits, with fees, $3.50, and received for sale of fertilizer, $6. In December issued twenty-three permits for digging in streets, with fees of $5.75, and received cash, engineer's bill for work on Bank street, $50. Guy Richards Crump, City Recorder, thirty arraignments, twenty-two violations of speed ordinance, one for no license to automobile, one for drunkenness, one for riding on sidewalk, three for vagrancy, one disturbing the peace, one for resisting an officer. Total fines collected, $217.

Mrs. Willoughby Rodman and Mrs. Andrew S. Lobinger will speak on matters of vital interest to women this afternoon before the members of the Women's Improvement Association at their regular meeting in Gray's Hall on Fair Oaks avenue and Mission street. The arrangements are in charge of the Civic's Committee, of which Mrs. J. D. Thompson is chairman.

At a mass meeting held in the Methodist Church Sunday evening $295.87 in cash and $130 in checks was contributed to the relief of the flood sufferers in the Middle West. The famous chorus of 100 voices led by Thomas Tayler Drill sang a number of selections and short addresses were given by Jonathan E. Dodge, president of the Chamber of Commerce; George C. Bush, superintendent of schools; Rev. Booker Smith, pastor of the Christian Church, and Dr. Charles M. Fisher of the Calvary Presbyterian Church. A pledge of $100 was received from the City Board of Trustees, and this, with the private contributions, brought the total amount up to $412.87. The money was deposited with W. C. Springer of the First Pasadena Savings Bank, who consented to act as treasurer. Jonathan E. Dodge, Ernest V. Button, John R. Gibson, G. W. Lawyer and John N. Hunt have been made a committee to attend to the remittance, and they are being assisted by W. C. Springer. Contributions of money will be received at the savings bank on the corner of Mission street and Fair Oaks avenue, and clothing and supplies at the old Chamber of Commerce rooms, No. 66 Fair Oaks avenue.

WILL BUILD FINE HOTEL.

OCEAN PARK, April 1.—That Adolphus Busch will order work commenced immediately on a handsome hotel building for the Decatur site was given out today after a visit of the brewer and four Pasadena men to the property this afternoon. The party came here in an automobile, stepped off the site, examined the prints of a ground floor plan, and stated that in eight months the finest hotel on the beach would be finished. Ocean Park people, who are weary of looking at the site, which is cumbered with debris, hope the report of immediate building is true.

SLEEPERS AWAKENED.

A huge concrete distributor on the site of the G. M. Jones's Marine apartments now building collapsed at 8 o'clock last night, the crash of the tall contraption awakening sleepers for several blocks. The distributor was put in place by Jones so that the building would be finished by September 1. Jones states that the date is but $500, but the building will probably not be opened on the date set.

Board of Education Protests but Santa Monica Council Again Starts Movement to Pave Fremont Street.

SANTA MONICA, April 1.—Despite the efforts of the Board of Education to further put off the proceedings in asking for a change in the specification for the thoroughfare, the City Council last night for the fourth time passed a resolution of intention to pave Fremont avenue. Councilman Butzer opposed any change in the specifications, and E. Suez, J. S. Lobeer and Street Superintendent Cate each spoke in favor of immediate action, recalling the struggle of the property owners on the street to have the work done. The lamp posts to be designed by Architect Holwead were adopted for the street, which will be the best-lighted thoroughfare in any beach city.

H. W. Jamison, who investigated the possibility of re-establishing the lines of Beach avenue, a street 100 feet wide created by ordinance in 1885, has reported that unless expensive condemnation proceedings were begun, the city would not obtain a street along the water front of greater width than sixteen feet. A right of way for the thoroughfare might be conceded by the owners of sand property west of the ocean-front walk.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

GATE CITY IN THE LEAD.

Building Permits for Quarter Unusually Large.

Interstate Commerce Decision Will Help Business.

Widow of Engineer Asks for Big Fortune.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 1.—In the matter of building permits San Bernardino is in the lead of all the interior cities for the first three months of the year, the total being $749,574. The larger portion of the building activity thus far this year has been confined to the erection of homes, there seeming to be an increasing number of these instead of those being erected.

Structures to be occupied by several new industries are under construction, while a number of apartment-houses and one or two good-sized business blocks are in contemplation for the near future. The next month is expected to be even better than the first quarter has been in the building line.

BENEFIT EXPECTED.

This city is expected to benefit greatly by yesterday's decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission relative to west bound freight tariff. The new plan, which was suspended for some months by the commission, the interior points will receive the same rates on several hundred commodities as will the coast cities. This is one of the first fruits of the work of the Interior Counties Freight Bureau, and is expected to result in a much larger number of distributing houses being located at this point. The added railroad facilities the city is receiving this year, together with the more favorable freight rates, are expected to result in a substantial growth for this city in a commercial way.

BIG DAMAGE SUIT.

Alleging that six broken stay-bolts caused the explosion of the locomotive under which her husband, H. A. Claussen, was killed at Barstow a few months ago, Mrs. Alice Claussen today filed a $60,000 damage suit against the Santa Fe Railroad. The engine blew up when in the Barstow yards, it being one of the big freight engines used for hauling heavy trains over the mountains. Claussen was the engineer and was frightfully scalded, causing his death.

GAS RATE CASE.

The hearing in the gas rate case is expected to occur tomorrow before Judges Bledsoe and Oster in the Superior Court, the suits filed by both companies operating in this field being heard at the same time. The case is to have been heard yesterday, but a demurrer filed by Attorney Bicknell for the city at the last moment delayed the hearing of the case. The suit is to prevent the city enforcing a dollar gas rate, an initiative ordinance fathered by the Socialists having been passed by the City Council. The old rate on gas is $1.25. The companies claim the dollar rate would be confiscatory.

TO PROVIDE SHADE.

The City Tree Commission has been granted authority to proceed with the planting of two more inlets in the city with uniform shade trees next spring. The Foothill boulevard route, via Fourth street, Mt. Vernon avenue and Fifth street, will be lined with pepper trees on the first named, and black acacia trees on Fifth street. South E street, which is the inlet from Colton and Riverside, will be lined on each side with pepper trees.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The home of the late John Broadhead, west of the city, was raided by burglars this week, and a quantity of jewelry, that included a number of valuable family heirlooms, taken. Little money was secured.

The local Catholic parish has organized a branch of the St. Vincent de Paul Society for the relief and aid of the worthy poor. W. R. Zimmerman is president and J. P. Walsh secretary. It was organized by J. O. Koch, president of the Los Angeles society.

The San Bernardino County Supervisors are making arrangements for securing a regular lecturer at the expense Chamber of Commerce. It is possible that George T. Barr of Ontario may be selected for the place if satisfactory arrangements can be made for the time period now used for Colton.

MUCH FRUIT IS BEING SHIPPED.

GOOD EXPERT GIVES OUT A CHEERING STATEMENT.

Fifteen Million Dollars Worth of Fruit Will Be Saved from the Ravages of the Frost—Railroad Company Orders Gates When Asked to do So by Trustees.

ONTARIO, April 1.—That the estimate of H. Harold Powell, manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange that $15,000,000 worth of fruit, of the $50,000,000 citrus crop to be moved to the ranchers, seems likely to be the result of the work being done by the separator recently installed in the large packing-house of the Ontario Citrus Fruit Association on A street.

Manager K. D. Blaikie has had the machine in operation for several days and the work of eliminating the frost-damaged fruit has proven very satisfactory.

The fruit is dumped into a tramway of water and gradually rolled to the end of the tram, where it drops into the bath. The sound, juicy fruit, being heavier, sinks, while the frosted and inferior fruit floats on the surface and is passed out among the culls. The sound fruit going into another bath. While the machine is not entirely infallible the results obtained have proven satisfactory. It is now estimated that Ontario ranchers probably will be able to market in the neighborhood of 50 per cent. of their fruit. Fruit from orchards which were systematically smudged, put through the separator, has shown up as high as 75 per cent. unfrosted.

From four to eight carloads of the golden fruit are now going out of Ontario to eastern points daily. Indications at present point to a bumper crop for next year, and with improved facilities for fighting it the frost will doubtless work far less havoc, even though the unusual coldness of the present year should be repeated.

BAD ANGEL.

Angelic in name only! That is the opinion expressed today by the wife of Angel Belarde, a cement worker of No. 127 Melrose street, when she appeared against him for beating her, in the Police Court. Belarde was fined $25 by Judge J. R. Pollock.

Mrs. Belarde declares that her husband came home last night intoxicated and forthwith proceeded to beat her and she notified the officers by telephone. When asked for an explanation of his actions Belarde announced that his wife talked too much and that he was obliged to chastise her to curb her sharp tongue.

BANKER PROMOTED.

H. S. Abbott, formerly connected with the Abbott-Ingalls Realty Company of this city, has been named by the directors of the Euclid Savings Bank as cashier of that institution to succeed Byron P. Glenn, who recently resigned to accept a similar position with the Federal Bank of Los Angeles, according to announcement made today by H. E. Swan, president of the organization.

Abbott is a banker of experience. He was cashier of the First National Bank of Milford, Iowa, and of the Milford National Bank before coming to this city a little over a year ago.

B. F. Warner, already a member of the City Board of Education and well-known local attorney, has been named as president of the board to fill the place left vacant by the resignation of Glenn from the board.

SAFETY GATES.

T. G. Widmeyre, Ontario agent for the Salt Lake, has received the apparatus for the installation of safety gates at the Euclid and Laurel-avenue crossings, and the work will be rushed. The gates were ordered several weeks ago at the request of the City Council, these particular crossings being especially dangerous. The Salt Lake company also has a force of men at work improving the appearance of the station park.

At the meeting last night of the Chaffey High Dramatic Club the topic of discussion was the play, "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," Forbes Robertson's vehicle, led by Miss Winnifred Beckingsale of the Chaffey faculty. The second act of the play was produced by the club. The cast included Miss Lillian Sondracker, Miss Constance Conger, Miss Geraldine Waltz, Miss Gertrude Bredfeldt, Hawley Mertz, Eugene Nisbet, Raymond Householder, Clarence Fossett and Richard Arnett.

Mrs. Alice Middaugh Fell of this city yesterday obtained a divorce from Ben Fell on a charge of failure to provide. The divorce comes as a climax to marital troubles when Fell is said to have attempted to appropriate some of his wife's money through crooked means, following which she gave him his "walking papers."

OLIVE LAND IS ACQUIRED.

Tract Near Beaumont Bought by Michiganders.

Society Men Chase Thief and Spoil Pumps.

Matter of Cutting Trees Will Not Down.

RIVERSIDE, April 1.—Through the sale today of olive land involving a consideration of $148,000, there is assured a development involving the planting of 500 acres to olives near Beaumont, and the probable erection of a factory to refine the products connected with olive growing.

The deal was closed through the Riverside Abstract Company, acting for the Orchard Heights Land Company, whose articles of incorporation have been drafted by the abstract company. The purchase includes 1466 acres of land, known as the Porter ranch. This property is well known throughout the State, the elder Porter being a pioneer.

The Orchard Heights Land Company is composed of Michigan capitalists. The president is S. B. Platt, now located in Los Angeles. Water will be developed and the property made available for intensified farming.

DANCERS CHASE THIEF.

A number of society young men, tripping the light fantastic at the dance given in the Woman's Clubhouse last evening by the Sunshine Society, finished the evening's pleasure in dancing pumps considerably the worse for wear. Having been informed that a number of automobiles were being rifled of their robes and other paraphernalia, the drivers of cars among the festal throng rushed out and chased the thief for several blocks, losing the fugitive in an orange grove. The chase was given up and the remainder of the programme danced out.

A LIVE ISSUE.

Matters concerning the Pacific Electric Railway Company's operation of its line over Magnolia avenue were cleared up somewhat at today's session of the City Council, when the Council rescinded its action of a week ago, relative to the location of a siding at Arlington. Action taken today virtually permits the railroad company's cutting out the center row of trees between the limits of Van Buren and Roosevelt streets. Whether the removal of all these trees will be necessary will depend largely on the company's requirements, in endeavoring to keep away from the gutter line of the north driveway. A committee representing the Arlington Chamber of Commerce, and the abutting property owners, appeared before the Council in support of a plan to remove all the center row through the business center of Arlington.

NEW BUSINESS BLOCK.

A two-story business building will be erected at the northeast corner of Eighth and Lime streets by Martha J. Kinnear. Arrangements were completed today whereby the city, which owns vacant property adjoining, will enter into a party wall agreement with the builder. The lot on which the new building will be erected was purchased from James Thompson of Avondale, Ariz., for $6000.

STOCK LETTER.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The stock market displayed a very strong undertone throughout the day's session. During the forenoon London and the continent were credited with having purchased freely and shorts were very nervous because sentiment during the past few days has shown a decided improvement, primarily as a consequence of the action of the stock market after Mr. Morgan's death became known, and also as a result of the rather well-defined reports from Washington that the revision of tariff schedules will be conducted along lines rather more in keeping with constructive ideas than had been anticipated some time ago. After the renewal rate of 6 per cent. was established on demand loans, money eased off somewhat and the satisfactory progress of settlements did much toward fostering better feeling. A goodly portion of recent buying has been in the nature of short covering and during the afternoon trading of today's session it was noticeable that foreigners were disposed to secure at least part profits on recent purchases. Congress convenes next Monday and also the Supreme Court and in the interim it is expected that the Union Pacific plans will reach maturity.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Heavy receipts of butter the previous day caused a decline of 1½ cents in creamery extras yesterday. Should the receipts continue large there should be a further decline in a few days. The improvement in the supply is expected to be steady from now on. Eggs were steady. Cheese receipts were light but the market appeared to be rather easy.

An abundance of asparagus due to large receipts caused the price for the white variety to be as low as 5 cents a pound in some instances. The demand is active, and this may have a tendency to firm the market. Peas are a shade cheaper. It is expected that there will be a better supply henceforth. Rhubarb and celery were light, and the price remained rather steady. Florida tomatoes were fairly plentiful, but rather high priced, selling at $2.75 a crate. Hothouse cucumbers continue in evidence. The market is pretty steady on this vegetable.

Loquats were on the market at about the same prices, but should become more plentiful and cheaper soon. The quality seems to be improving. No apples were reported in. The supply is large, however. Navel oranges were up a little, the best fruit selling around $3.50 to $3.75 a box. The demand continues light, however.

Reported receipts were: Eggs, 800 cases; butter, 34,870 pounds; cheese, 190 pounds; potatoes, 5 sacks; sweet potatoes, 65 sacks.

eans for the control of smoke. The de- osits in the Shasta field have been develop sufficiently to conclusively demonstrate their ous extent, and but for the fume sit- tion, this field would today be one of the remost copper producers of America. The satisfactory conditions have not only se- ously hampered the companies installing lity plants, but have naturally militated ainst development of many promising pro- rties. The Bully Hill and Afterthought Cop- r Companies have been conducting extensive ts with new methods for the recovery of ne and copper without generating the ob- ctionable gases, and the former is ex- cted to make a lengthy trial of its devices the near future. A new process, known the Steirwood method, is being tested on ghly sulphurous ores from the Mountain pper mines, and some excellent results ve been thus far obtained. Should the thod prove all that is claimed for it, a new d of progress will be incepted in California pper districts. In addition to the Shasta d Foothills fields, exceptionally promising posits have been opened in the Blue Lead d other districts, but it will take several ars before these properties can be figured productive factors. It is readily apparent at the future of California copper in- ction depends on the solution of the fume oblem to a great extent. This may be ought about by perfection of new metal- rgical methods, or compromises between erators and farmers. The latter means are st productive of practical results, and may hastened by the companies purchasing the fected lands. It is extremely possible that satisfactory fume controlling process will evolved which would adjust the problem the satisfaction of all concerned. But until tis matter has been satisfactorily disposed of, it is certain that a decided curb in the alifornia copper output is not to be ex- pected. But if the controversy is settled, an nnual output of 60,000,000 to 150,000,000 pounds of copper from the Shasta field alone may be confidently anticipated."

Public Service: City Hall, Courts

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Public Utilities Board issued a statement yesterday regarding relief of traffic congestion on Main street by the operation of cars from the rear of the Sixth-street depot. Conditions are materially bettered, and the commission rejoices.

Harbor Engineer Jubb entered a protest yesterday against laborers being placed again under dominion of the Civil Service Commission, which that body desires. He says such a step would practically make it impossible to carry on work by force account.

Commission Johnson presented a plan to the Board of Public Works yesterday for placing all fire hydrants in the business district below the sidewalk level, thus adding to the convenience of pedestrians.

Two franchises for extensions of the yellow car-line system were sold by the City Council yesterday—one the Tenth-street line, the other the Fifty-fourth-street line.

The Pacific Electric contends that it would be damaged to the extent of $350,000 by the loss of a 1600-foot strip along its Sixteenth-street right of way; the referee's report allows $30,000, while the city contends $1 would cover everything.

REROUTED CARS BRING RELIEF.

MAIN-STREET CONDITIONS ARE MATERIALLY BETTERED.

Gratifying Results Shown After Long Beach, San Pedro and Redondo Beach Traffic Is Handled From Long Beach, San Pedro and Redondo Board Pleased.

President Wheeler of the Board of Public Utilities was rejoicing yesterday over the reports received as to relief from traffic congestion on Main street by the operation of San Pedro, Long Beach and Redondo cars from the rear of the Sixth-street depot. Engineer Mehler and President Wheeler inspected the general situation, and reports received from Lieut. Butler of the traffic squad and other sources showed that the first day's operations of the new plan had brought about a decided change in conditions, and all traffic during the rush hours, from 4 to 6, moves much more freely.

The Board of Public Utilities issued the following statement yesterday:

The relief from congestion on Main street by the construction of the temporary sheds and terminal on Los Angeles street, between Sixth and Seventh streets, and the routing of three of the south division lines from this point as shown in the first day's operation, is more than gratifying.

The time taken to bring about these results was much greater than we had expected it would be. The matter was taken up and again given consideration about the middle of November, when Mr. Mohler made a report recommending the construction of an incline back of the present station and through routing of cars.

Again on November 27, a communication was sent to the Pacific Electric Railway strongly urging that steps be taken to secure relief from the Main-street congestion. The Pacific Electric finally submitted plans for a temporary station, as now constructed. When a permit was asked for, it was refused by the building department on the ground that it did not meet the ordinance requirements.

On January 23 the president of the board sent a strong recommendation to the Council asking that the permit granted to the Pacific Electric for the construction of the station.

Nothing was done in the matter until the building superintendent sent a recommendation to the Council on or about March 18, recommending that the permit be granted by the Council.

At the same time the matter was again taken up with the Pacific Electric Railway and their promise secured to use every effort to get things in shape for going ahead with the construction.

On the 18th of March a resolution was introduced in the Council asking the necessary authority for constructing the station. In the meantime a conference was held between representatives of the Board of Public Works, the chief of the traffic squad, the Pacific Electric Railway, the Board of Public Utilities, and the City Council, when a final agreement was reached, whereby the Pacific Electric should proceed at once with the construction of the station with the understanding that they would not be subject to arrest and fine, and that the permit would be granted at the next meeting of the City Council.

Credit is due to the Pacific Electric for the prompt and energetic manner in which they carried out the work, after being given the necessary authority.

If the gratifying results shown by the first day's operation in the removal of part of the cars from entering the Main-street side of the station continue, the patrons of the lines operating on Main street may congratulate themselves on the relief secured. The patrons of the lines were heard to express their gratification at being relieved from the crush and jam inside the station, waiting at the gates to board cars.

Lieut. Butler of the traffic squad is reported as having said that the situation was the best on Main street between 5 and 6 o'clock that it has been in five years.

Plan Isn't Practicable.

Harbor Engineer Jubb sent to the Harbor Commission yesterday a statement in regard to the situation requiring the employment of laborers on force account without regard to civil service regulations. He states that while the City Council some time ago exempted from civil service certain classes of workmen it has been indicated that the Civil Service Commission intends to gain control of such classifications as early as it can bring this about. Jubb declares that this would be a detriment to the public service, because of the difficulties encountered in having to select men from the certified lists.

"If the exemption from civil service now existing should be cancelled," says Jubb in this communication, "it would be practically impossible for this department to perform construction by force account."

The Board of Public Works has sent the communication to the Civil Service Commission for its consideration and reply.

Would Clear Sidewalks.

Commissioner Edw. Johnson of the Board of Public Works presented to that board yesterday a new plan for giving pedestrians more free use of the sidewalks in the downtown districts. He proposes that fire hydrants shall be placed below the level of the walks, and covered with iron trap doors, and that arrows on lamp posts indicate their locations. He points out the various advantages to be derived from taking the unsightly and space-using hydrants from the walks. Members of the board expressed their approval, and the plan was ordered sent to the Fire Commission and the Public Service Commission for their consideration.

Will Utilize Sweepings.

A plan to utilize street sweepings for the filling of city property at Avenue 18 and North Broadway has been evolved. The Miller Hive and Box Company has a lease on this property, and has filed a complaint with the City Council that storm waters filled the major portion of the depression and rendered it useless and a damage. At the same time the Council had the problem under consideration of what to do with street sweepings in the southeast district, as it must lease property on which to make these deposits. The sweepings will be used to fill the lowlands and the city will save money and improve its own property.

Two New Commissioners.

The recent amendment to the moving-picture show ordinance provided for an increase in the number of the Board of Censors of Moving Pictures from five to seven. The Mayor yesterday sent to the City Council the names of Mrs. P. T. Hubert and Miss Florence Moore as members of the commission. The Council took its usual action and defered confirmation for one week, meanwhile referring the appointments to the Supply Committee.

Would Exempt Espee.

A controversy between Councilmen at yesterday's session arose over the recommendation of the Finance Committee that the Southern Pacific be exempt from payment for the retaining wall along the easterly side of North Broadway, where the company deeded a twenty-foot strip to the city for widening this street, and that the other property be assessed for this cost.

Councilmen Topham and McKenzie objected to the proposed exemption. Topham maintained that the wall was of direct benefit to the railroad property and should be paid for by it. McKenzie wanted the railroad property assessed or the city to pay the money out of the general fund. Whitten and Betkouski declared that the city would not have gotten the twenty-foot strip of land had it not agreed to exempt the Espee from assessment for the wall. The result was that action is postponed until the entire Council can go out and inspect the situation.

Two Franchises Sold.

The City Council at yesterday's session struck off, sold and awarded to the City Railway Company two franchises for street railways. Both of these are for extensions of lines now existing. One is for an extension of the Fifty-fourth-street line from Denker avenue to the westerly city limits. The other is for an extension of the Tenth-street line to a point near the westerly city limits, but the new franchise will include the whole line from Hoover street westerly, including the proposed extension, and the company is to deed to the city its private right of way and surrender the franchise that it holds on a part of this line, which still has a tenure of fifteen years. Both franchises will have the twenty-one-year limit. The sum of $100 each was paid for these franchises, and deposits of $500 each were made as a guarantee of good faith.

Saves City Money.

President Williams of the City Council was mover in an action yesterday that saves the city enough money to pay one Councilman's salary for almost a year. Through his initiative the Council voted to reduce the number of persons on election boards at the primary election from six to five. The rate paid for members of the election boards is $5 a day, and as there are 452 precincts, this will effect a saving of $2260 on this one election.

City Hall Brevities.

The City Council yesterday approved the new outlines of the proposed assessment district for acquiring a branch library site at Santa Monica boulevard and Madison street.

The Council voted yesterday to instruct the City Attorney to redraft the vehicle tax ordinance in conformity with the schedule recommended by the Special Rate Committee. This simply means a postponement of the final contest. If the ordinance is passed it is pretty sure to result in a referendum being called, as several traffic organizations are prepared to start petitions.

The Mayor yesterday sent the Council a message asking that provision be made for salaries of $300 a month for members of the Harbor Commission. The Council referred it to the Budget Comittee.

To the Budget Committee the City Council sent the project for a clubhouse at San Pedro, on the waterfront yesterday. A large petition has been presented from San Pedro citizens for this institution.

An ordinance providing the regulation of speed of vessels in the outer harbor, reducing it from fifteen to eight miles an hour, was referred by the City Council to the Legislation Committee yesterday. This change is called for by harbor authorities because of several recent accidents, when small craft have been run down by larger vessels.

Councilman Topham will present a resolution next week for the immediate creation of the firemen's and policemen's pension and relief funds, provided for by the recent charter amendments.

As a sequel to the controversy between the Harbor Commission and the Council's Harbor Committee, the latter recommended to the Council yesterday that the franchise for a fish cannery at the old Wilmington wharf be granted, and this was done by unanimous vote. The franchise goes to Garrett L. Hogan, and he is to pay the city $100 a month for the privilege. About $20,000 will be expended in the plant.

President Hubbard of the Board of Public Works yesterday signed the $13,331.59 contract between the city and the Pacific Creosoting Company for the piles and other creosoted material for the bulkhead at pier A.

At the Courthouse.

SIX FIGURES OR SINGLE DOLLAR?

CITY ASSERTS ALLEGED GREAT DAMAGE IS NIL.

Chief Engineer of Pacific Electric Asserts Relinquishment of Sixteen-Hundred-Foot Strip Would Hurt It Quarter of Million—Two New Points.

The objection of the Pacific Electric Company to the referees' report allowing it $30,000 damages for the land taken by the city along its Sixteenth-street right of way, has brought out a wide divergence between the damages it demands and the sum the city believes the company is entitled to.

E. C. Johnson, assistant chief engineer, testified in the trial of the suit before Judge Conrey yesterday that the company would be damaged $250,000. The city contended that if the company is damaged at all, it will be only in a nominal sum, say $1.

The land the referees reported on lies between Alta drive and Seventh avenue, a strip thirty-five feet wide and 1600 feet long. Robert M. Allen and Guy Garner, experts called by the Pacific Electric, valued the strip at 50 cents a square foot or a total of $26,685.

Johnson declared the company would be damaged in the sum of $250,000 by reason of the change of grade, substituting T rails, a change in the overhead construction, capitalizing accidents, estimated at twenty-five, operating sixteen round trips, and buying power and paying the men employed on the cars by the hour.

The trial developed two new points raised by the city. The company objected to the referees' report on the ground that the compensation for damages was inadequate. This was raised by Attorneys Karr and Ashburn. Assistant City Attorney Cryer and Deputy Haas held that under the law where the city is condemning easement which does not interfere with the fee at all, the corporation is entitled only to nominal damages.

The company held it ought to be paid damages for extra hazard, maintenance and paving the street after the property has been condemned. The city argued that under the police power of a city, the latter has a right to compel the corporation to make the improvements.

UNEXPECTEDLY RETURNS.

TRIAL IS ENLIVENED.

The trial of the Conservative Investment Company's suit against Theodore Wiesendanger in Judge Wellborn's court was brightened yesterday by a verbal clash between Attorneys Shelton and Horton. Shelton, spurred to unburdening himself perhaps by the unexpected appearance of Wiesendanger after a mysterious absence of two weeks, declared this is one of the big cases where right and justice should prevail. He had not found a person who, in discussing the case, had not told him he was fighting for the right and the protection of investors.

He practically reviewed the whole case, pointing out how investors' money is jeopardized in just such deals as that alleged to have been been made by Wiesendanger, who is accused of having overvalued his stock.

Horton replied that he has been approached by dozens of persons who said it is a conspiracy to wreck the corporation and bankrupt Wiesendanger. The latter, he declared, owned nine-tenths of the stock, and the trouble, which has haled Wiesendanger into court and caused him great mental distress, was brought about by persons who own only a few shares of stock.

UNDER FIRE.

TESTIMONY CONTRADICTORY.

Alleged contradictions in the testimony of Miss Nellie Greaney, the objections of her counsel, Attorney McKelvey, and a sharp tilt between McKelvey and Judge Finlayson, marked the trial yesterday of Avalon Cramley for the alleged murder of Joseph Fear at Pasadena last November.

At the Coroner's inquest Miss Greaney testified Cramley had had beer and whisky. She could not say yesterday that Cramley had taken any beer. She knew that Fear had staggered, but said Cramley had walked straight.

The prosecution is trying to prove that there had been a drunken quarrel and that Cramley cut Fear, as the testimony of his brother Howard showed at the preliminary examination Cramley so stated to him. Miss Greaney denied there was a quarrel, but in saying Fear was laughing on that fatal night she contradicted her testimony of the day before when she said he was melancholy because his wife had gone to Redlands. The defense has thirty witnesses.

HIGH-WATER MARK.

MARCH COLLECTIONS GREATEST.

That litigation is keeping pace with the development of Los Angeles is evidenced by the fees collected at the County Clerk's office for March. The amount, $11,271.75, is $600 more than has been taken in during any previous month in the history of the Superior Court. It exceeds the collection for March, 1912, by $2500. As segregated by Cashier Lampton the various amounts are probate, $1824.45; civil, $7912.25; miscellaneous, $1535.05.

The fees are paid for the filing of complaints, petitions and other legal documents. The business now transacted at the County Clerk's office places Los Angeles in the van of all counties west of Chicago.

But it is not merely the completeness of the stocks that appeals—it is more the fact that every garment here has been selected with all the care that the mother uses in selecting them for her children—materials are dependable, seams are made right—and as for the styles, they are the work of artists who devote their time to bringing out the best in the childish figure.

Wants Money Back.

HER AIR CASTLE IS AGENT'S AUTOMOBILE?

AFTER thirty-eight years of toil, Grace M. Carter accumulated $1102.37. It was a nest-egg for old age. Then she met a real estate agent, and according to her testimony in Judge Unangst's department of the Superior Court yesterday, she bought a lot and gave him $1101.37, with which he agreed to build a house. Now the agent has an automobile, bought with her money, she alleges, there is no house on the lot and she has but $1 in bank. The agent she charges with having defrauded her out of her money is Ira W. Holt. Deputy District-Attorney Keetch is prosecuting the charge against Holt.

Mrs. Carter told her story slowly, apparently frankly. She admitted when she found work on the house had not been begun she was angry and was cautioned by Holt not to talk so loud, because she would be overheard. He took her to her lot in the auto, which she says he admitted having bought with the money she advanced him. Compelled to work all day as a cook in a restaurant she was obliged later to seek Holt at night and was unable to get her money back. His arrest followed.

Since she was 12 years old, Mrs. Carter says she earned her living working as housemaid and cook. She saved her little fortune dollar by dollar and when Holt said he could get a house built for her for a certain sum, she yearned to own her own home, she testified.

Attorneys Linney and Schoonover, counsel for Holt, cross-examined Mrs. Carter at length, trying to prove that the money turned over to Holt was a gift, consequently there could be no embezzlement and that she was in love with him. She entered an emphatic denial. The case will be concluded today.

Court Warns Woman Granted Separate Maintenance She Must Not Interfere With Husband.

Judge Monroe declared at the conclusion of the Noonan divorce suit yesterday that some women have a tendency when they win alimony to follow the advantage by annoying their former husband and interfering with his business. He had denied Fred Noonan, architect, a decree on the ground of extreme cruelty, granted Mrs. Noonan's suit for separate maintenance and awarded her $100 a month for the support of herself and daughter, Catherine, aged 8 years.

He warned Mrs. Noonan to avoid Noonan. He said he would enjoin her, and turning to Noonan he enjoined him. He said some blame attached to the wife for the domestic disturbance. The disposition of the daughter was the most serious [illegible]. He gave Noonan permission to [illegible] her every two weeks. He did not want Mrs. Noonan to take Catherine to her husband nor did he propose to have Noonan go to his wife's home for her. "No," he declared, "that is [illegible] ing the girl out too young in [illegible] dates."

A friend will be found to [illegible] Catherine to and from her father's [illegible] the days he is permitted to see her.

ANGELS TRIUMPH OVER TIGERS IN OPENING GAME OF SEASON.

Frankly Realistic.

"THE EASIEST WAY," TRUE, POWERFUL DRAMA.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

The three words, "The Easiest Way," tells the whole theme ... peculiar phase of New York ... the struggle between the morality ... woman, and the temptation of ... chance under the protec- ... of the rich "friends" taken in the ... This word obtains in ... world, and the final victory ... easiest way."

... drama is terribly frank. It ... ugly picture, but one painted ... powerful stroke with strong ... somewhat soiled dove with ... aspirations and a beautiful ... longs the seductive life of ... is still in the bud for the ... a young reporter. ... struggles bravely against pover- ... and till a friend of her for- ... discovers her in poor lodgings ... sick and disheartened.

Elfie Sinclair, the evil spirit, is the immoral woman of low birth, who, after many years of adventurous existence, realizing the vanishing of her former beauty, has caught a rich, but old, husband as a last card in the game of fast living.

Laura Murdock, weak, hungry, under the counsel of Elfie, falls again the easy victim of Willard Brocton, the wealthy clubman.

Then the lover comes back and instead of the sweetheart he has dreamed of while he was battling against fortune for her sake, he sees and realizes the whole terrible reality of the "Easiest Way."

This only too true and too frequent drama in real life is splendidly staged and capitally presented by Florence Reed, the able daughter of a great actor, who impersonates the beautiful Laura Murdock, tempted, sinning, yet retaining her ideal. Miss Grace Valentine as Annie, the shiftless, curious quadroon servant in a cheap boarding-house was received with well-merited approval for making of that

BASEBALL SEASON OPENS WITH CANARY-COLOR UMP.

Game Begins With Same Old Preliminaries With the Mayor as a Baseball Pitcher But Ends Thrillingly With Hap Hogan in a Wonderful Ninth-Inning Batting Rally—Roy Brashear's Great Run.

BY HARRY CARR.

ONE colossal, staggering, canary-colored innovation streaked down through the opening day of the baseball season with a frightened yell. Otherwise it was pretty much the same as in years gone by.

We tittered in the same old way when the old Mayor kicked up one kind leg with coltish glee and threw the first ball to the Chief of Police, who failed to catch it, as they invariably do. This preliminary stuff is like the "speaking" by the Sunday-school superintendent at "sociables;" not very funny and delays the ice cream; but it has to be.

Even the game, although thrilling, was familiar. Hap Hogan was chased to the bench in the same old way on complaint of the agonized rival pitcher; the Tigers fell behind and made a typical ninth-inning rally that brought the fans home too hoarse to swear; Roy Brashear smashed the cover off the ball and was thrown out trying to get to first base in the same old familiar way.

The feature that made this opening game different from all other games—more amazing and extraordinary and sublime—was a lowly umpire.

After one look at this ump, everything else on the field became a vague daze before your eyes. This ump pervaded the scene as Napoleon must have done at Waterloo.

ENTER THE PADDED UMP.

His entrance was dramatic.

The players had finished their opening practice before the adoring eyes of the fans; the moving-picture men had rushed excitedly around herding the players into groups, then unherding them. All that part was over. The bell rung to play ball.

Out from the side lines came a pair of slim, attenuated, pathetic legs staggering under the weight of what appeared to be the mattress for a pet elephant; it was colored a bright canary yellow. It was so big that only the thin, peering face of the umpire could be seen above the top of it.

The ball season of 1913 was on; Umpire McCarthy had taken charge of the game and the smallpox-colored bedding was his chest protector.

That canary-colored official badge influenced the whole game. It will probably influence the whole season. To my mind it is sure to have an influence upon the whole lives of some of the players.

HAP HOGAN WAS THERE.

Even Hap Hogan was affected by it. The first time that Hap kicked over the traces this huge pile of furniture here down slowly and gravely upon him. He could just see the skinny, struggling legs underneath the yellow mountain, and the thin beak peering over the summit. Hap instinctively turned to see if someone else were not following with a piano and the gas line stove and a delegate from the union. It looked so much like moving Reign of Merriment.

VAUDEVILLE BILLS FULL OF GOOD FUN THIS WEEK.

BESIDES being a leading luminary in musical comedy, Jack Norworth is the author of many popular songs—"Honey Boy," Harvest Moon," and so on. These songs of his are sung at the Orpheum this week by a quartette composed of two men and two women. But Norworth himself is the best part of the show, for he is a humorist of much refinement and subtlety, and also an artist of distinction.

A comedy which is the joint product of Boseman Bulger and May Tully is given by Lida McMillan and her company. Its title is "The Late Mr. Allen"—Mr. Allen being not dead but gone astray. There are four people in the cast, and all of them play their parts well. Miss McMillan as Bonita E. Blackstone depicts a character that is broad, breezy, slangy and swift, true to the life; an admirable bit of portraiture, done by a genuine artist. Miss McMillan's voice, be it said in passing, is very agreeable.

Mme. Gravetta, assisted by Lavondre, gives impersonations of many famous men, some of them very successfully. She is advertised as the "only lady impersonator of great men." Funmakers of the right sort are Eddy Howard and Bert Snow, who offer a reminiscence of boyhood, "Those Were Happy Days." Peggie Lennie and Walter Hast, who hail from England, give a little musical travesty, "Cleopatra's Needle," whose music is much better than its humor. The catapult exercises of Wotpert & Paulan are expert and startling. The kinetophone gives a one-act play and a scene from "The Bells."

Empress.

Morrissey and Hanlon, the one probably a Hebrew (Morris—see?) make a big hit with their songs, jokes and impersonations at the Empress. They're billed as the "ginger boys," and there's certainly a touch of spice in their offering.

Another bringer of the laugh is Mamie Fleming, a buxom girl with a voice which is not big, but pleasing. Mamie sings the usual popular ditties dear to the heart of the vaudevillian, songs of the vulgar joke, and the cheerful syndicism.

Humor also characterizes the work of Lawrence Crane, "the Irish wizard." His fun is of the Irish variety, quick and spontaneous, and is offered as something extra to go with his feats of legerdemain, which seem clever and most extraordinary. They are not, perhaps, far away from the usual tricks of the prestidigitator, but they are done with more than the usual dexterity—and Crane's brogue is as taking as his fun.

Bright comedians and good singers are the quartette of sailor boys—Broderick, Goodwin, Ortmeier and Price; acrobats of grace and agility are the Three Cleirs, who appear in tights of royal purple, and acrobats of still greater agility are the Five Lojas, whose feats of pyramid-building and balancing bring shuddering joy to the beholder.

Pantages.

The biggest feature in an attractive bill at Pantages this week is the work of the Animated Weekly, which gives a thrilling and "moving" account of the disasters by fire, flood and wind which have devastated Ohio, Indiana and Illinois during the past week. The pictures are graphic and realistic, and the story they tell brings home to the awed spectator the full horror of the time.

If the tale of the motion pictures is not cheerful those of all the other numbers on the programme certainly are. Hilarity marks the farcical comedy, "The Night Doctor," which Charles Loder and his company of two are presenting with rapid-fire precision. Loder's German dialect has a wholesome pretzels-and-sauerkraut flavor very grateful to the jaded palate of the average vaudevillian.

More fun, and some good dancing, comes from Barnes & West, and fun of another sort is offered by the Gray Trio, whose "merry mixture of mirth and melody" includes singing of a high order—classy and classic—with some not so high. The Grays are attractive, well groomed, well dressed, quite an fait, you know—and, what is of even greater importance, they know how to sing and entertain.

Mr. Quick is a clever manipulator of the crayons in cartoons, and Ralph De Ermay does brilliant work as an equilibrist.

Almost as enthralling as the motion pictures is Giuseppe Sirignano's Banda Roma (which, interpreted, means Roman band.) These tuneful Italians appear on the deck of a ship in white naval regalia, and tear off highbrow music in accepted style, beginning with the thunder and lightning of the "William Tell" overture and ending, of course, with the inspiring strains of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee."

Stage Director Stammers made several necessary cuts in the dialogue, the electricians were called on the carpet and told how to work several of the effects they apparently were not familiar with, with the result that last night found the "Tik-Tok" man wound up a whole lot tighter.

In the history of the local stage I have never seen as much interest evidenced in a production as has marked the premiere of the Baum-Gottschalk piece. Everywhere I've rambled it's been "Was it?" "Is it?" "Will it be?" "Do you think it will?"

For the benefit of those who really want to know I would advise putting two dollars on the little glass window of the Broadway show shop and coyly asking the young man for a ticket. For those who can't do this I will say, "Yes it is."

Now I know why Florence Reed left the Great Sight Way and came to Los Angeles. Florence wants a real starring vehicle for next season. She told me so last night.

She also told me that she was well aware of the fact that in Los Angeles Laurette Taylor found her "Peg o' My Heart;" Helen Ware grabbed a successful vehicle in "The Escape," and little Bessie Barriscale rapidly ascended to stardom with "The Bird of Paradise."

She also imparted to me the information that should Mr. Morosco and she succeed in finding that really big play, she will next year blossom out on Broadway as a star under the Morosco banner.

Very good idea, I should say, for Miss Reed is my estimation, and I think in several others', is really the only truly capable emotional actress we have on the native stage today.

Nat Goodwin and his associate players are now rehearsing "Oliver Twist" every day and the tour of this distinguished actor in his famous characterization will soon begin.

OAKLAND CHAMPIONS BEATEN BY SACRAMENTO.

Tail-Enders of Last Year Rejuvenated Under Leadership of Wolverton Humble Pennant Winners by Bunching Hits in the Fifth and Sixth Innings—Gregory Weakens and Falls Prey to Heavy Bat-Fest.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SACRAMENTO, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The champion Oakland team, pennant winners of 1912, bowed in defeat today before the Sacramento Wolves, the tail-enders of 1912, rejuvenated under the management of Harry Wolverton for the race of 1913. Five to two was the toll of the scorer's bell, the result of timely bunching of hits in the fifth and sixth innings, when Gregory, the Oakland pitcher, showed signs of weakening.

Those Sacramento Wolves could not ask for much more homage from local fandom than fell to their lot after the fifth inning of today's battle when they began to find the offerings of one Howard Gregory, picked by Honus Mitze as the strongest available pitcher to take the mound for Oakland in the opening game.

STROUD IS AN IDOL.

Nor could any pitcher ask for much more in the line of hero worship than Ralph Stroud, the former Buffalo Bison, who fought a plucky uphill battle after a nervous first inning and pitched the Wolves to victory by holding the Oakland champions of 1912 to six scattered hits and sending eight of them back to the bench by the strike-out route.

Today 4500 fans cheered the Wolves to the echo as they played the champion Oaks.

But there is still room for a little Oakland hope. For it must not be forgotten that last year the Oaks dropped their first game in rather mediocre manner and then came back and won thirteen straight.

BRASS BAND THERE.

There was little or no formality coupled with the opening of the season here. There was a brass band at the grounds and City Commissioner M. J. Burke was on hand, disguised as a ball player, to send a brand new ball over the plate on the first bounce. It took Ralph Stroud two innings to become accustomed to the fact that he was a stranger in a strange land and was the only newcomer to the Coast League ranks who had been picked to take the mound in any of the opening games of the circuit. And in the first of those two innings he was just liberal enough with his wide ones and his grooves to let the Oaks bunch two hits with two walks for one run.

EASY PICKINGS—HIM!

Bill Leard, the first batter up, was easy pickings for Stroud, who threw him out at first. Shirm, the new Oakland outfielder, was an easy strike-out victim, and the fans began to be hopeful. But Zacher's two-bagger to the right field fence put the crusher on the hopes, and walks to Coy and Hetling filling the bases, completely buried whatever was left. Jack Ness, the new Oakland first baseman from the New England League, contributed a single to left center, and Zacher scored. But when Bert Coy tried to score from second on that single he found a new man in center field for the Wolves. Roy Moran whipped the ball true to the plate and Jack Bliss was waiting for Coy when he dashed into the stretch.

STROUD STRIKES A STRIDE.

After the second frame Stroud struck his stride and with the aid of a heavily-clouded sky, he burned them over at all angles, and had the Oaks star-gazing as they swung their bats in desperation. After the second inning, up to the ninth, only four Oaks got on bags, and only one went as far as second.

It was not until the fifth frame that the offensive work of the Wolves began to bear fruit. For four innings Gregory did not allow a man to reach first. In the fifth it was Bill Kenworthy who broke the ice with Sacramento's first hit, a double down the third base line, which Schirm luckily stopped with his foot and prevented from developing into a three-bagger. Tennant's out put Kenworthy on third and he scored when Jimmy Lewis did the timely stunt with a single between first and second, catching the Oakland infield playing close in. Lewis stole second and went to third on Stark's out. Bliss drew a walk, but Lewis was trapped at the plate when Bliss made the move for a double steal.

HUNGRY-LIKE.

In the sixth inning the Wolves fell on Gregory in hungry fashion and tore him up for four runs. Two walks, two singles and Tommy Tennant's three-bagger were the factors in that four-run performance and they put Wolverton's boys so far out in front that they never again were in danger.

Stroud opened by drawing a walk and was safe at second when Cook dropped Gregory's throw, the Oakland pitcher playing Shinn's bunt for a force out at second. Moran forced Stroud at third. But then came Patsy O'Rourke with a single into left, scoring Shinn and putting the Wolves out in front. Gregory weakened long enough to walk Kenworthy, filling the bags, and then Tommy Tennant donated his little mite, driving the ball past Gregory's head for a three-bagger through Zacher. Three runs chased in.

Cook's error and two walks and Tennant's second hit put Wolves on the bags in the seventh and eighth. But there was nobody to complain because they did not score. They had bunched their activities in two all-important innings and that was enough.

STRUGGLE ALONG.

The Oaks in the meantime had been struggling along with the offerings of Sailor Stroud and had it not been for a ninth inning walk they would probably have been let down without further scoring. But in the ninth Hetling led off with a walk and went to third when Ness came through with his third hit of the day, a single to right center. Becker, batting for Mitze, popped up a foul behind third, which O'Rourke dropped, thereby giving Becker a chance to hit to Kenworthy for an out at first. Hetling scoring and Ness going to second. One last dying attempt was nipped when Jimmy Lewis gathered in Pinch-hitter Abbott's fly to left and the game was over.

Morgan Wallace as the optimistic lover, James K. Applebee as the penniless actor in search of an engagement, and especially Harrison Hunter as the debonair Willard Brocton, man of the world, give a splendid account of themselves.

Miss Helen Robertson as Elfie Sinclair, the demi-mondaine who has caught her car, as the vernacular has it, gives a realistic impersonation.

Joseph Lhevinne Recital.

The list of his selections included Beethoven Sonata Op. 81, Pastoral Variee of Mozart, others by Mendelssohn, Brahms, Chopin and Liszt.

This wonderfully gifted artist is justly considered as among the four or five greatest pianists of today.

His remarkable playing, his pedaling, which is unique, seem to make a unit of the brain, the hands and the feet.

His execution is admirable, strong, virile, clear. His interpretation full of sentiment and shading.

It is a great good fortune for musicians that such an eminent artist, who seems to combine the most admirable qualities of the piano virtuoso should be heard again at the next Symphony concert, on April 11.

BENEFIT RACING IS CALLED OFF.

DRIVING CLUB TO HAVE USUAL MATINEE INSTEAD.

Saturday Week Is the Date Selected and Some New Horses Will Be Seen in Action—Car of Flyers to Be Shipped East Next Week to Be Raced in Maine and Canada.

BY GREY OLIVER.

The Governor of Ohio has put a squelcher on any more funds for the Ohio flood sufferers, and consequently the Los Angeles Driving Club has called off its proposed benefit matinee that was to have been given at Exposition Park one week from next Saturday. It is understood that several hundred dollars were raised by private subscription from a few of the club members, but the chances are that this money will be returned to the donors or put in the driving club treasury. Secretary Ed Delorey has ceased his work of making up a programme for the proposed meeting.

Instead of the benefit meeting the club will have one of its regular matinees on Saturday, April 12, and the chances are that it will be the best one that has been offered this season, for the reason that a number of fast horses that have heretofore not been entered will be put in. Several of these are to be shipped to the north and east to various race meets and the idea is to give them a final workout before their departure.

There were a number of very good workouts yesterday morning at the track and the showing made was all that could be desired this early in the season. Will Durfee drove Boyd's June Bug a half in 1:06, and McLellan sent Mahoney's Iras a quarter in 0:29½. McGuire worked Neeretta a half in 1:07 and the last quarter in 0:31¼, and Durfee sent Clarence Berry's White Sox a half in 1:05¾. Ted Hayes had his Bon Jean out for a half in 1:07 and a last quarter in 0:31¾. The horsemen think this bird is a fine 2:10 prospect this year. Joe Nickerson thinks his Etta McKinney is rounding to good shape and he sent her a quarter yesterday in 0:33, which is going some for a slow mile.

Durfee's good one, John Warwick, looks to be one of the best babies at the track, and Will thinks he can drive him a half easily in 1:06. His filly, Josephine Watts, stepped over the stretch yesterday morning in a very satisfactory manner.

A. R. Fraser of Ocean Park was at the track yesterday watching his good mare, Belle Fraser, step a mile in 2:10½, and he figures that he has a prize in her.

Dave Stewart is to leave here April 12 for Pleasanton with a car of horses that will contain his own Zomneno, J. F. Elwell's Imbro and Junior Dan Patch and Ted Hayes's Bon Jean. Ted intends to offer Bon Jean at the Pleasanton sale, but the other three racers are to be shipped East. Stewart is to take his to the Canadian circuit, while Elwell will go first to Michigan and then to the Maine circuit.

Bon Jean is a live wire and has a record of 2:10½ as a pacer while a 3-year-old. Since then this bird has been converted into a trotter and has made a mile in 2:12 at this style.

"It Had to Be."

BEAVERS FOOL SEALS ON APRIL FOOL DAY.

And All That the Ten Thousand Fans Had to Say After the Tenth Inning Settled the Matter that Way for the First Time in Thirteen Years Was "We're It." and the Score Was Three to Two.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "April fool," merrily greeted the Portland end of the Pacific Coast Baseball League at the conclusion of a ten-inning game at Recreation Park this afternoon, and 10,000 spectators, most of whom were loyal San Franciscans, just as merrily replied, "We're it."

It takes more than the fact that for twelve successive years the Seals have won the opening game of the Pacific Coast series to get San Francisco fans in a bad humor when they see the home team lose out the thirteenth year. Everybody who knows anything at all knows that thirteen is most "scandalous" unlucky number, and that something in the way of a joke on somebody had to be played off on April 1.

THE FANS LAUGH.

And the joke was pulled off—and the fans just laughed about it. Which shows that they are loyal fans and do not blame the home team for a combination of dates and numbers entirely beyond the regulation of baseball players.

A cold wind prior to the game and overcast skies prevented the attendance of more people at the big opening game. But as it was, the grand stand was filled and the bleachers that flanked both sides of it held practically their seating capacity. The bleachers at the far end of the field were only about half-filled, but the full quota of paid admission that would have filled the big park had the day been warmer was made up in a degree by the numbers who patiently roosted on surrounding roof tops, augmented by the small boys who succeeded in scaling the twenty-foot fence at right field and precariously perched there until the last ball of the last inning was batted—the ball that meant that the Seals went down to defeat to the tune of 3 to 2.

IN ROOTERS' NOW.

It was a splendid representative crowd of rooters. Nine-tenths of them seemed to have the past performance of the men in the field down pat, and sang out the names of players as carelessly as if they had been following league games for weeks instead of witnessing the opening of the season's game, and anybody but a thoroughly trained fan can be excused for forgetting some names, pet or otherwise, of players between seasons. And the women were on the job in the hundreds and hundreds of them. They, too—but only in the way of baseball enthusiasts, you understand—were old-timers. They knew the game and they knew the players, and with the splendid democracy of baseball the grand stand were ready and willing to impart the information they had about them—information good, bad and indifferent—to fans who seemed to be doubtful. And the deep bass howls of the men in the stands absolutely failed to move in the slightest degree the more high-pitched remarks of praise or blame that the daintily-dressed feminine portion of the audience at frequent intervals made.

A brisk, cold wind swept the stands throughout the game, but nobody seemed to mind it. Nobody, that is, among the few venders of ice-cold lemonade. If any ice-cold lemonade was sold it is not a matter of record.

A GREAT SCENE.

It was a great scene, that of today, as the field dotted with the white suits of the Seals or the blue uniforms of the Beavers, and the stands filled with happy, eager, enthusiastic faces on which the permanent that follows the first three days of rooting had not yet gathered. And the gay feathers of the women, given animation by the strong wind, gave the spots of color needed properly set it off.

The effect of playing the national game when practically all of the fans had been seated was somewhat marred in its solemnity, in spite of the standing thousands, when the band burst into a roar of applause as the opposing teams broke out of the clubhouse and started down the field, and from that time on the fans in the stands was almost continuous. Regardless of which team it was, the audience applauded all the batting practices, in which good, bad and indifferent work was shown, and they applauded everybody on the field when a moving-picture outfit and a battery of photographers began taking pictures of the players. They got well warmed up to applause when Mayor James Rolph, Jr., stepped into the pitcher's box to throw the first ball with Portland at the batter.

"EVERYBODY DUCK."

It was just where Mayor Rolph put over his little April fool joke. He gripped the ball with a strangle hold, waved his left leg around a little, made a couple of preliminary passes with his pitching arm, and let fly. It did not go anywhere near the bleachers. It went slamming right at the catcher. Once more it went near enough over the plate for all practical purposes and when the catcher yelled "strike," the Mayor, proud and happy, as a man should look when he has scored one on a visiting team, lifted his hat to the applauding mob and gracefully retired to private life.

It was not a fast ball that the Mayor pitched, you understand. In fact, it looked a trifle slow, but then, it may have had elusive curves in it that puzzled the man at the bat, because he did not try to slam it. If he had hit it he probably would have bowled over a bunch of perfectly useful photographers, who had their cameras aimed at the Mayor at very close range.

When Portland did not score a run in the first inning the crowd went wild, but their enthusiasm cooled just a trifle when San Francisco didn't either in her half of the inning. When Portland scored a couple of runs in the first of the second, there was some hint of tragedy in the tones in which the crowd yelled encouragement at San Francisco, when these patriots went to the bat.

THE DIN STARTS.

Cow bells and whistles became in evidence in the fourth inning when the Seals took away one run, but the crowd went as crazy as only a first-game-of-the-season crowd can go when, in the seventh the local aggregation of talent scored the tie run.

Few of the crowd left before the deciding ball of the tenth inning was thrown and the score of 3 to 2 stood.

Then the mob good-naturedly pushed its way out of the park.

There was no blame expressed toward the home team players. That combination of April 1 and the thirteenth year, was to blame.

HEN BERRY IS FULL OF GLEE.

Manager Hen Berry of the Los Angeles club said yesterday that the Angels would steal more bases this year than any other club in the league.

"Look at our infield," said the manager. "Johnson is a fast man, and I have been told by fans that I got a better shortstop out of the deal than either Berger or Weaver of the Sox.

"Moore, Page and Gill are all fast men on the bases. Then in the outfield we have three clever base runners. Ellis is slower on the bases than Maggart or Howard, and he is not very slow at that."

CHANCE BEANED ONCE MORE.

[By Wireless Line to The Times.]

HAMILTON (Bermuda) March 31.—[Special Dispatch.] Frank Chance was given his farewell bump today on the eve of leaving the training grounds when he was hit over the right eye with a thrown ball and bruised. It was not a hard shoot, however, and the "beaning" did not affect him seriously.

Baseball Season Opens.

day that Hap must have been overcome by memories, for this ump kept him cowed by a word or a gesture all day long.

Nothing else cowed him, however. Not even a bad start.

It was a wonderful crowd that Hap turned to face in the first inning—a great mass of humanity smeared with the gay colors of this spring's "Bulgarian styles" of the women. Over toward third base, a brass band was blaring; somewhere from the grand stand issued the basso profundo voice of Sam Appel, the star rooter of the Angels; on the top of the grand stand were a couple of moving picture operators hanging on by a rope, like Alpine mountaineers; in the two boxes back of the catcher sat Hen Berry and Eddie Maier, covered with pride and diamonds. Hap took it all in, then he turned to the bleachers and opened his mouth until his eyes disappeared, and yelled, "How many d'you want this inning?" It was the old battle cry.

POOR OLD MOORE! WOW!

Venice had already been to bat and had gone down—one, two, three.

Then the Angels. Page had filed out. Rube Ellis, the big leaguer, had pounded a little grounder to Roy Hitt, who had tossed it in a contemptuous, bored, lazy way to Pa Patterson, just in time to retire the Rube.

Hap looked over his head. Charley Moore was coming to bat.

"Poor old Moore," said Hap, loud enough for the bleachers to hear. The next sound was poor old Moore's bat cracking on the cover of a new baseball for the first hit of the season. Before Hap could recover, Maggert sent a hot liner cracking in through Patterson's legs for Dick Bayless to fumble in the outfield. Along Hap's dismayed horizon streaked the figure of poor old Moore making the first run of the day.

THOSE HAP CLIMAXES.

In every Hap Hogan game there come climaxes that are as characteristic of Hap as his eyes. There were three yesterday.

The fatal seventh: Hap's star batters were coming up; Kane, Bayless, Brashear, Patterson and Litschi. Hap went out to third like a captain taking the quarter deck.

You could see Chech sizing up little Kane as a fighter does his opponent. Almost the first ball cracked from Kane's choked-up bat, sailing far out toward left field fence. It looked like a home run. About a mile from the home plate, Rube Ellis turned and ran, reaching high over his head, he speared Johnny's fly and Venice wept by the sea shore. Bayless and Brashear went down like a row of bricks.

Another came in the eighth, when Litschi, after sending a grounder through the legs of both Charley Moore and Rube Ellis, tried the amazing feat of scoring from third on an infield error.

THAT FATAL NINTH.

But the typical grand climactic Hap Hogan moment came in the ninth. Many and many a ball game has been won by the peculiar, almost superstitious dread that opposing teams have of Hap Hogan's "ninth-inning rallies."

In no other line of business is this terrific high-brow weapon of "new thought" used as much as in baseball and fights. The little boxers, only dimly realizing, call this "getting a guy's goat." Perhaps Hap has only a little better understanding of the real force of the mighty weapon he uses when he yanks out the pitcher, puts in a pinch hitter and strides out to the coaching line in the ninth as though he were saying, "Well, I guess we have been fooling around here long enough. I'll get in now and win this game."

When he did that yesterday you could see the tense effect upon the other team. The outfielders moved uneasily in their places. You could see Dr. Warren Gill on first base wetting his lips and instinctively tightening his glove. From all over the field, the players began crying out encouragement to the pitcher. You could hear them yelling to him to tighten up. Even the ump behind the bat shifted his mattress.

A TENSE NERVOUS STRAIN.

For some reason that they probably could not have accounted for themselves, a tense nervous strain of fear and anxiety had come over them all.

Malone came up to bat for Hitt and Chech walked him. He complained fretfully to the umpire about Hap, who was waving his arms and shrieking from the side lines, and the ump waved Hap to the bench.

Carlisle bunted toward first and Dr. Gill ran in; snatched up the ball and turned toward second, where Malone was running, changed his mind and whirled around to throw to first. He caught himself just in time; no one was there. Carlisle was running toward an empty bag.

The poison of this superstition about Hap's "ninth-inning victories" was beginning to work. Dr. Gill made a gesture of despair and tossed the ball to the pitcher. Kane sacrificed Malone to third and Carlisle to second, and Bayless brought Malone in by a sacrifice fly.

As Breshear came to bat, some one yelled from the grand stand, "A single hit will tie the score."

HELD THEIR BREATHS.

Every Angel rooter in the grand stand held his breath while Brash spit on his hands, balanced his stick and planted his feet. It looked as relentless and inexorable as fate. At the second or third one he swung. The ball sizzled out to Page, who frantically grabbed for it; fumbled it, let it fall; grabbed it again.

Meanwhile Brashear was thundering down to first like a run-away wild elephant. His face was purple; his hoofs were pounding the earth into dust; his face was screwed up like a Marathon runner's. And he was making the average speed of a house moving apparatus. Page finally calmed himself; argued himself gradually into the belief that this Hap Hogan stuff was only a superstition, then threw the ball to first just in time, as Brashear thundered into view.

WHY KELLER COULDN'T SEE THE SUNSHINE.

H. W. Keller, the dog owner and landed proprietor, and Alexander McKeigan, the golfer of the Annandale Club, may not be the best golf players in the world, but they furnished a scene that would be worth looking up by any moving picture director.

They were golfing at the Los Angeles Country Club and at the ninth hole, Mac had Keller 5 down. Of course Mac was feeling fine and was strutting over the ground like a rooster, while Keller was slouching along disgruntled and downcast.

"Did you ever see such a delightful day," remarked Mac, who, of course, could see nothing but sunshine and flowers when he looked at his card. Keller didn't see anything but the ground, for he was cursing his luck and bunkers, drives and approaches in general.

Later, when the match was irretrievably lost, Mac remarked that there was lots of snow on Baldy and the mountains certainly looked beautiful that day with the sunshine glinting along the ridges.

"How in the hell can I see the mountains?" snapped out Keller. "You're lookin' up and I'm looking down." Needless to say, there was nothing more to say.

ALL OUT FOR THE MARATHON.

The practice run over The Times Modified Marathon course will take place, as per schedule, tomorrow morning at 10:30. The directors, with several of the runners who have entered the race, are to take the spin. The start is to be made from the Times Building, First and Broadway. Cecil Smith of the Morland Company is to take care of the transportation.

Angels and Tigers Battle as Though Pennant Hung in the Balance—Both Squads Play Sensational Ball. Chech Pitches Great Game—Dramatic Ninth Inning, But Dillon Wins.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

BATTLING as though the pennant hung on the issue of the one game, Los Angeles and Venice fought to a 3-to-2 decision yesterday, the contest terminating in a hair-curling finish with the Angels triumphant.

This game, the opening chapter of the 1913 season, was a fitting presage to what the signs indicate as the greatest race in the history of the Coast League.

Reeled off in the short space of one hour and thirty minutes, it contained all the elements that make baseball the major amusement of the American people.

There was superb pitching, audacious fielding, dramatic situations and a finish that was calculated to work the most callous fan into a frenzy of excitement. Perfect weather was the only thing lacking. Lowering skies cut the attendance down to $600, or about half what it would have been with the weather man loyal to his trust.

CHECH THE MASTER.

Charley Chech, for more than a week past, trained, kneaded and nursed especially for the occasion, was the object over which the Tigers tripped. Holding the Tigers to four scattered hits and accorded a support that was impregnable in times of stress, the "St. Paul Sphinx" was master of the situation. Only in the ninth did he waver.

In that frame it looked like a walk, and a single might undo the splendid effort of eight innings. The Tigers started one of their famous finishes. Meloan converted his pass into a run. Carlisle reached third with the tying tally. Two were down. Chech's support arose to the occasion. Brashear, the batting behemoth of the Venice team, blazed a grounder down to Page. The Angel second baseman fumbled momentarily, but his recovery was rapid, and he got the ball to Gill an inch ahead of the catapulting Brashear, sending the Tigers from the field a beaten team.

ANGELS SOLVE HITT.

The Angels solved his southpaw problems for seven hits, and won by bunching them in the first, third and sixth inning. Three of these blows were "sosped." Coupled with that brace of third-inning bingles was an error that released one run to the plate. On the quality of his pitching Hitt was deserving of nothing worse than a draw. He floored two batters on strikes, as against one by Chech, and did not issue a pass, while Chech loosened up for two.

There was the customary parade through the downtown streets, with the Mayor and other city officials occupying exalted positions. The teams entered the arena at 1:30 o'clock, a roar of approval booming along the entire expanse of grand stand and bleachers, and the band stationed in the east side of the grand stand lived up to its contract. The Tigers, garbed in blue, lined up for batting practice. The Angels, immaculate in white uniforms, repaired to the north side of the lot and began passing the ball.

TIGERS TAKE FIELD.

At 2 o'clock the Tigers took the field for preliminary practice. They gave way to the Angels fifteen minutes later. Each team was given an enthusiastic "hand," showing the crowd to be one of divided affections.

Hogan and Dillon held a consultation with Umpires McCarthy and Bush relative to ground rules. Tom Darmody, master of ceremonies, conducted Mayor Alexander and Chief of Police Sebastian out to the home plate. The Mayor pitched the ball, which landed so far in front of the plate that Carlisle did not deign to strike at it, and there is a suspicion that the ball struck the Chief of Police squarely in the pit of the stomach, although he won't admit it.

HITS FIRST BALL.

Charley Chech advanced to the center, drew a grimy hand athwart his white uniform and began the day's labor. The first one looked fat to Carlisle. He swung. There was a satisfying thud, and the sibilant sound of quickly-drawn breath in the grand stand. The ball, a white streak over a background of green, shot past the box straight for second base. It looked a hit, until Page plunged over and projected a gnarled paw. He was off his balance and his shot fell short of first. But Gill, bending low, dug it out of the ground, and the fleet Carlisle's first effort had failed. Kane followed in his footsteps, falling a victim to Johnson's fast fielding. Bayless was retired, Chech to Gill.

Page opened for the Angels with a long fly to Carlisle. Hitt and Patterson planted Ellis. It was here, with two down, that the Angels made their first successful bid. Moore singled sharply to right. He started for second with Hitt's arm. Maggert swung at the ball and missed. Tonneman's throw drew Brashear just far enough to his right to let Moore slide into the bag.

MOORE SCORES.

Maggert, with two strikes on him, sent a rasping grounder to right. It shot through Patterson, and Bayless, coming in at top speed, could only block the ball, and Moore crossed the plate. Howard forced Maggert to Brashear, unassisted.

Brashear, Patterson and Litschi all hit the ball into the air in the second. The Angels were no more successful in their round.

The fans became convinced in the third that they won't miss Joe Berger a whole lot. Hosp led off with a smoking grounder toward left. The ball took a high bound just before it reached Johnson. But the ex-Sox proved equal to the occasion. He went up and yanked the ball down with his gloved hand, and retired Hosp with a precise throw to Gill. Tonneman almost toppled Moore with a torrid infield single. He made a ponderous attempt to steal second, but Boles was gunning with deadly accuracy.

ELLIS GETS HOT SINGLE.

The third did not start well for the Angels. Chech and Page were both easy outs. "Rube" Ellis then belied the report that left-handers can't hit pitchers of the same breed, by blazing a single to left. Charley Moore followed with a drive to the same territory. Carlisle's throw to head off Moore at third came in true, but the ball eluded Litschi on the bound, and landed against a stack of Angel bats near the pit, Ellis crossing the plate and Moore winding up at third. Maggert ended the sortie with a fly to Brashear.

TIGERS GET ONE.

Hogan's men broke down the barrier of the Angel defense for one run in the sixth. Hosp, first up, cut into a Chech curve. The ball sailed into deep right, and sought refuge under "Dad's" patent grass cutter. Before Howard could dig it out, Hosp was cooling his heels at third. Tonneman was retired, Johnson to Gill, Hosp discreetly hugging third. Hitt here released him to the plate with a low hard fly to right, which Howard converted from a likely looking hit into a sacrifice by a magnificent catch.

Dillon's men got this one back in the same round. Ellis poked a slow, vacillating roller to Hosp, and beat Franz's fling to first. Moore sacrificed and "Rube" worked his way along to third on Maggert's out. Howard leaned against the ball. The result was a hard liner over short. Hosp falconed into the air. It was a useless leap. The ball tore through his hands like a cannon shot through a trellis, and Ellis floated in. Howard attempted to steal, but Tonneman aim was unerring.

Feverish fielding blanked the Tigers in the seventh. Kane tried to start something with a drive to deep left. If ever one ball player robbed another, Ellis robbed Kane. The "Rube" ran half way to Watts, turned around at the psychological moment and clapped his hands around the ball, just as Kane was rounding second with visions of a home run. Bayless drove to Chech, and Gill hauled in the latter's wide throw with one hand. Johnson then backed into left field and absorbed Brashear's lofty offering.

SAVED BY AN ERROR.

Can you imagine a game being saved through an error. Paradoxical as it may seem, that is what happened in the eighth. After Maggert had retired Patterson by a great running catch, Litschi rammed the ball to left and legged it around to third when the drive eluded Ellis. Hosp hit the ball a mile high back of second. Johnson misjudged the fly slightly and made a frantic grab at the ball, only to feel it slip from his grasp. Litschi was off for the plate like the proverbial shot. Johnson recovered the ball with the quickness of a cat. There seemed not one chance in a thousand that he could get the runner, but he made a desperate try. His throw was a few feet wide of the plate. Boles was equal to the emergency. He reached over, shoveled the sphere in and threw himself at full length on the ground just in time to tag Litschi.

THE TIGERS RALLY.

The Tigers, famous as stretch runners, started one of their celebrated finishes in the ninth, but couldn't hold out to the wire. Hogan, not willing to acknowledge defeat until he had worked all of the wrinkles, retired Hitt at the beginning of the ninth, and sent Paul Meloan to the plate in his stead. Chech became prodigal and walked the stranger. Carlisle dumped a lazy one down to Gill, and flashed to first ahead of Page, who was plodding over to cover. Kane advanced his pards a peg with a perfect sacrifice.

A single would tie the score, or a sacrifice fly would place the tying run on third. Bayless provided the latter, lofting the ball to Howard in deep right, Meloan piling over the plate and Carlisle scampering to third. This put it up to Brashear.

A HIT TO WIN—BUT—

Any kind of a hit would register Carlisle and throw the game into extra innings. It was a situation calculated to make a pitcher wilt. But Chech kept a stiff upper lip and was rewarded when Brashear smashed the ball down to Page instead of out to the scoreboard, as is his custom in such cases. Page, over-anxious, fumbled. Imp-like, the ball eluded him, but only momentarily. He nailed it on the second grab, and it landed in Gill's glove just as Brashear threw himself into the base spikes first. There was a sharp wave of Umpire Bush's hand, and the crowd did not linger to hear Brashear's feeble protest.

"Opening Day."

DILLON REFUSES TO ORATE.

What have you to say for yourself or the club? Dillon was asked as he was leaving the field.

"I have nothing to say," was the answer. "As for the club, the boys can talk for themselves; but I hardly think it is necessary for them to say anything under the circumstances. Their work in the game spoke for itself, and hot air is not calculated to win pennants."

WHAT HOGAN SAID AFTER THE GAME.

"It was a good game, even if the Tigers did lose," said the Vernon manager in the clubhouse after the contest. "Venice should have won, but everything broke wrong for us. That's baseball, however, and we are not worrying. Still, the Tigers are not going to loaf and let any other club get the jump. It will be the old fighting spirit every day.

"Hitt pitched a very good game, and the boys played good ball. Both teams can't win, and the Angels must have been due to take it today."

Humbled.

BY AD G. WADDELL.

JUDGING from the amount of high-grade confidence exhibited by the Tigers all through the eighth and a half innings of yesterday's game, their defeat at the hands of the Angels must have been a disagreeable surprise. During the early innings there was an air of "blessed assurance" hovering over the Venice team and up to the last minute of play Hogan's warriors were certain that a big innings was coming to them.

Instead of being nervous before the game started, the players acted as if they were scheduled to go into a practice game with some stump-growth organization. Roy Hitt was busy discussing politics. Hap Hogan spent the time talking to some friends in the lower boxes and Johnny Kane and Dick Bayless were arguing about the size of the crowd.

"Dolly" Gray was discovered in a dark corner under the grand stand boy! What did I tell you? Out a mile. Pretty throw, Hitt, old 'Dough Boy,' you are pitching the game today."

When Moore poked the first hit of the season into right field the players on the field, as well as those on the bench, snarled, but they continued to encourage Hitt.

"Don't mind that, Roy," contributed Stewart; "here we go, right to Pat."

There was silence when Maggert's hot grounder glided between Patterson's feet and out to Dick Bayless, scoring the first run of the game.

"What was the matter, Pat?" inquired "Dolly" Gray, when the Tigers came in to bat. "The d— thing forgot to come up to where my mitt was," answered "Pa."

"That's all right, boys," assured Hap. "Good work, Pat, a little hard luck, that was all. Here we go. How cobbing his radiator with a bottle of milk.

Bayless begged a match from a fan in one of the boxes and proceeded to burn the fuzzy growth off the visor of his new cap. This looked like good entertainment to Johnny Kane and he followed suit.

"EASY FOR US"—HAP.

"It's going to be easy for us today, boys," announced Hap. "They can't beat us. Roy has lots of stuff today, and we will make a monkey out of that pitcher of theirs in about two innings.

"There goes the old ball. Come on, 'Carlie,' get on and start it for us, we want a lot of runs today."

When Carlisle came back to the bench after being thrown out at first, Hap told him it was a little hard luck, and that he would get a double next time. When Kane and Bayless also failed to get on, Hap said: "Holy Gee! What's the matter here? That fellow hasn't a thing on the ball. It sure is horseshoes for him this inning"

As the Tigers left the bench Hap told them to make it tight and work hard, and hurry back so that they could make a lot of runs.

There were several photographers on the field just back of first base. Hap noticed this, and stopped the game to ask the umpire what would happen if one of them should get hit with the ball. Garnett Bush hesitated a moment and then informed Hap that the ball was in play.

ORATORICAL "PEP."

"That's right," said the Tiger leader, "I knew it, but I wanted to make sure that it was understood."

"Here we go," yelled Harkness, "the old Tiger life. Right over the old Plasa, Roy! Sap, there she goes; run your head off, Page, it may never come down, but when it does Carlie will grab it."

"Here's the poor Rube," announced McDonnell. "Get this bird, Roy, old many, boys? Five? Very well, five this time; start it off 'Brash.'"

"Say, that guy ain't got a thing," said Bayless. "We'll climb all over him this inning." "Sure," agreed Hogan. "If he can pitch with Hitt I can make a clock, and I'm no mechanical engineer, at that."

"One run will never beat the Tigers, that's a cinch," declared Brackenridge, "we'll make a thousand here in about two minutes; there will be a booting bee, and then we'll swat the old bouncer on the nose for a bunch of runs."

When Chech flew out to Bayless in the third, McDonnell told him that he was a great hitter. "Great work, you 'boob,' highest one today. That will bring rain if you keep it up."

"That's it, Page, right in the Venice well," hollered Hap, when Page hit a grounder to Brashear in the third. "Two out, Roy, come on, 'Dough,' that's the sweet pitching; got lots of nice stuff on it today."

When two hits and an error bred a second score for Los Angeles in the third, Hap insisted that it was an even game then. "Two runs is small for us. We'll make a dozen next inning."

When Chech went to bat in the fifth he was given a great hand by the Los Angeles fans. "That's right, applaud him," remarked McDonnell, "you will get applauded out of the park next inning."

"Rowdy" Elliott took up a position in the vicinity of the Venice bench at the beginning of the sixth, and business picked up for Hogan. Hosp led off with a triple to right and the Tigers took it for granted that the time for them to start something which would resemble the business end of a machine gun, had arrived. "Line up out there bunch," suggested Elliott, "you bat around this time; here we go, take the old contest; they can't stop us when we get started." The best the Tigers could do was to get the lone score over, however.
